

WHY MEN NAMED WINDOW. In the Gossip Concerning the Probable Successor of Secretary Window. NOTHING CERTAIN IS YET KNOWN. The Federal Services Are to Be of a Private Character, and Will Be Held at Noon Monday. WHITE HOUSE RECEPTIONS RECALLED. Assistant Secretary Nettleton Now Temporarily in Charge of the Treasury.

under control of this department, the national flag will be displayed at half-mast. A Senate Committee Appointed. The House resolution for the appointment of a committee of nine to attend the funeral of Secretary Window was laid before the Senate to-day, and Mr. Morrill offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of seven Senators to join the House committee in attending the funeral and to take such other action as may be appropriate in honor of the memory of the deceased, and to manifest the respect and appreciation of Congress for his public services.

DR. S. B. HARTMAN, Of the Surgical Hotel, Columbus, O., Lectures on Cataract, a Prolific Source of Disease Incalculable. Cataract Capable of Destroying Four Out of Five Senses. A RADICAL AND PERMANENT CURE DISCOVERED. Health is the perfect adjustment of the human body to its surrounding conditions. Disease is the failure of the human body to perfectly adjust itself to its surroundings (environment), or the hot countries the body must adjust itself to great and continued heat or die. In cold countries the body must adjust itself to a low degree of temperature.

ANYTHING NEW? Such is a query often asked, and we are pleased to answer it in the affirmative. There is something decidedly new at these stores—new goods we mean, of course. We'll interest the ladies this week with our opening of Fancy and Plain White Wear. It's a display well worth seeing, and those who visit this department won't leave disappointed either as to price or quality. A few of the many beautiful things shown will be noted here very briefly:

Tucked and Embroidered Skirtings. Apron goods, lovely designs, at 25c and as low as 13c—all new goods. Our assortment of Plain and Lace Tuckings for Young is the handsomest showing for many a day. Fast Black India Linens. Fast Black Lawn Plaids and Stripes. Positively one of the prettiest lines that will be shown this season. In Lawn Stripes we present an entirely new collection from 8c to 25c. Pretty and newest patterns of Lawn, Nainsook and Lace Checks at 8c to 35c. Mail Cord Checks. Indian Dimities. Victoria Lawns and India Linens. Combed Cream and White. Sheer and Heavy Nainsook. Plain, Dotted and Figured Swiss. Tucked Lawn Skirtings at 25c. Hemstitched Lawns, 40 inches wide, with dent hem, at 25c. Hemstitched Cambrics and Nainsooks.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES. Every mother's heart will be delighted with the hundreds of cute articles shown. There's nothing in the way of baby wear that isn't displayed here from the tiny bootie to the most exquisitely embroidered dress. The make, the finish, the dainty embroideries and the quality of material used in our long and short dresses will be a delightful revelation to all who examine them. Our line of infants' outfits is complete, and the prices you'll admit are remarkably low when you see them.

NOTE--All of the above new goods will be ready for inspection when our stores open to-morrow (Monday) morning. We cordially invite ladies of the two cities to call and examine them, feeling confident that no finer or more complete assortment of white goods has ever been exhibited west of New York. Drop in and be convinced of this fact. Visitors are always at liberty to make a tour of every department, whether purchasers or not.

Barrels of Money. Were given away KAUFMANN'S free distribution of Merchandise last week—699 people having received gratis their purchases aggregating over $4,000. Barrels of Money will be distributed by KAUFMANN'S this week. In five minutes some customers will be presented with his or her purchases—no matter how large the amount may be.

