

A RIVER YARD

In Contemplation as a Big Gobble for the P. & L. E.

ALL THE SOUTH CHANNEL

Of the Ohio, Six Miles Along Neville Island, to be Reclaimed

WHEN UNCLE SAM SHUTS IT OFF

A Comprehensive Scheme to Get the Cheapest Flat Near Pittsburgh.

WHAT ATTORNEY SHAFER SAYS OF IT

A little the largest movement yet developed in the railway and real estate circles is now on foot, and it is no less than the conversion of 100 acres of Neville Island and all of the south channel of the Ohio river for six miles into additional yard for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railway Company.

Noah W. Shafer, Esq., is attorney for the islanders interested, and as soon as a meeting of the railway authorities can be arranged, active hostilities will be inaugurated.

Mr. Shafer states that there appears to be nothing in the way of its discouraging in the present, except that some of the islanders do not seem disposed to make much effort.

This has hitherto been the home of all the enterprises pushed in that direction. Proprietors after proprietors have been made to the islanders, any one of which would have yielded or quadrupled its value, but it seems did not catch on promptly.

It has long been a marvel that this place has not been utilized, as for railway purposes it has advanced some 1000 feet, and people, they are like unto some living on the south bank of the river, waiting for greatness to be thrust upon them.

It is said this might have been accomplished here had it not been that Mr. McCreezy wanted to make more money out of his scheme than he could possibly thought him entitled to.

Mr. Shafer states that the first move will be to connect the island at each end with the railway, and then when the General Government.

It is claimed that Roll is insolvent and that he has absconded with the property of the bank, and that he is concealing with intent to defraud his creditors; that he obtained the goods knowing that he was insolvent, and that he sold the goods at below cost price, and that Roll has concealed himself in order to avoid the payment of his debts.

Should the entire island be used for commercial or railroad purposes the city could struggle along with its present condition, it might be an inducement to some Rip-Van-Winkleish farmers on the mainland to enclose themselves by gardening.

JAIL BREAKERS' STORY.

Miller Makes a Damning Confession—Thesen Tells How He Came by the Keys—Warden Berlin Talks.

Edward Thesen and William Miller, the two men charged by Warden Berlin with attempting to escape from the jail, had a hearing before Magistrate Gripp in the jail yesterday afternoon. E. H. Johnson conducted the prosecution, the prisoners having no counsel.

Thesen told a straightforward story to the effect that a former prisoner, John Kaylor, had told him he had a rope made by which to escape, and invited him to join in their attempt.

Magistrate Gripp had the men returned to their cells and expected that they would hold Thesen on the charge, and delay decision in Miller's case until Monday.

BARRY'S BITTER TALK

He Scores Powderly and His Colleagues at a Public Meeting.

SOME SECRETS OF THE K. OF L.

Figures Showing the Lack of Uniformity in Wages and Prices

IN THE CONNELLSVILLE REGION

Tom Barry has at last had a hearing before the Knights of Labor of this vicinity. In a three hours' speech he told several hundred knights who assembled at Lafayette Hall last night how he thought they had been deceived by "Terrence the First," as he called the General Master Workman of the order.

The meeting was under the auspices of A. Makers' Assembly No. 1548, and E. W. Murphy, of that local presided. There were several stanch administrators in the hall, who had evidently come for the purpose of breaking up the meeting, and one of them, at one time prominent in the Trades Union Assembly, avowed his intention of bringing in a crowd and dispersing the gathering.

Under the H. C. Frick coke sale the following wages were paid, and to make a plain it has been reduced to four, ovens and wagons Mining coal, 24 hrs. wages (level full) 26-30

At the Jimtown works of the philanthropic J. M. Schoonmaker the following rates were made to pay his employees:

At the Connelleville Coke and Iron Company's Leasingmen they pay:

At Laughlin's, Broadford:

The other companies get as much for their coke and in some places more rent for their houses, and can afford to pay the extra cost of transportation.

There is also a great difference in the prices charged at the company stores of these leasing companies. At the store of the Union Supply Company (Frick), Jimtown works (Schoonmaker), and the Leasingmen's store (Frick, Schoonmaker, Leasingmen) the following prices are paid:

As will be seen by the above prices the Schoonmaker and the Leasingmen firms have larger profits in the stores than the Frick Company, although the latter pays higher wages. The company houses at Jimtown, it is stated, are almost unfit for habitation, and large rents are charged for them.

