

NEFF IS NOT GUILTY.

His Second Trial Results in a Verdict of Complete Acquittal.

AN OLD MAN MURDERS HIS SON.

A Smallpox Epidemic is Scaring a Rural Buckeye Community.

ALL THE NEWS FROM NEARBY TOWNS

WASHINGTON, Pa., November 29.—Judge McIlvaine at 9:15 this morning began his charge to the jury in the case of James Neff, charged with complicity in the murder of William McCausland. He finished at 10:30, when the jury retired. They were out three hours when the ringing of the bell announced that they had agreed upon a verdict. After being polled the foreman announced that the verdict was "Not guilty." The prisoner, who had sat between his counsel had become extremely pale, though he showed no tremor. When the verdict was announced his countenance changed and a smile, a very broad one, hovered over his face. He received the congratulations of many of those in the court room who had assembled at the ringing of the bell. The murder was committed in September, 1887, near Carnochan, Greene county. Neff was found guilty of the crime with three others in the Greene County Courts, but in his case a new trial was granted, and a change of venue to this county.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Three Men Crushed by a Fall of Slate in a Quarry.

BELLEFOUNTAIN, November 29.—One of the most horrible accidents that has ever occurred here happened to-day. About 11 o'clock the news went around that two men were killed at Morris limestone quarry. Upon investigation it was found that the drill gang, composed of Frank Gallagher, Joseph Mayes and James Noon had been buried under a fall of slate. When taken out it was found that Mayes' head was cut completely off, his hand nearly so, and many bones broken. Gallagher was found with the whole top of his head mashed to a jelly and legs broken in several places. Death was instantaneous with both of them. Noon's head and right leg were cut and badly bruised in many places. The quarries belong to A. J. Morris, of Tyrone. The cause is supposed to be the recent heavy rain getting in behind the overhanging slate, and the sudden change to frosty weather last night loosened it up, and the men in drilling this morning dislodged it.

HOISTED FIFTEEN FEET BY HIS CHIN.

Then He Lost Strength and Fell to the Bottom of the Mine.

WILKENSARRE, November 29.—Joseph Werry, aged 27, a miner at the Conyngham shaft, finished his day's work this evening and started for home. As he was nearing the carriage one of his companions cried out, "Hurry up, Joe, we have rung the signal for the engine to hoist." At this he ran for the carriage, but on reaching the platform it had already started. He miscalculated the distance in stepping on, and the bottom of the cage caught him under the chin. In this way he was hoisted about 15 feet and fell to the bottom of the shaft. He was terribly crushed against the side of the shaft. He died in a few moments.

MURDERED HIS SON.

The Frightful Result of a Quarrel About Some Property.

FAYETTE CITY, November 29.—On Wednesday evening Isaac Stimmel, aged 74, and Andrew, his son, aged 27, got into an altercation about some property. During the quarrel which ensued the elder man cut the younger twice with a butcher knife, once in the thigh and once in the abdomen, the latter cut almost completely severing the bowel at one point. Dr. Gordon, the physician in charge, sewed up the bowel and returned it, and dressed the wounds. The young man is still living, but the doctor says he will die. The old man is still at large.

FORTY TRAMPS FEASTING.

They Enjoy Thanksgiving Day by Getting Drunk on Stolen Liquor.

NORRINTOWN, November 29.—The Norrintown police made a raid on 40 tramps who were enjoying a Thanksgiving debauch in the abandoned Love furnace in the lower portion of the town. About 30 succeeded in making their escape by taking to the Schuylkill and scampering over coal trains. The captured ones were too drunk to make their escape, having been overcome from the effects of several kegs of beer and as many gallons of rum that had secured during the day. During the morning they held full sway in the lower section of the town, and in one instance some of the party entered a private residence and took all the eatables prepared for dinner.

A CALF LIKE A GOOSE.

It Has a Bill, but No Eyes, and is a Curious Monstrosity.

LANCASTER, November 29.—A cow belonging to John K. Brandt, of Millon Grove, this county, has given birth to a calf which strongly resembles a goose. Its legs and its general shape are similar to those of a goose. It also has a bill. In other respects it looks like a calf, but has no eyes. It is a most remarkable freak of nature, and there is much speculation as to the cause of the monstrosity.

A Brakeman's Fatal Fate.

ALTOONA, November 29.—Charles Chelmer, a brakeman on the middle division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, met with a peculiar and fearful accident this morning at Bellwood. In some manner he was struck by a car and thrown under the wheels, cutting both his arms clear off from his body.

Smallpox Epidemic in Ohio.

Tiffin, November 29.—Smallpox is spreading at St. Petersburg. One child of John Smith died to-day. Three others are ill with it, and probably several outside cases. The disease originated from a rash caught at New Washington, where the disease prevailed last year.

SOME OF THE MINES AT WORK.

Both River Miners and Operators Are Content to Remain Idle.

There is not any probability of the difference between the river miners and the operators being adjusted to any general extent this side of spring. The feeling among the largest operators is rather in favor of a continuance of the present inactivity, for they make the double claim that the markets will not allow of an increase in the rate, and that they have a three months' supply of coal ahead.

MEANWHILE THERE ARE AT LEAST TEN MINES IN OPERATION, FIVE IN THE FOURTH POOL, AND FIVE IN THE LOWER, IN ALL OF WHICH THE INCREASED RATE IS BEING PAID.

