SCHEDE IN CHARLESTON.—We are pained to record the suicide of a lady formerly a resident of this borough, which took place near Whiteville, last Saturday afternoon or evening. The deceased, Mrs. Henry Petrie, had been suffering from mental derangement for two years, at intervals. In the absence of her husband last Saturday, she left the house, and on her return was not to be found about the premises. Search was made and continued until Sunday forenoon, when she was found lying face downward in the little creek near her door. The water where she lay was but a few inches in depth.

The occurrence has cast a gloom over the neighborhood, and falls heavily upon Mr. Petrie, a most estimable man, and the two children left to mourn her loss.—Willsboro Advertiser.

At the annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association held at their rooms May 7th, 1866, the following officers were elected. President, J. A. Overton, Jr.; Vice, J. C. Humphrey; Secretary, C. M. Hall; Treasurer, A. G. Eastman; Librarian, D. A. Overton, S. W. Alford, D. Eastman, W. S. Ridgway, Board of Managers.

The following were appointed as standing committees for the year: Gen. on Strangers.—G. H. Wood, O. D. Myers, F. E. Baber, W. T. Bishop, Jr., F. Smalley, C. M. Hall, J. E. Dayton, O. A. Black.

Committee on devotional exercises.—J. V. Blight, S. W. Rodgers.

MEMBER.—One of the coolest and most approved murders which it has ever been our painful duty to record, was committed on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Hensel near the Weigh Lock in the upper part of town, by John Sheid who stabbed to the heart a young man called Hans Bowers. Sheid, it appears, had heard that Bowers had been circulating some report about him, of which Bowers, when confronted by Sheid, protested his innocence. But Sheid was inexorable and without changing many words plunged a long belt knife to Bowers' heart. Dr. Leach was called, but the wound was fatal and he died in twenty minutes. A cut was found in the back of Bowers' head. Sheid is said to be a dangerous and ill-tempered man. He gave himself up to the Police and is at the time of writing in the Lockup awaiting a hearing before a Justice.

As we go to press, Dr. Underwood, who made the examination for the Coroner, informs us that the knife entered the left side, between the fourth and fifth ribs, driving deeply into the heart. The report of the Coroner's jury was in accordance with the facts stated, and the crime pronounced voluntary manslaughter, for there is no doubt but that Sheid pursued young Bowers with the intention of killing him, and carried the knife on this occasion, with the intention of using it.—Pittston Gazette.

DROWNED.—A young man, named GILBERT TOMPKINS, son of Mrs. Jane Tompkins, of Waverly, was drowned while at work at the dam, at this place, on Thursday last. He was caught by a rope and pulled off a stone-boat. His body was recovered in a short time, but not until life was extinct.

Prof. VICKERY from Owego, respectfully informs the citizens of Towanda, that he will be in town about the 15th of May, and will be ready to tune Pianos.

Fire.—Our people on Saturday evening last, were awakened from their refreshing slumbers at about half past eleven o'clock, by the starting cry of "Fire fire!" and on foregoing the phosphenes of a longer embrace from the arms of Mothers, and rushing to the scene of conflagration, found the Engine House, used by the Railroad Co. for housing the local engine kept in this location, completely wrapped in flames. Our energetic citizens came to the rescue with their pails, but they had made such rapid progress that it was impossible to allay it in the least. Much damage was apprehended from the bursting of the engine's boiler, and people were obliged to keep at a great distance on this account, until it was discovered that the valve was open, and that the steam escaped, thus avoiding the possibility of an explosion. The engine, although not completely destroyed, was badly injured, and will require "hoisting" before she will be fit for service again. The loss of the building is no very serious affair, as it was constructed on a cheap principle, but the damage done to the engine, and the loss of several barrels of oil stored there, are matters of some importance.—Troy Times.

NORTHERN CENTRAL RAILWAY.—A general order has been issued by J. N. Durbary, General Superintendent, N. C. R. R. by which we notice that several changes have been made in the management of the road. The office of Asst. General Superintendent removed from Williamsport to Elmira, and J. A. Redfield, of Elmira, is appointed to fill that office, to have charge of the road between Williamsport and Canandaigua. E. S. Bowen, of Elmira, has been appointed Division Superintendent. Edwin S. Young, of Baltimore, is to be General Freight and Passenger Agent, and J. M. Schenherhorn, of Buffalo, General Western Freight Agent.—Elmira Advertiser.

