The Strike Still Paralyzing the Freight Traffic of the L. E. & W.

MINOR NEWS FROM THE THREE STATES

FREEDAL TELEGRAMS TO THE DISPATCH.]

FREEDORT, Aug. 20.—This little city took a backward turn to-day, and once more enjoyed the good old times when the crack of a driver's whip or the mellow tooting of a horn for "lock ready" meant more than the shrill scream of the rushing locomotives meross the river. "Just the biggest thing we ever had" was the unanimous verdict of the 250 old canal boatmen who gathered here to-day to attend the sixth annual retainion of the Boatman's Association of Western Pennsylvania, which was held here to the control of the Boatman's Association of Western Pennsylvania, which was held here Western Pennsylvania, which was held here

This historic organization was formed at Nineveh, and has steadily increased in membership since its inception, the attendunce to-day being the largest in the history of the association. Since the abandonment of the canal the boatmen have been seattered to the four winds, and they consider these annual reunions as the best means of affording an opportunity to rehearse old

A VEEV REALISTIC SCENE.

A pleasant incident of the day was thearrival of the morning train, on which a great crowd of boatmen and strangers had been expected. The Leechburg Band, and an old canal boar on wheels filled with pretty little girls and drawn by the historic mule, awaited this train, on which over 100 bontmen, with their wives and daughters, arrived. They were greeted with cheers and handshakings, and the indies of the party were at once taken in charge sy a local ladies committee and placed in the Central Hotel, where they could view the procession. A line was then formed by the boatmen, which proceeded to the country of the town, where an address the center of the town, where an address of welcome was delivered by Rev. T. N. Marphy, of the Freeport Academy. He

He then referred to fave-a free port, and extends to you all the facedom of the town." He then referred to the olden times, which were commonplace in those days, but which memory now surrounds with a halo of glory. He said, also, that he was glad he could not welcome them to indoons and distilleries, as there was not a drop in the town, though they might even now quench their thirst with a backward remembrance of the old days.

The response was delivered by Rev. Dr. Cetty, of Saltsbury, He sucks of the newspa. Cetty, of Saitsburg. He spoke of the marvel-cuts progress that had been made since he himself made his first trip on the old canal in 1831. "First was the old Conestoga wagon, then came the canal boat, and finally the steam cars as a means of locomotion."

PLEASURE AND THEN BUSINESS, The entire delegation then turned to the Opera House, where a great dinner had been prepared for them by the generous ladies of other table was set and the doors thrown gations caused the collapse.

Many members, however are in favor of having the next meeting in Pittsburg, and Mr. Leech, of that city, was one of the most pronounced in urging Pittsone of the most pronounced burg's claims for the honor.

ONLY PASSENGER TRAINS RUN.

The Strike on the Lake Eric and Western Becoming More Serious.

St. Many's, Aug. 20.—The strike on the Lake Frie and Western Railroad continues, and not a freight has been moved in this vicinity since Monday night. Affairs are beginning to look very serious, and grain merchants along the line are suffering greatly, while in the smaller towns, with only one road contained and Salem, Ind.; Lansing, Mich., and Van meetion, business is at a standstill. Every available car along the line, besides the grain elevators, are filled with grain, and it iii take weeks to clear the congestion here. The men say the road has already lost $200.

ing pay for extra hours. All day the agents here, with the office force, have been throwing switches and handling ears, which are transferred to other lipes and rushed through. The men fear a move is on foot to hire mon to take their places.

A dispatch from Peuris says: The switchmen's strike here is unchanged. Passenger trains with mail cars attached are going out on time, but no freight is moving. The serious trouble expected last night has been averted for a time. The Lake Eric and Western avowed its intention of sending a through freight train out at 11 o'clock, but the scheme was abandoned as bloodshed the scheme was abandoned as bloodshed was anticipated in such an event. The Sheriff has a big posse of men in the yards, and everything is quiet. Two coach loads of switchmen from Dayton and other points on the Big Four Railroad are expected to take the strikers' places, and there is likely to be trouble when they enter the yards. The men here say the train will not get over the bridge. No freight cars have been moved for 48 hours. the scheme was abandoned as bloodshed

FARMERS TO COMBINE

FOR THE PURPOSE OF PRACTICALLY KILLING OFF MIDDLEMEN.

The Alliance Commercial Convention Open at Topeka-All the Different Farmers Organizations to Be Merged in One Big Concern-Debts Will Be Paid. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

TOPERA, KAN., Aug. 20 .- One hundred delegates, representing the new organiza-tion which claims allegiance to the People's party, met this morning in Trades Assembly Hall, and organized the Alliance Commercial Convention. The work which was outlined will probably keep the convention in session for two days. The scheme is a mammoth one, providing for the amalgamation of every business organization which has grown out of the farmers' uprising in this State.

this State.

Many of the Alliance men now recognize that there have been altogether too many business organizations, passing under the Alliance name. It is proposed to thoroughly investigate all of them and decide which are worthy of support. There are Alliance exchanges of various kinds, insurance companies and protective associations operating separately. It is proposed to have an Executive Board appointed, through which these business agencies can through which these business agencies can co-operate. To put it briefly, the object of the convention is to kill middlemen. One of the delegates stated that it was high time the farmers in the interior of Kansas who had cattle to sell were finding a way to dispose of them to another farmer in an adjoining county without making the deal through too freely at the Franklin reunion, and went to sleep on a railroad track. A passing train killed him.

The convention was called and seems to be manipulated by the Mutual Protective Association, an organization which has for its object the fighting of foreclosures in the courts. It is well known that the Execu-tive Committee of the Farmers' Alliance do not look with favor on this organization, and a few months ago had a meeting for the purpose of entering into negotiations with Eastern money-lenders, to pay off the in-dividual mortgage indebtedness of the mem-bers of the Alliance, who conscientiously desired to be relieved of debt. Frank Mc-Grath, who set this ball in motion, is in at-endance at the convention.

When the first session of the Executive Board was held, at which time the payment of the mortgage indebtedness was discussed, confession; but the Warden said he would not give it out till after the execution. He says, however, it makes sensational dis-
