

Superintendent Roger O'Mara swoops down upon a Salvationist Squad. TWO BRIEF ENGAGEMENTS. Between Police and Soldiers End in a Disastrous Defeat.

Sixteen Prisoners Captured. Hundreds of Spectators Follow the Captives to the Lock-Up. A LIVELY TIME AT CENTRAL STATION. An engagement between the police and the Salvation Army occurred yesterday.

At the first attack the Army retreated in good order, without the loss of anything but its temper. At Fifth and Liberty streets a rally was made. The blue coats followed up their advantage and charged a second time.

Stopped by Chief Brown's Order. The arrest of the Salvationists was the result of an order issued by Chief Brown. For 12 weeks the Southside corps of the Army has been marching over this side of the river every Sunday afternoon.

Chief Brown had his attention called to the matter a week ago by business men and others complaining of the blockade on the streets downtown. Orders were issued that the street meetings must cease.

Carried Off in a Patrol Wagon. The noisy devotions had not proceeded far until the Police Superintendent came up and notified Adjutant Heald to move his Army on. The order was obeyed, the crowd proceeding to Liberty and Fifth streets.

Adjutant Heald was Indignant. For two hours the din was kept up. Then the soldiers quieted down, exhausted, and waiting for the arrival of the patrol wagon.

Struck by a Motor Car. While on her way home from church yesterday, Mrs. Martin Abel, of Carson street, was struck by a motor car.

Violated a City Ordinance. Michael Fisher was arrested on Sixteenth street yesterday by Officer Kennedy for violating a city ordinance. Fisher had built a bonfire in the street and was burning garbage.

In Olden Times. People overlooked the importance of permanent hair effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will improve the hair, well-to-do people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.