How can we afford it? That's the question numberless people asked us last week. How could this Government afford to pay thousands of millions to carry on the war of the rebellion? It had to. Well, that's our case. We have to. Surely, we have never claimed to have undertaken this enormous free distribution of merchandise from motives philanthropic! It is a business venture, pure and simple, which, although temporarily costing us many thousands of dollars, answers the purpose of attracting an unusually large trade and thus reducing our still immense stock of Fall and Winter Goods. Oh, we admit that this free distribution of merchandise is the most expensive advertisement we have ever had. Nobody knows better than we how many fine Suits and Overcoats, Cloaks and Wraps, Shoes, Hats, etc., we gave away free of charge every day last week, but we also have the satisfaction of knowing that we shall not be compelled to pack away and carry over any Fall and Winter Goods. This is a great point gained. It means a saving [to us] of about $2,000 for insurance, $5,000 in interest, gives us plenty of room for our New Spring Goods, and [what is still more important] enables us to lay before you an entirely new and fresh stock next Fall. Can you now see why, in addition to having greatly cut the prices down on everything in the store, we inaugurated this liberal, free distribution of merchandise? But enough. What concerns you the most is that KAUFMANN'S WILL CONTINUE UNTIL NEXT SATURDAY TO GIVE A FREE! EVERY PURCHASE FIVE MINUTES. And, then, the method of this gratuitous distribution—how fair and square and simple! Whatever amount of money first reaches the cashier after each lapse of 5 minutes will be handed back to the customer who paid it, no matter how large the amount may be. KAUFMANN'S, Fifth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Gossip in regard to the successor of Secretary Window is nothing but the merest talk, but such as it is there is plenty of it. Among the names most prominently mentioned are those of Senators Sherman and Spooner, Representative McKinley, John Jay Knox, formerly Treasurer; Colonel Clarkson, late First Assistant Postmaster General; ex-Governor Foster, of Ohio, and many others less notable. Senator Sherman is, of course, out of the question, as if he were chosen he would not succeed in the Senate by a Democrat. Mr. McKinley would not accept the place, as he has Presidential aspirations, and to accept a Cabinet position would, in case he were a candidate, place him in antagonism to Mr. Harrison, who will certainly stand for re-election. Senator Spooner is thought to be hardly the timber out of which the President would desire to make a Secretary. Too Familiar With Wall Street. John Jay Knox would be entirely familiar with the Treasury and with financing, but the objection to such an appointment, though it is admitted he would probably be quite in accord with the views of the President on the financial affairs, is that he is too familiar with the place, and greatly desired it, at the beginning of this administration, but was hardly considered, and is therefore not thought to be a probability. Clarkson would be the most popular appointment that could be made with the active working Republic. He has in recent years given such attention to questions of finance, and has written many remarkable articles on the subject for the paper of which he is editor and proprietor. Mr. Clarkson's resignation of his office in the Postal Department was regretted by every Republican, as this administration seems wholly incomplete without his presence. Gossip also has suggested a possibility of a transfer of Secretary Tracy or Secretary Noble to the Treasury Department, but these gentlemen do not seem to be in the line, and it is almost certain they will not be disturbed. Feasting Over the Problem. Assistant Secretary Nettleton has returned to Washington, and is now acting as Secretary of the Treasury under a designation issued by the President several months ago, authorizing him to act in that capacity in the absence of Secretary Window. The President conferred with Attorney General Miller and Assistant Secretary Nettleton this morning with regard to his powers under the statute in making temporary provision for the vacancy. The conclusion was reached that, in case of the death of the head of a department, the next in rank of officials could act for a period of ten days from the time of death and no longer. The case of Secretary Folger was cited as a precedent, but on the advice of the Attorney General, it was thought best not to follow it, but to apply to Congress for authority to remove the present limitation within which such vacancies shall be filled. When Mr. Folger died, Assistant Secretary Coon acted as Secretary for a period of ten days under his regular designation, and was then specially designated by the President to act for a further period of ten days, thus giving the President 20 days for consideration of a permanent appointment. Only Five Days to Select. Under Attorney General Miller's construction of the law, the President will really have but about five days within which to select his Minister of Finance, as it is not reasonable to suppose that he will give the subject serious thought until after the funeral of the late Secretary Window. A meeting of the Minnesota Senators and Representatives and of the citizens of Minnesota residing in Washington, was held in the room of the Senate Committee on the late Secretary Window. The entire Minnesota Congressional representation is present, and the meeting was presided over by Senator Davis. Action of Minnesota's Delegation. The following resolutions were prepared by Senator Davis and adopted by the meeting: That we receive with heartfelt sorrow the intelligence of the death of Mr. Window, who was stricken suddenly in the performance of duty in the full enjoyment of his faculties, at the summit of a great career in which he reflected honor upon the State of Minnesota and the nation for more than 30 years, as member of Congress, as Senator and Cabinet Minister. That we extend to his widow and family our tenderest condolence for their irreparable bereavement. That the delegation in Congress and citizens of Minnesota, resident or sojourning in Washington, will in the best manner possible, at the decease of our statesman, friend and neighbor. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Mrs. Window by Senator Davis, the Chairman of this meeting. Arrangements for the Funeral. The body will not lie in state, and there will be no public view of the remains, but between 9 o'clock and 11 A. M. Monday the next personal and official friends of the late Secretary will be admitted to the house. At 11 o'clock the house will be closed to visitors, and a little later there will be a private service at the house for the family only. The general services will be at the Church of the Covenant at noon. Dr. Hamill will officiate, though possibly he will be assisted by other ministers. At first it was intended that the services should be public, but this plan had to be abandoned, and, according to the final arrangements, admission to the church will be by ticket up to 11:45 A. M. All the members of the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, the Diplomatic Corps, the Judiciary, the heads of the various departments of division connected with the Secretary's office of the Treasury, general officers of the army and navy and Senators and members of the House of Representatives will have sent them cards of admission. Cabinet Members the Pallbearers. The members of the Cabinet, at the desire of Mrs. Window, will act as honorary pallbearers, and a detail of non-commissioned officers from the Treasury Guard will assist as body bearers. By direction of the Postmaster General all postmasters are authorized to close their offices as far as practicable on Monday next, between the hours of 11 A. M. and 2 P. M., during the funeral services. Acting Secretary Nettleton issued the following order this afternoon: To officers of the Customs, Assistant Treasurers of the United States, and all other officers of the Treasury Department: Notice is hereby given that the funeral of the Hon. William Window, late Secretary of the Treasury, will take place at noon Monday, February 2, 1901, in the city of Washington, all outgoing and offices under your control will be closed throughout that day so far as consistent with the transaction of necessary public business and absolutely on and after the hour mentioned. On all public buildings throughout the United States and on all vessels and steamers

