SOMETHING TO DROP.

Alexander Sullivan and Others Are Sure to be Arrested for THE MURBER OF DOCTOR CRONIN.

All the Jurors Satisfied That a Conspiracy Has Been Shown.

NEARLY THROUGH WITH THE INQUEST

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CHICAGO, June 10 .- It is probable that the Coroner's inquiry into the assassination of Dr. Cronin will close to-morrow evening. The jurors are almost certain to recommend that Alexander Sullivan, Senior Warden Biggs, Police Officer Daniel Brown, Harry Jordan and Garry Buckley be arrested. Others may be dragged in, too. The grand jury, which it is expected will indict these men, will be composed of bine-blooded Ameri-

The present Grand Jury will be dismissed owing to the fact that there are four Irishmen in the body. All the prisoners will be held for murder and bail refused. The testimony before the Coroner's jury to-day went further to confirm the belief that the Clan-na-Gael men who are suspected of being directly or indirectly implicated in the conspiracy are trying to shield one another by giving evasive answers to the leading questions of the Coroner.

Detective Mike Whelan, who traveled with Detective Coughlin after Dr. Cronin disap-peared, and who was suspected by Chief Hubbard because of his strange conduct while searching for the man Smith, who drove the doctor away, was the first witness. Whelan is a first coustn of Iceman P. Smilivan.

SOMEWHAT SHY. He proved a wary witness. He was pressed to explain why he had so readily dropped the case or had been so indifferent in pressing an inquiry when the discovery of Smith would have relieved his cousts, Sullivan, from sus-picion. He said he had been taken off the case by Captain Schaack. Further than this, the description given him of Smith and of the horses and burgy which Smith took did no tally with the description of the man and horse tally with the description of the man and horse and buggy which took Dr. Cronin away. "I let the matter drop out of my mind," said

"Het the matter drop out of my mind," said the witness.

Whelan admitted that he was a Clan-na-Gael member, and that his number was 136. He thought, however, that the society was a sort of pleasure club. The jurors scowled and looked incredulous. He had seen Detective Coughlin and P. O. Sullivan fighting some un-known man in a saloon. His excuse for not arresting Coughlin was that he (Coughlin) was a police officer. a police officer. Harry Jordan, who is suspected with playing a part in the tragedy, was a nervous witness. He was not at all at ease. He could not remember whether he introduced McGeehan to Detective Coughiln. Did remember, however, of loaning McGeehan $5.

"Stand up," shouted the Coroner.

Jordan arose. HE WAS THERE.

"Were you in Conklin's saloon the 23rd of

"Now will you swear that on that occasion you never used the expression, 'I would not take Dr. Cronin's body out of a sewer if I saw

"I will; I never gave utterance to those words."
Coroner Hertz returned to the remark said to have been made by Jordan regarding Dr. Cronin's presence in a sewer. Jordan got very nervous, pulled his mustache, and said he might have said that if Dr. Cronin fell in the successive by words. gutter he wouldn't help him out.
"Did you ever say to lawrence Buckley that you would hate like — to attend at Dr. Cronin's camp?"
"No et ?"

Thomas Whelan, a brother of the detective, tried to establish an alibi for his cousin, P. O. Sullivan. He swore that Sullivan went to bed before 9 o'clock on the night of the murder, and that he was in the house all evening. The witness admitted, however, that he could have left his house without being seen and gone to the Carlton cottage, which is not a minute's walk away. Then there was a sensational colloquy between the witness and the Coroner. It showed that the county officer was in possession of some starting evidence.

"Were you at Sullivan's house when Sullivan brought home a new sofa?" asked the Coroner.

"Weren't you there when Sullivan brought in a pot of paint?"

HE NEVER SAW IT. "I never saw Sullivan bring in a pot of paint. I never saw anything of the kind you mention. I wanted the house searched, and was afraid that something might be put there." that something might be put there."

"What made you think that;"

"Well, the police tried to convince the washwoman that she had washed some bloody clothes at the house. Failing in this, they told her there was money in it if she would say that she washed bloody clothes there."

