

AN OPEN DEFIANCE.

Political Contributions to be Collected in the Departments, WITHOUT FEAR OF CONSEQUENCES.

Commissioner Roosevelt Says That All Infractions of the Law WILL BE BROUGHT UP IN THE COURTS.

The Elam Following Resorts to a Daring Defense of Dirt Throwing.

Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt says the law will attend to the members of the Virginia Republican Association if they attempt to collect political assessments, and the association insists it will proceed at once to gather the assessments.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—(Civil Service Commissioner) Roosevelt bonded back to town to-day, and immediately revoked his recent determination not to talk to the newspapers by delivering himself of the following: "I have carefully read the published interview with Governor Thompson concerning political assessments of departmental clerks by the Old Dominion League, a Virginia Republican club, and I heartily endorse all he says. I will guarantee that Governor Thompson is no more anxious than I am to get at these men, and the evidence laid before me, in my opinion, fully warrants our presenting the case to the courts. We will lay it before the proper prosecuting officers the instant we get in all our communications. Meanwhile, as I see that the club has threatened to send around a committee to the various departments to-morrow, to collect contributions, I was all concerned that I will promptly present anyone who attempts to come in soliciting, receiving or giving them."

The agents of the Virginia Association declare that they will be on hand to-morrow to collect the Virginia contributions from the office holders. Mr. Roosevelt's threats to the contrary, notwithstanding.

UNITING IN DIRT THROWING.

The latest attempt of the Elam crowd to clear themselves of the charge of violating the civil service law is a desperate one. The crowd of each other and then unite in throwing dirt at their prosecutors. Elam himself goes to Virginia and keeps out of harm's way, and Godwin, who it is understood, endeavors to exonerate himself on the plea that he knew nothing about the issuing of the circular, is quoted in the local press as giving the following explanation: "Elam has attended scarcely any meetings of the club."

How Godwin can know whether Elam was at the meetings, he does not say, but he himself, and how he could be there himself without knowing of the existence of the circular, which everybody else in the country knew all about, and which bore both Elam's name and his own, in plain print, neither he nor any of his friends attempt to explain.

NOT SATISFACTORY.

But this sort of explanation does not satisfy the parties in interest. They need make war upon Civil Service Commissioner Thompson, because, being a Democrat, they assume that he has been the instigator of the law which has been passed. As a matter of fact, Mr. Thompson has kept his hands off so scrupulously, if he has erred on either side, he has felt keenly the delicacy of his position, and though visited daily by members of the press and others who have been watching the proceedings, he has refused to step outside the strict pale of propriety, and has given no information in possession of the commission, or offer any aid to outside movements against the officials.

Secretary Noble, who started out with his investigation in a manner that gave promise of good results, has been paralyzed by the hold in the defendants' behalf. Of course was put in, and he was innocent enough to accept it, falling back upon upon the statement that, as the law is now, the whole business is going to prosecute, he has nothing more to do in the premises. As the Secretary is new to public life, he has not yet learned by sad experience that to leave a statement to be cleaned by somebody else is a poor way to make a record as a reformer.

One thing, however, General Noble is proud to say, and he declares that no person shall make the rounds of his department to collect political contributions without a permit. As the permit can be obtained from the chief clerk, and as the law is broad enough to render him liable to fine and imprisonment if he makes himself, even in so indirect a way, a party to the misdemeanor, it is not surprising that the committee charged with the duty of passing the hat would have to do so work in the open air, as far as the Department of the Interior is concerned.

WHAT IS PROHIBITED.

The Commission Called on to Define its Reading of the Law.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—Mayor Thomas N. Hart of Boston, recently addressed a communication to the Civil Service Commission, asking what part the members of the civil service may properly take in politics. In reply the Commission calls Mr. Hart's attention to the regulation of the President of July 14, 1886 (President Cleveland's letter to heads of departments in the service of the General Government), and to the subsequent instructions of the Postmaster General to postmasters and their employes. The reply continues:

Employ prohibition as to political assessments, the civil service law, and the authority of duty upon the commission to interfere in the conduct of officeholders. The commission has no power to remove any person from office, and no removal is made for the reasons forbidden by act, and the system does not impair the legitimate and salutary activity of parties or abridge the right of officials to vote and freely express their opinions.

LATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Negotiations have been completed between the Rock Island, Denver and Rio Grande, Colorado Midland and Rio Grande Western, to run through desirable tracts from Chicago to Salt Lake City.

The first snow of the season fell in Western Nebraska Tuesday night and Wednesday. The snow on the plains was heavy, and the little west from Sydney the fall was heavy. The Atlantic Express was an hour late in consequence.

During a matinee performance in San Francisco, Wednesday, Emily Light, the well-known actress, fainted while on the stage. The audience was dismissed and Miss Light conveyed to the hotel, where she is still very ill. Over-exertion was given as the cause of her sickness.

Ernest Potter went to Rockford, Ill., from Chicago on the first train, and was reconciled with his wife, who left him a few days ago and took up her residence at Rockford with her sister, Mrs. George A. S. Seely. Failing in his object, he shot himself through the heart.

Lawrence Perry Dawson, the son of ex-Commissioner Dawson, of the Bureau of Education, was arrested in Washington, Wednesday night, on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $10 worth of postage stamps from the bureau where he had been employed. The friends of the young man assert that he will be able upon examination to establish his innocence.

According to the articles of incorporation, the extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway to the west, will be a three-fourths of a cent for each additional word in excess after. For a distance over 1,000 miles one-half cent per word shall be added to the base rate. For eight messages not exceeding 20 words, the rate shall be 15 cents for each word in excess of 20.

A letter from the Postmaster General to President Green, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, was also made public to-day, in which he says:

I desire to state that I have availed myself of all accessible sources of information to ascertain the rates and rebates in force with the various classes of customers of telegraphic business, and have weighed carefully all your arguments in relation to rates, and the necessity of your claim that the privileges accorded to telegraph companies by the act of Congress of 1866 are not to be taken away from them by your corporations. I am impressed with what you say in respect to the rates of telegraphic business, and consequently have, for the fiscal year, revised the rates of the Government. A copy of the rates is herewith enclosed. The reduced rates hereby determined for day messages are practically the same as those upon which your company, as well as one of its principal competitors, transact their business. The rates of your company, I presume no question can arise as to the fairness of these conclusions. Permit me also to add that while there is no necessity of intention to place any burden upon the application, yet the Government is entitled to a special consideration in rates and rebates, and it is therefore, for the purpose of determining Government rates in the future, I have formally proposed to you, and your company, by suitable persons, that for the fiscal year, revised the rates of the Government, and the 5th by the four or five cents per word, and the 10th by the four or five cents per word, and the 15th by the four or five cents per word, and the 20th by the four or five cents per