A STRAIGHT DEMOCRAT. He Voted the Ticket Without a Scratch for 75 Years. CARROLLTON, Ky., Jan. 31.—Robert Moore, aged 85 years, a respectable and well-to-do farmer, living five miles south of here, in this county, died last night of pneumonia. Throughout his long life he never sought the services of a physician, and died without medical attention. He was always a very active man, working in the fields regularly up to the close of last season, riding to work along the railroad tracks. He was born while Washington was President; cast his first Democratic vote before he was 21—in 1816—and never scratched a ticket afterward, voting at all important elections. Last August, when the State ticket was thought not to be much frequented portion of the county, within a mile of his birthplace. He was not a church member, drank a little all his life and would occasionally sweat a little. He was a good man, however.

CREATED A SENSATION. The Correspondence Between Baker and Blaine the Topic in Canada. OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 31.—The letters of Representative Baker and Secretary Blaine are the most sensational contributions to reciprocity literature of the past few days. The blunt avowal of Secretary Blaine that while he is willing to discuss reciprocity, he is not willing to discuss reciprocity on natural products only, is so important that it may change the whole aspect of affairs here.

LATE NEWS IN BRIEF. Liverpool tugboatmen are on a strike. Boston importers will test the McKinley bill. Banker Imboden, of Fort Worth, Ark., has been indicted for forgery. The re-engagement of the Scottish railroad strikers is proceeding rapidly. Only three signatures are yet required to complete the proposed deal. Jefferson Mercer, the Argentine, Ark., wife-murderer, has been arrested in Chicago. General Alger is interested in a syndicate formed to purchase timber land on the Pacific coast. A woman in Buffalo county, Wis., recently arrived from Sweden, has been a leper for 15 years. Out of 10,000 people living in Marsh, Turkey, 1,300 died from cholera within six weeks. The would-be settlers planning to invade the Cherokee strip include many of the old-time Oklahoma boomers. Bishop Hennessy, of Dubuque, has founded a new Catholic order—the Sisters of the Holy Cross. Sixteen indictments have been returned against Banker Emery, of Marco, Ill., for alleged embezzlement. Emery pleads innocence. The American Biscuit Company, of St. Louis, has filed a mortgage amounting to $564,000, on all its holdings in Nebraska, Wisconsin and Iowa. It is negotiating the New York Biscuit Company.