"How do you know the pelice said that?"

"The washwoman said so. She also said that Captain Wing made the offer to her."

"Did you ever see Dan Coughlin at Sullivan's house!"

"I don't remember."

"Do you remember the carpet in Sullivan's front hall?"

"Yes, sir."

"Yes, sir."
"Was it taken up on May 18?"
"There was not a carpet there and never has been,"

"Didn't you take a carpet up from the front hall after the murder of Dr. Cronin?"
"No, sir."
The witness grow very red before this volley

The witness grow very red before this volley of vague but sensational questions. It was evident that the Coroner had heard something. Whelan wriggled in his chair and stammered in his answers. When he left the chair a detective followed him. The rest of the evidence taken during the day was unimportant. The inquiry will be resumed in the morning. A CONSPIRACY PROVEN.

During the noon recess the jury held a consuitation with the Coroner in his office. The talk lasted an hour and when it was over it had been decided that all witnesses summoned to testify, whose evidence would be but cor-roboration of what had already been offered should be excused, the jury being in their own minds satisfied of the truth of the principal allegation that Dr. Cronin came to his death as the result of a conspiracy and that sufficient animus and motive existed to form a con-

Should any witness be on the list, the testimony of whom would contradict anything thus far presented, it was desired that such witnesses be, of course, heard, as well as those who would have anything new. This decision will doubtless shorten the inquest by at least one day.

one day. Chief Hubbard and Luke Dillon have or-Chief Hubbard and Luke Dillon have or-dered the arrest of a suspect who has taken refuge in New York. His name is being kept a secret for the present, because there is a pos-sibility of the fellow cluding the detectives who are on his trail. The man's description tallies exactly with one of the mysterious trio that figured so extensively in the actual mur-der. He has restless, snapping black eyes, coal black hair and mustache, muscular frame and a peculiar gait while in notion.

WHY HE IS WANTED. It is thought that he is the man who rented the top floor at 117 South Clark street and subthe top floor at 117 South Clark street and subsequently purchased the cheap furniture from
A. H. Bevell & Co., under the name of J. B., Simons. Attention was first directed to him by Luke Dillon, who remembered him as one of the most mischievous tools of the trio that ruled the Clan-na-Gael in 1882. When Mr. Dillom first heard of the mysterious Simons and read the descriptions furnished by persons who had business transactions with him he thought of the tool of the denosed triumvirate.
He set on foot a careful inquiry relative to thought of the tool of the denosed triumvirate. He set on foot a careful inquiry relative to the fellow's movements before and after the murder of Dr. Cronin, and received such startling information that he hastened to Chief Hubbard to have the man placed under surveillance. This the Chief did, and to day he ordered his arrest on the charge of murder.

AN OVERWORKED PASTOR

Who Was Thought to be Dead, Turns Up Alive and Well. Special Telegram to The Dispatch.

Boston, June 10.—News comes from San Francisco that the Rev. Charles H. Smith, whose body was supposed to be somewhere along the bottom of the Charles river, had turned up in that city, alive and well, and anything but ghost-like in appearance. His disappearance last February was the talk of the town, and the story was fully told in THE DISPATCH at the time. The fact that he disappeared on the night beore he was to preach his first sermon as pasfore ne was to preach his first sermon as pas-tor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church of Dorchester, made the case all the more mys-terious. All sorts of rumors were affoat, and when it was known that he drew from the bank several hundred dollars the day he went away, led many to believe that his flight was pre-meditated. But no logical reason could be given for his disappearance, other than tempo-rarytinsanity.

Her hopes were confirmed this morning upon being informed that Superin-tendent Small, of the Boston police, had re-ceived a telegram from Chief of Police Crow-ley at San Francisco that he had in his deten-tion the missing clergyman. This was done in answer to the circulars which had been sent out all over the country. Superintendent Small this moon telegraphed back to Chief Crowley to detain Rev. Mr. Smith until his brother can reach San Francisco and take him in charge.