The charges for the coke are also very high. Aside from the matter of wages paid for labor and the "pick-up" prices, the measure taken by the Frick company, to keep out organization was not only a treacherous and inhuman, but also a most unchristian and unbusinesslike one.

Organization among the workers is a necessity, and the sooner all are in the fold of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, the better.

As before stated, the H. C. Frick Company is not paying wages commensurate with the fact that its scale should be higher than it is, but nevertheless the others should be compelled to pay the same.

Several large operators were seen by a DISPATCH reporter yesterday in relation to the proposed strike of the coal miners.

William H. Schleicher, Typographical Union No. 9; John Flannery, Salesmen's Assembly No. 167; Levi Regan and Frank Clancy, Glass Packers' Assembly No. 10; and J. J. Burns, Brotherhood of Carpenters' Union No. 250; Robert A. 135 to various districts in order to induce the membership so that his friends could be sent to the General Assembly, District 13B, he said, had fallen from 29,000 to 19,000 in less than a month.

Terrence the First went before the Congressional committee and testified that he had 600 members. He only led on 341,000 as we had at that time but 29,000 members.

Mr. Barry concluded his remarks by saying that all the big strikes that were ever settled by the General Executive Board were settled by him, and showed a good watch and chain presented him by strikers in Cohoes for the work he had done there.

THEY WANT UNIFORMITY.

The search for bodies in the ruins of the Willey building and Weldin's store ended yesterday. No more victims of the dreadful accident were found. A deputy sheriff is now in charge of the building and the night watchmen, with the exception of a few officers, were deserted.

The condition of the wounded at the different hospitals at midnight was very favorable. The chances for the recovery of those who were in a critical condition are rapidly increasing.

MR. MORROW EXPLAINS. Morgan Fees are Customary and the City Contributes Nothing.

Superintendent of the Morgue George A. Morrow was seen last evening in reference to a statement which had appeared in an afternoon paper that a fee of $5 had been demanded from the friends for the deposit of the body of each victim of the recent disaster.

It is quite true that I asked a fee of $5 for the bodies. It was more human to wash and clean the bodies of the victims and care for them than to have them rot in the morgue.

FUNNY MOOT COURT.

The Law Students Conduct a Trial Before Judge Fetterman, RESULTING IN AMUSING TILTS.

The Plaintiff Tangled, Led to Lie and Forced to Swear to It.

A MURDER CASE NEXT ON THE DOCKET

The first moot trial of the Winter series of the Law Students' Association of the Allegheny County Bar was held yesterday in room 21 of the Court House.

The opening address was made by Mr. McCurdy, and the closing argument by Mr. Challenger. A number of ludicrous statements were made by the witnesses, and every now and then the Court had to "sit down" very hard on the case of the ambitious young attorney.

ALL SORTS OF QUESTIONS, and secured more contradictory questions than could be heard at the naturalization of a Celtic would-be policeman on account of illness.

The plaintiff, Mr. Ashworth, was not present, and E. V. McMullin appeared in his stead. One of the attorneys for the defense in his cross-examination asked the plaintiff what time he went to New York.

Plaintiff—I went to New York before the day of my maturity, and the day of my maturity was burned, which was a week after the note became due.

Plaintiff—Yes, sir. The witness then became confused, and the attorney again asked the question: "Did you go to New York before the burning of your store?"

THE FLEMING SUIT.

What is Thought of it by the Greenville People.

The following special dispatch was received from Greenville, Pa., last night: Squire Fritz, the only acting justice in Greenville, denies the assertion made by Joseph Fleming in to-day's DISPATCH that he is a Prohibitionist.

In reply to Mr. Fleming, the drug-gist, said to a DISPATCH reporter last night that he did not mean to misrepresent the Judge. He had not said he was a Prohibitionist, but meant to say that he acted in the same way Prohibitionists do. As indicating the drift of public opinion down there the Greenville Independent of Friday said:

Why They Rusticate. Riverside and Clearmont Book Several Guests for a Season and More.
