SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

CUMBERLAND, Md., August 30.—Melvin C. Garlitz was today hanged by the neck until he was dead. Garlitz assisted in the arrangement of the straps around his limbs and ascended the scaffold steps without flinching. In response to the Sheriff's question, he said he had nothing to say. Then, after requesting that the noise be lightened a little and care be taken that he was not thrown headlong, he said: "Goodby, all; goodby, dear Sheriff; goodby, darling." The trap fell at 9:43, and at 9:50 he was pronounced dead.

The crime for which Melvin C. Garlitz died was the most atrocious ever committed in Allegany county. About 7:30 o'clock on the evening of March 23, 1888, on the streets of Cumberland, he fired five shots from a 32-caliber revolver into his young and beautiful wife, and she instantly fell. She was lying on her back, her hands clasped in prayer, and her face turned toward heaven. The assassin then walked through the city, told his father of the murder and made good his escape on a freight train to Martinsburg, where he was arrested later that night. Had he fallen into the hands of the Cumberland people he would have been hanged in a week.

SUNDAY DESECRATION.

A Raven Run Young Man Persecuted for His Partisan Opinions.

SHENANDOAH, August 30.—The station agent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company at Raven Run, about four miles from here, is having pretty lively times at the present time because of that place. The agent is a young man named Johnson, and he is known as a very active prohibitionist and a believer in the sanctity of the Sabbath.

The young man of Raven Run has little regard for the Sabbath and their chief amusement is baseball. Some time ago Johnson was arrested for teaching a young man to play a game on the preceding Sunday. The second week he brought here a team and lawyer succeeded in getting them off upon the payment of the costs of suit and a promise not to repeat. The young man, not only disregarded this, but backed by their parents, they have returned to play the game on the Sabbath. Mr. Johnson's existence miserable. They have boycotted the station. Johnson says he does not care for this, as they must pay extra fare when they purchase tickets on the train, but they stone his residence by night and by day, and sweat they will not let him rest.

THE UNKNOWN DEAD.

A Proposition That May Lead to a Number Being Identified.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

JOHNSTOWN, August 30.—A great many dead were interred among the unknown because friends or relations could not get around to all the morgues in the first days after the flood to identify them. They were buried at different places, and it has been determined to have them all fitted and reinterred in one place. The officers at the morgue are to when the final distribution of funds will be made, but they are unable to learn much about it. It is understood that the Flood Committee has said that as soon as the Board of Inquiry gets through the matter will be closed in a short time. This great delay and inaction on the part of those who have the distribution in charge is causing the people to become very much exercised about the matter.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

Officers Recover Goods Stolen From Ft. Wayne Railroad Freight Cars.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BEAVER FALLS, August 30.—A late hour last night Detective Colwell, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Lazarus, of this place, made what is considered a very important arrest. Several days ago two freight cars were broken open on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago road, at Conaway station, and a large amount of fine underwear and other things stolen. William Fleck, who keeps a jewelry and auction store in this place, was suspected of harboring the goods. Last night he was arrested and a lot of stolen goods found in his possession. He was placed in the lockup, and this morning was released on $1,000 bond to answer at court on the charge of receiving stolen goods.

The State Fair to be Held at York.

YORK, August 30.—The committee of the State Agricultural Society met the Board of Managers of the York County Society here at the fair grounds today. All the necessary arrangements were made for the State and county fair, to be held one week, commencing October 1. The citizens will put out their best foot, and the exhibition promises to be more than a great success. All the arrangements will be pushed, as the time is limited.
