

PEARY'S MISSED MAN.

A Sister Asks the Lieutenant a Question He Cannot Answer.

DID HE AND VERHOEFF QUAREL?

The Arctic Commander Denies and His Men Profess Ignorance.

LIFE CHANCES OF THE LOST EXPLORER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—Lieutenant Peary, the hero of the North Greenland exploration expedition, is in the city. He and his party landed from their steamer, the Kite, just before noon, where they were met by a large party of distinguished citizens.

Miss Verhoeff, a sister of John M. Verhoeff, who failed to return with his fellow explorers, being reported dead, accompanied the reception committee with her aunt and uncle. They discredit the theory that the missing mineralogist was accidentally killed, and frankly believe that he is even now exploring the interior of Greenland, having voluntarily remained behind.

Lieutenant Peary himself refuses to say anything concerning Verhoeff's disappearance beyond what has already been mentioned in the dispatches.

He denies, however, that differences existed between himself and the independent but ambitious Kentuckian. Other members express ignorance of any trouble between the two men, or of Verhoeff's intention to explore for himself.

William E. Meehan, the botanist of the relief party, said that the search for the mineralogist occupied seven days, and that every member of both expeditions, nine Eskimos and the ship's crew were engaged in it.

Traced to Dangerous Crevasses. Traces of Verhoeff had been found on the sixth day near a number of large crevasses, into which there was every reason to believe he had fallen.

In relation to Verhoeff's disappearance, the young man's uncle, Rev. A. N. Keigwin, of Wilmington, Del., and his cousin, H. D. Elliott, of Louisville, held a long conference with the lieutenant Peary on the way up the river. What he told them only strengthened their conviction that the mineralogist is alive.

Why His Relations Thought He Is Alive. The two relatives questioned other members of the expedition, but were met by considerable reticence, due to the fact that the stories published concerning a rupture between Peary and Verhoeff had reached their ears, and that they wished to avoid interference.

Verhoeff's uncle and cousin gave as their reasons for supposing him alive the fact that he went away on a trip for minerals to an Eskimo village, and that he might be gone two days, but telling his fellow explorers not to be alarmed if he stayed four. He took with him an ax, coil of revolver, 50 cartridges, oilskin suit and compass, apparently preparing himself for any emergency.

PROGRESS IN UTAH.

The Territorial Commission's Report Greatly in Favor of the People There—Polygamy Still Exists, but Not to a Great Extent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Secretary Noble has received the annual report of the proceedings of the Utah Commission for the year ended September 1, last, during which time three sessions were held, one at Chicago and two at Salt Lake City. Speaking of political matters the commission says that a change is apparent in the political situation in Utah, which, if properly fostered and honestly managed, will be productive of good results.

Considerable space in the report is devoted to a discussion of the subject of polygamy. The commission insists that polygamy still exists, and that there are many cases constantly coming to the public knowledge of association between polygamists and the plural wives they had professed to have put away, a fact that can hardly be controverted. The commission says it has reports of 15 male persons who are believed to have entered into polygamous marriages during the last year, and of more than 300 persons who are known or believed to be now living in polygamist relations.

It is not true, the report says, that the commission has ever accepted knowingly "a corrupt man," a "known gambler" or a "disreputable character" for a registration or election officer, and if by chance such a person has been appointed it has not yet been brought to the attention of the commission.

December last the church authorities petitioned the President for a general amnesty for the Mormon people. In the opinion of the commission, the report says, it is the most important of the documents the church has issued, and contains the most direct and positive statements of its desires and promises for the future which has yet come from that source. Without assenting to all the assertions of the appeal, the commission would be glad if the relief prayed for could be granted. That Utah is advancing on the plane of progress the commission freely admits.

Tariff Reform Booming. It is gratifying to note that the Herd branch of the United States Baking Company is meeting with favorable consideration in the minds of the hungry multitude with the new Tariff Reform Cakes.

To those who believe in Tariff Reform, as well as to those on the other side of the fence, this cake comes as a sweet and dainty reminder of one of the principal issues of the coming campaign.

"Tariff Reform" has a delightful flavor and certainly deserves all the popularity it is getting.

A Gentle Reminder. Don't forget during the Exposition, that you will still have to bake bread, pies and biscuits. At the same time you will be reminded that "Woolrich" and "Our Best" are the only brands of flour to use if you want to be successful in all your bakings. These flours can be purchased at your grocer's.

GOOD ADVICE. "My boy, I am going to buy you something which the doctor advised me to give you. He said a thin child is always delicate; nobody worries about a plump one. I will give you Johann Hoff's Malt Extract to build you up. I know it will do it, and then only will I buy you the stone blocks to build houses with. You need strength first to become a man before you build houses." Dr. Fricke, a well-known practitioner of Philadelphia, writes: "I have tried Johann Hoff's Malt Extract not only on myself but also on a great number of my patients with marked success in cases of convalescence, impaired digestion, for mothers while nursing, for children, and in general debility, and have found it to be an excellent remedy for building up the system. In my own case of impaired digestion it has benefited me more than all other remedial agents which I have used."

"Genuine," which must have the signature of "Johann Hoff" on the neck of every bottle. Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents and Importers of Mineral Waters, 6 Barclay street, New York.