Munhall Bros. commenced operation at the beginning of the week, and are paying the increase. They have about eight or ten boats to load. A well-known leader among miners said yesterday that the rivermen could as well afford to hold out until spring, as to go to work at 2 per cent and 3 cents. When spring came the operators would be obliged to yield to the demands. The meeting of miners' delegates to be held in Knights of Labor Hall on next Tuesday is for the purpose of organizing all the men in the Pittsburgh district, who have been issued by the Mansfield L. A. at the instance of one or two of its leading members. Shipments to the lake points has closed, and the year's trade is reported to have been about 200,000 tons less of coal than last year. Between 200,000 and 300,000 tons less of coal have been sent forward this year than last, a falling off which is explainable partly by the shortage in the car supply, and partly on the fact that in consequence of the mildness of last winter, dealers and consumers generally had a large stock on hand when the year's business commenced in spring.

MUSIC AT OLD CITY HALL.

M'sieur Levy Says He Plays the Cornet and Miss Linde Will Sing.

M'sieur Jules Levy, the titular dignity of the concert troupe which appears to-day and to-night at Old City Hall, arrived in town yesterday en route to Little Washington, where a concert was given last night. He had read THE DISPATCH, and he drove from Union Depot to a hotel, and then sent for a reporter of this paper, upon whom he heaped sunny vials of wrath as follows: "I have had some my reputation by an article in which you say I am an 'erratic horn-blower.' It is so correct as I say, and upon which I am so great an artiste. The reporter assured him that the title had not been maliciously applied, and was after all technically correct as any man who blew a horn need not be surprised at being styled a horn-blower. This appeared the wrath of "the great artiste" and he proceeded to explain the muss which has been caused by the substitution of Miss Barry for Rosa Linde (Mrs. Scharschmidt). He showed a letter from Mr. Wright to him in which the writer (no pun meant) gave the cornetist a lively shaking up. Mr. Wright explained that he was the affianced husband of Rosa Linde and that M'sieur Levy's rights of Miss Linde and his initials to her necessitated a resort to the avenging revolver. The letter even specified the date and train upon which Mr. Wright would arrive and satiate his hot, Southern demand for gore by the vi et armis act. Whether serious or not, M'sieur Levy seemed very much worried, and thought of securing legal protection. It was arranged that Miss Linde should sing to-night, although, perhaps, not in her usual place upon the programme. She will arrive at 8 o'clock to-night, be whisked to the Hotel Duquesne, and taken to Old City Hall in time to appear in the second part of the program. An ovation is promised her, with cut flower accompaniments. She will sing "Oh, Mio Fernando."

TIED UP WAITING.

A Complainant's Departure for Scotland Allows Two Prisoners to Escape.

Joseph Kennedy, who lived on Boguet street, Oakland, made an information before Magistrate Hyndman some time ago, charging William and John Meyers with the larceny of a gold watch. Yesterday Officer Wachter succeeded in capturing them. They were taken before Magistrate Hyndman and gave $500 bail each for a hearing which was to have taken place last night. The prosecutor failed to appear, as he had left for Scotland last Saturday. The prisoners were discharged.

Too Much for Her Patience.

Mrs. Patience Rose, of Washington street, made an information before Alderman Richards yesterday charging Sallie George with committing an assault and battery on her, by striking her in the face with her fist, knocking her down. Sallie was arrested and committed to jail in default of $300 bail, for a hearing on Monday.

Mrs. Hibbard Restive Easier.

Mrs. George Hibbard, whose romantic story was published in THE DISPATCH yesterday, was resting much easier at St. Francis' Hospital last night. Little hopes are entertained by the physicians of her recovery.

No Two Ways About It.

We've seen so many imitations of our method of advertising that we have determined to offer the public a bargain for to-day which will once for all prove that we are the real leaders of low prices. Now let these imitators of the F. O. C. follow, if they can. We will sell 1,000 overcoats at $12 to-day, consisting of 5 styles of goods, 200 overcoats of each style. The goods are chinchillas, kerseys, beavers, castors and meltons—$12 buys one of them to-day. They are the greatest bargains ever offered, and other stores sell these overcoats from $20 to $24. P. Yesterday Mr. Gompers went on to Richmond on a similar mission, and Mr. McGuire left for Harrisburg where he will speak on the question to-night.

COKE WORKERS ON STRIKE.

Though Shows to be in the Wrong by Their President.

The coke workers at J. M. Schoonmaker Coke Company's Youngstown works have struck against working after 4 o'clock. The agreement specifies that the day's work must be completed. President Kerfoot of the coke workers' organization sustains the agreement and ordered the men back to work. They refused, however, and are out.

How She was Caught.

"How She was Caught," a romance of the instant camera, was written and the characters photographed by one of the best known female detectives in this or any other country. Although thousands of miles away from here at present, her name is a household word in every American family. As a manipulator of the detective camera she has no equal, and the instantaneous photographs, published in the New York Family Story Paper, which appear on the news stands to-day, carry with them a conviction which cannot be easily refuted. They are taken from real life, and the story of "How she was Caught," told so graphically both by pen and by camera, will be found to contain facts which every thoughtful lady will be sure to read and ever afterward remember.