A Most Pleasurable Trip to Washington, D. C., Via the Pennsylvania Railroad. Is offered to the public by the special excursion arranged for by that company, at an extremely low rate, and gives them special train service for their trip, making it all the more desirable. The date for the next special excursion will be Thursday, February 5. Tickets at rate of $9, for the round trip will be sold from Pittsburgh, and correspondingly low rates from other stations in Western Pennsylvania. They are good returning within ten days, and good for use on any regular train that day, except "The Limited," permitting of stop over in Baltimore in either direction. In addition to regular service, a special train will leave Union station on February 5, composed of Pullman parlor cars and passenger coaches. Sleeping cars on night trains. Reservation of space can now be made at the company's office, 110 Fifth avenue.

"The people here have just learned the true worth of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Mr. G. J. Bennett, of Ormond, Pa. "I had a hard time getting it introduced here, but have succeeded, and now the people think me a public benefactor. There is no doubt about it, it does the work." GOOD THINGS For Most Men to Know: That Monday (to-morrow) is a day of special bargains in men's overcoats, suits and pants at the C. C. C. C. That our $40 men's overcoats are the finest ever sold for the money. They include silk-lined chinchillas, smooth meltons and cassimers and fine kerseys—price for choice $1.40. That our $65 men's suits in neat desirable patterns (sacks or cutaways) are worth three times the price we ask. That we sell men's $30 suits for $10, and $40 suits for $15. THE FIRST STAGE OF CATARRH (or acute catarrh) is commonly known as "a cold." "Catching cold" is the ordinary phrase for an attack of acute catarrh. It may begin with a slight cough, or hawking and spitting mucous from the throat, or running at the nose, or watery eyes; but these symptoms, in a large per cent of cases, continue to grow worse until grave or fatal disease sets in. Of course some cases recover without any treatment, but it is extremely dangerous and foolish to run such risks. If no attention is paid to the acute stage it either sets up diphtheria, pneumonia, consumption or some other disease, or develops into chronic catarrh, or at least leaves the mucous surfaces of the head and throat especially liable to another attack at the slightest exposure.

If the chronic catarrh takes the form of the dry (atrophic) variety, the thinned mucous membrane allows of a breathing, but there is a continual raw feeling in all of the air passages, sometimes extending into the bronchial tubes and lungs. There is also a very offensive chronic catarrh, or at least the mucous surfaces of the head and throat produce sneezing, watery eyes and deafness. TREATMENT. In acute cases, which come as a severe cold, a wineglassful taken in hot water, followed by a teaspoonful every hour, or a tablespoonful every two hours, as is most convenient to the patient, should be taken. In ordinary colds or catarrhal attacks it will be sufficient to take this remedy as directed on the bottle. In old cases of catarrh, whether of the humid or dry variety, it is only necessary to take Pe-ru-na exactly as directed on the bottle. Any one using Pe-ru-na who does not realize the benefit they ought from its use should write me, giving a description of the circumstances, and I will usually able to discover the reason of the failure and help them to a speedy cure. But it is only necessary in the great majority of cases to follow the direction on the bottle and a cure is certain.

For a complete treatise as to the use of Pe-ru-na in the various stages, varieties and chronic cases of catarrh, send at once for a copy of the Family Physician No. 2, sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, O.

POLYPOID TUMORS. THEY ARE FOUND EXCLUSIVELY IN THE MUCOUS CAVITIES OF THE BODY, BUT MOST COMMONLY IN THE STOMACH—TWO OPERATIONS FROM WURTEMBERG, PA. TESTIFY TO DR. BYER'S SKILL IN REMOVING THE SAME. By far the most common variety of polypoid tumors is the gelatinoid. It is jelly-like in appearance and very much like an oyster, soft and spongy, occurring either singly or in clusters, and often completely fills both nostrils, expanding in wet weather, and shrinking in dry weather. The only reliable treatment is of a surgical nature—excision, and even then it is apt to return in time. I have come across quite a number of polypoid tumors during the past few years, and always find them associated with catarrh or a hypertrophic condition of the nasal mucous membrane, and have often treated in the light of the recent advancement in the treatment of catarrhal troubles, if patients would follow these treatments up a few months after removal it would prevent their return.