No successor has been considered, the pulpit having been only temporarily filled. In explanation of Rev. Mr. Smith's unusual conduct, it is said he had been under great mental strain for a long time. He had been terribly overworked, and for several weeks he had been drawing heavily on his nerve reserve force. He lost his only child a few months previously, and his grief at this loss was renewed by arrangements to have the body brought to Boston for interment.

LEGITIME A LOSER.

No Longer a Doubt That Hippolyte is Clesing in on Him. New York, June 10 .- A letter from Port-au rince, dated May 30, gives the following: It s stated on good authority that the army of lippolyte is within two miles of Port-auce, and there is no doubt that in a few the North the victors. Legitime's men, owing to the lack of food and money, are deserting, and at Grand Saline one of his Generals, com anding 5,000, has surrendered all his force to Hippolyte. The General himself fied to Jamaica, as his life would have been in danger in Port-au-Prince. He put himself under the protection of the British Consul before going to Jamaica. Legitime would have followed his example, but his Generals and Ministers would not let him. They say he has brought would not let him. They say he has brought them to their present state, and he must remain and share their fate.

It is impossible to tell when Hippolyte's army will fall on the town and massacre everyone in it. Legitime has hardly any men to guard the place, and it will be an easy matter to capture it. Most of Legitime's army are lying in the inner harbor, being afraid that if they venture out they will be captured by Hippolyte's ships.

IN HONOR OF THE BRAVE DEAD.

Laving the Corner Stone of a Monument to the Memory of the Confederate Dead.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. PETERSBURG, Va., June 10.-The corner stone of the monument to be erected to the memory of Confederate dead in Blandford Cemetery by the Petersburg Memorial Associa-tion was laid this afternoon by Blandford Lodge of Masons. Addresses were delivered by Mayor Charles F. Collier and Francis R. Lassiter, of this city, and prayer was offered by J. M. Pilcher.

by J. M. Pileber.

Business was generally suspended, and there was a parade of the military and civic societies. Pickett Buchanan Camp of Confederate Veterans, of Norfolk, took part in the parade. The caudies used on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone were 100 years old. After the stone had been laid a salute was fired by the R. E. Lee Battery of Artillery and the Petersburg Grays. There was an immense crowd in attendance.

How They Observed Flower Day. Yesterday, "Children's, or Flower Day," was bserved at the Thirty-ninth Street Presbyobserved at the Thirty-ninth Street Presby-terian Church. The edifice was beautifully decorated with flowers supplied by the chil-dren. The entire front of the church was a mass of tropical plants and cut flowers. The singing and recitations of the scholars were worthy of special mention. The pastor made a few well chosen remarks on the observance of the day. The cut flowers were afterward distributed among the city hospitals.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TUESDAY, June 11.

A month later the announcement of a large lot of dress goods at one-half and one-third their regular price would create a regular stampede. Why doesn't it now? Only because bargain buyers are not ready—can scarcely realize that right in the midst of the season there should be such astonishing low prices on really elegant new goods.

We mean to say that those 15,000 yards of dress goods on the special 50-cent table did not arouse the interest yesterday that they deserve.

We made fortunate purchases in them, and might have put them on the counter at their regular price until the bargain season, but preferred to give our friends the benefit

We hope to find the people better prepared this morning. The goods must go.

These 50-cent goods include handsome all-wool Stripes and Plaids, fine Brocade Novel-ties, stylish Diamond Plaids, Directoire Side Band Suitings, Mohair Styles, etc. Not a piece ever sold under 75 cents, and the majority are actual $1 and $1 25 qualities.

