Spokane Once More. Nash Armstrong's Wonder Wins the American Derby, Beating Proctor Knott.

Chicago, June 22.—The sixth American Derby was won by Spokane to-day in the presence of the greatest crowd that has ever assembled on an American race course.

There was hardly a vacant foot of standing room on the grand stand. The track was in fair order but not fast. The betting, especially over the American Derby, was something tremendous.

South Armstrong's horse farm lies in the Rocky Mountain region between the Columbia and Missouri rivers, in Montana, close to the Indian reservation. Two years ago Armstrong purchased at the same place...

Spokane was shipped to Kentucky, and while the Southerners marveled at his sight, their money was intrusted to...

THEIR OWN PROCTOR KNOTT, whose fame was great. But Spokane defeated the ideal in the classic derby. A week afterward the pair again met in the Clark stakes...

Each of the contestants looked fit to compete for the valuable stakes. Sorrento was first on the track with Taral in the saddle. Then Proctor Knott, with Fitzpatrick, appeared and was followed by Long Danee (Harnes, Don Jose, Wooded (L. Lewis) and Once Again (Murphy).

When the flag fell for the start, Sorrento was in front, followed by Sorrento, Don Jose, Proctor Knott, Long Danee, Retrieve and Spokane in the order named.

Proctor Knott, Long Danee, Retrieve and Spokane in the order named. The Devil immediately plied the whip and Knott shot ahead like a flash, once again being taken back by Murphy. The race was quick and seemed content with the positions which the stretch and past the stand were not changed except for a moment.

Proctor Knott had an advantage of two lengths over the others who were well bunched with Spokane bringing up the rear under Kiley's strong pull.

Proctor Knott lost some of his lead, and as the seven horses ran past the quarter pole Sorrento was one and a half lengths behind the leader and one-third that distance better than Don Jose. Then as Fitzpatrick let out a link, all moved up and the pace became desperate.

When the half mile mark was reached there was just daylight between him and Retrieve, who had come up in the race, while Don Jose was still half a mile behind. Long Danee and Once Again being practically out of the race, Sorrento was being run easily in second place all along with Taral on the great run, and while making for the stretch was actually last. Then Taral pulled the California to the outside, making up lost ground, led the leaders so rapidly that his backers trembled with joy.

Proctor Knott, but there the future winner gave out and there SPOKANE MADE HIS RUN.

So fast did the Montana colt come that nothing past the last quarter he was actually leading while Knott had already fallen into third place, Retrieve dividing the pair. Again Sorrento advanced gamely, but though stronger than those behind could not disturb Spokane, who came away under Kiley's apron hand, but without tasing whip or spur, and won very easily by a full length. Sorrento was second, a head behind Retrieve, third, followed by Don Jose, Long Danee, Once Again and Proctor Knott. The latter, cut up and very tired, stopped at the adding block and was taken to his stable, while the crowds hurrahed and the band played as a saddle of roses was being piled upon the winners' launches.

"FAIR PLAY IS A JEWEL."

READ THIS AND LET US HAVE IT. Last Sunday morning the citizens of Pittsburg were amazed by the assurance of one who has been pleased to dub himself the "Leading Clothier."

Arrayed in this title he took several columns of matter to strut about in and call down malediction on those who do not do business to suit him. How his old time neighbors in Chatham street, New York, would smile if a stray copy of his egotistical (to draw it mildly) advertisement should fall into their hands.

They would for a moment cease hawking their "hand-me-down" clothing and indulge in reminiscences of the days when he was one of and "wid'em.

THE CONSUMMATE GALL.

of arrainging the entire clothing trade because they returned their business to the Assessor in compliance with the requirements of the law and not to make capital out of the proceeding by inflating it a couple of hundred thousand, calls for severe terms of denunciation.

If the clothiers of Pittsburg so choose they might argue that, accepting the figures of this great hilkling mentor, a large portion of it must represent the sales of women's apparel, notions and other trinkets, the taste for handling which, by a reputed LEADING clothier, is a clinging appetite cultivated in the denizens of Hester and Baxter streets.

WHAT IS ALL THE ROW ABOUT.

Let's see, when a merchant cries out, somebody must have struck him. Where? you ask. Why in the pocket, of course. We cannot be blind to the fact that part of this onslaught was intended for us, equally with the other three clothiers who disturb his repose.

It was no nightmare that disturbed him, it was a solid fact and the fact is that right here in Pittsburg we are selling the trade, some of which was probably his, before we demonstrated by figures and the clothing we carry that we could undersell, through our New York house, this firm that has been charging high prices to Pittsburgers, lol these many years.

THE PUBLIC APPRECIATE THE FACT.

that we give them good, reliable clothing at New York prices, cheaper than they have been able to obtain them from the "MAN WHO MOUTHS" and we were satisfied, but when he gets up and starts a harangue we feel called on to tell the public just what is the matter. Old fogymism is apt to go off into queer antics when it is shaken up and wakes to find the day of big profits ended.

Now, do not be biased by what we have said. Call and inspect our stock of Clothing, Hats and Men's Furnishing Goods, and if we cannot undersell the "LEADER" with a grievance, ours will be the task of consoling him.

MORAL.

The clothing house which recently drew a comparison between himself and all the clothing houses in Pittsburg, reminds us very much of the fable of the frog, who tried to swell himself to the dimensions of an ox. The catastrophe that overtook the frog should be a warning to this jealous merchant, not to blow himself out so much and to endanger his life.

The frog, so the fable reads, became so puffed out with his own wind that he really believed in his imaginary size and considered the rest of the animal kingdom very small fry indeed, but it was all wind. There was a sudden collapse and where, oh where, was the frog.
