

DEALING WITH THE BUREAU

Had Last Night at the Meeting to Investigate the Underwriters' Charges Against

THE BUREAU OF ELECTRICITY.

Nobody is Held Responsible, but Chief Jones' Clerk Was in for a Roast All Around.

A Good Grist of Interesting Town City Happenings Yesterday.

There was a red hot time in Allegheny City Hall, last night, and it ended in a cross between nothing and a vindication of those connected with the trouble in the Bureau of Electricity.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Simon, who stated its object. Chief Murphy, of the Department of Public Safety, Superintendent of the Fire Bureau, and Superintendent of the Bureau of Electricity, were present.

Mr. Stauffer at once asked Chief Murphy to make a statement concerning the matter. The Chief replied that he knew nothing except what he saw in the newspapers.

From Chief Jones and the Superintendent of Electricity the wire had burned out near City Hall. Before it was repaired the fire was brought to the attention of the Fire Marshal. It had been an accident, and was liable to happen at any time.

The fire was repaired as soon as the Marshal could get a man over. He was of the opinion that everything was in first-class condition before the Superintendent of Electricity went away.

He had told the Superintendent in first-class shape and if there was a man in his place. The Superintendent told him that everything was all right, and that he had made arrangements with Superintendent Metzger, of the Telephone Company, to send a man over if anything went wrong that the men could not handle.

AN EXTRA MAN NEEDED.

Continuing, Mr. Murphy said that he would suggest to the committee that he would print an ordinance providing for an assistant in the electrical department. If the man they now have should get sick, there is no one to attend to the business.

Mr. Drum said that he had been told that he had had the meeting called because he was not in the habit of striking anybody over someone's shoulder. If he wanted to strike he struck direct.

Chief Murphy—As far as I am concerned, I never said that. If I was quoted as saying that you were antagonistic to me, etc., I want to say that it isn't so.

TOO MANY PEOPLE AWAY.

Mr. Drum—Well, it is evident that too many were away from the department at one time. There was not a man present who was able to find out what was the matter.

In the language of Hon. Alfred Marland at the close of the military onset, "The babe is born"—and, it might be added, his name is Victory or Altruism, according to the outcome. The "Straightout" Republican Convention met yesterday and selected a ticket, three candidates for judge of Common Pleas No. 3 and one for District Attorney. In some respects it was a rather unique convention, but Arch Rowland explained that it was run on Phil Sheridan's tactics—"never give your plans to the enemy"—and as Mr. Rowland had considered to say, his explanation was regarded as excellent.

In the first place, it was difficult for an outsider to tell just how many delegates were present. In addition to the Chairman and Secretaries there were about 160 men seated and perhaps 20 more in front on the sides of Lafayette Hall, but the roll was not called, and consequently a reporter could not always tell who was or who was not a delegate.

SETTLING A STRIKE.

The Bricklayers' Misunderstanding Becoming a Thing of the Past.

AN APPRENTICE UNIVERSITY

Now Being Built on the Ruins of the Board of Health Office.

MICELLANEOUS INDUSTRIAL ITEMS

If the statements of both parties to the controversy are true, the memorable bricklayers' strike of '91 is practically a thing of the past. Secretary McAfee, of the Builders' Exchange, said yesterday that the contractors in Allegheny had all the men they wanted, and that 80 union men had been added to the pay rolls of the contractors on this side of the river. He also stated that they were obtaining all the men they wanted from outside of the union and that no contracts are now suffering on this account.

The same happy state of affairs exists on the side of the workmen, according to Secretary George Speed, of the bricklayers. He says that they are now carrying but 40 men on the strikers' pay rolls, as against 80 last week, and 125 week before last. At this rate the men will all be at work at the rates demanded by the strikers.

He says that they are now carrying but 40 men on the strikers' pay rolls, as against 80 last week, and 125 week before last. At this rate the men will all be at work at the rates demanded by the strikers.

THE CLAIMS ON BOTH SIDES.

The union men claim to have been unusually successful in inducing foreign workmen to come to this city, and in preventing the importation of others. Thus both contractors and workmen seem to be doing quite well.

In the morning the Builders' Exchange yesterday commenced active work in a matter which has been long pending. It is thought that it has an eye to the erection of a new building for the exchange, on a new building, which will be erected on the site of the old building, which was destroyed by the fire.

A SCHOOL FOR APPRENTICES.

The structure, however, is being built of brick, in a substantial manner, though it will be but one story high. As soon as it is completed, which will take about three weeks, competent instructors will be selected, and all bright boys between the ages of 14 and 16 who desire to learn the bricklayers' trade, will be admitted.

Upon entering the school the boys will be divided into two classes, one for the apprenticeship and the other for the journeyman. The school will be under the supervision of the Board of Health before the fire. Secretary McAfee stated that the building was to be merely a temporary one, and that it was being erected on leased ground.

A BLAINE REPUBLICAN CLUB.

The Blaine Club of Pittsburgh, composed of young men of the hill district, was organized last night. The club was organized by President A. W. Smith; Vice President, J. C. Scott; Secretary, C. G. Smith; Treasurer, George W. Wilson; Delegates to Scranton Convention, J. W. Lee, J. W. Lee, and J. W