Then those 25-cent Fine Plaids, to lead the wash goods will give every satisfaction in wear. this week-regular 50c qualities at 25c. New Goods, choice patterns, superb colorings, at wool French goods, beautiful new patterns, small figures, received yesterday. The colorings are as rich as they can

A bot of new Challis, all-

Silks are booming—the summer silks especially are receiving the favors of the season. India silks need no boosting, but some of our friends will be glad to know that the Black and Whites have been renewed. Those new trimmings received Saturday—fine rich Persian trimmings that were made to sel at $1 50 to $4-price 75c, $1 and $1 25. Embroideries and White Flouncings-of in-terest to graduates, and it's time they were all 24 and 27-inch Hemstitch Flouncings, 50c, 75c 45-juch, 75c, $1, $1 50 up. Beautiful lines of Edgings, insertings allowers, etc., to match the flouncings.

Colored Embroidenes, 45 inches wide, pink and blue, 75c (worth $1 50). New Gause Fans received to-day. The handsomest line of fans you ever saw. Who isn't wishing for the weather for commencements, and who ever saw a complete "graduate" without a fan? It's almost as much a necessity as the pink and blue ribbons that tie up the manuscript of her essay on "The Art of-."

If the day is too near to make up a suit, we have them ready to wear and guaranteed to fit —beautiful white embroidered suits that will make a stage a very Fairyland. And Parasols-must have one to comm ate the event. Beautiful Handkerchiefs. Let's see, what else do you need? But your needs are legion, and you know we can supply you so cheaply that kind pape will be gladly surprised when the bill is presented to him.

DARK AND DISMAL

Is the Outlook for Pittsburg Clothiers, Now That

Great Annual June Suit Sale HAS SWUNG FAIRLY

INTO LINE.

It is a sale of such magnitude that it would be a moral impossibility for any clothing firm, not doing the vast amount of business we do, to sell such quality goods at the prices we're naming and keep out of bankruptcy. With this Suit Sale of ours we knock sky-high all former notions of Ready-made Clothing. The values we offer are so positively extraordinary that they'll soar far beyond the wildest dreams of the most persistent of bargain seekers.

$14 and $15, MEN'S FINE SUITS,

WORTH $18, $20 and $25.

YOU HAVE CHOICE from a large and magnificent stock of Suits, which combine every excellence of the tailor's skill and every perfection of the designer's genius, with the most practical requirements of fashionable and sensible dressers. These Suits are carved out in the very latest shapes of Sack and Frock styles and we guarantee: First, that never were such values ever offered for the money; second, that Scotch Zephyrs, stripes and every Suit that leaves our house will fit properly; third, that every Suit

$8 and $10, , MEN'S ALL-WOOL SUITS, WORTH $12, $13 and $15.

TALK ABOUT SACRIFICING GOODS! Why, we've slashed right and left into the whole of this Suit stock of ours; dissolved the profits from the cost and left many without a face of gain for us. These Suits will suggest themselves to the favor of all who have not more than a $10 bill to spare for a suit; this means they'll be bought the moment seen. Now workingmen if you want a good wearing, good fitting and stylish Suit at any one of the three above mentioned mere excuses for a price step right in and get one. You'll be as well pleased as though you spent from $10 to $15 elsewhere.

WORTH $4, $5 and $6. $4, BOYS' LONG-PANT SUITS,

WORTH $6, $8 and $10. These are among the great specialties we're offering at this great Suit Sale and Mothers wouldn't ordinarily object to pay anywhere from 30 to 40 per cent more than we now ask. The only trouble with Mothers will be that we have so very many choice suits at prices named above that they'll be puzzled to choose which they like best. But right here come in our gentlemanly salesmen with polite suggestions and the best of advice, given in the interest of the customer, so after all our patrons go away delighted and happy. Why not you be one of the delighted and happy ones?

WHAT A GREAT PITY IT IS

That we haven't space at our disposal to speak of our GLORIOUS BARGAINS in STRAWHATS FOR MEN, FOR BOYS and FOR CHILDREN,

Or to give particulars of the Grand Bargains in Furnishings and Footwear. We'll treat of these, however, 'nother day.

A Baseball ticket, good for any Championship Game played at Recreation Park this season, given free with every Man's or Youth's Suit to the amount of $10 or upward.