BROKE JAN.—Our village was thrown into a slight excitement on Sunday, by the report that one Hatchinson, alias Cross, confined in jail on a charge of highway robbery, had broken from the Sheriff and made his escape out of town. The Sheriff and the prisoners on the corridor outside of the cells, for air and exercise. Cross, taking advantage of this liberty, picked the lock of the back and walked off. The alarm was immediately given, and persons sent out after him, but he succeeded in getting clear of town. Notice of his escape was given to the inhabitants living on the road through Catin Hollow to Middlebury, and persons pressed. Luckily, late in the day, Mr. Frederick Geig, living near Niles' Valley, succeeded in arresting the fugitive. Cross accompanied him, asking for tobacco, and after some little parley, he took him into custody, and he was lodged in his old quarters the same evening.—Willsboro Gazette.

CURIOSITY FOR THE LADIES.—There is an exhibition at the saleroom of Messrs. WELLES & WILSON, No. 625, Broadway, the first Sewing Machine, (No. 1) made by the company, the present number being 220,000. Let the interested compare the machine with the Wheeler & Wilson's offered for $25. The former owner of this machine gives its history as follows: "The machine was finished early in 1851, and I learned its use from Mr. Wilson himself. It was thus, you see, the first to work the Wheeler & Wilson Machine, and learned on the first Machine they ever manufactured. In 1851 I earned with the machine $295, besides doing my own housework and taking care of my baby. In 1856 we came to Davenport, and brought the machine with us. I believe it is the first Machine ever brought to Iowa. It has worked more than fourteen years, on all sorts of work, from the finest dress making to the heaviest tailoring. I quilted a full sized white coverlet, which has been exhibited three times at the Fair. It took me three weeks to do it with my other work, but it could have been done by hand in so many weeks. I have even stitched leather with it and when the time I exchanged it, (in 1865) for No. 139, 320 it worked just as well as when made. It is perhaps unnecessary for me to add that I believe the Wheeler & Wilson to be vastly superior to any other machine made."

At a meeting of the Directors of the First National Bank of Towanda, it was resolved, That in view of the action of neighboring Banks, the notes of State Banks not redeemed at par in New York or Philadelphia, will not be received after the 28th day of April, except at a discount sufficient to cover the expense of sending them home for redemption; and that we will not pay out any thing but Legal Tender or National Bank Notes. N. N. BETTS, Jr., Cashier.

MARRIED.—At Highland, April 22d, by Mr. W. G. Stewart, Mr. Almanza Allen of Albany, to Miss Emily Mead, eldest daughter of David Mead, Esq.

DIED.—DURAND.—At his home, in Herrick, on the morning of April 20th, James H. Durand, aged thirty-six years. He had been afflicted for many years with heart disease, and paralytic affection of the left side, but was always so cheerful and uncomplaining, that those only who were constantly with him could have any idea of the severity of his sufferings. About two years ago he was obliged to give up business, and has remained at home since, passing many a weary day and sleepless night; but, amid all his pain, constantly enlivening the home circle, and adding to the enjoyment of his many friends, and by his cheerfulness and vivacity appearing to his casual acquaintances very little like an invalid. Nearly two years ago he experienced a hope in Christ, and became a member of the Old School Baptist Church. About the middle of March, having been out to an evening meeting, he was taken with severe spasms in the chest, and great difficulty in breathing; and from that time kept his room, though able to sit up about half the time to the last. It is evident to his friends that he regarded it as his last sickness, though he did not expressly say so, and took all possible measures, as usual, to obtain relief. He had not his usual vivacity, but was calm and serene. His conversation was mainly upon spiritual things. He spoke of how the sick room tests the Christians' hope; how religion is there brought down to its spirit and essence, and that the hope, to sustain us there, must be founded upon the Word, resting alone upon the finished work of our Redeemer. In reference to his own hope, he said it had not failed him; that he had peace of mind, and felt that his mind was steady on the Word; but that he did not experience that manifest presence of the Savior, and that joy which he would like to. The patience and calmness with which he bore his terrible sufferings was remarkable. For many days he was unable to sleep, on account of spasms. About three o'clock on the last morning he walked from his chair to the bed and lay down, saying, "Now if all is quiet perhaps I can get a little sleep." It was evident the change was coming, and he made no objection, as before, to having the members of the family all called. He failed rapidly, and was soon unable to lift his head or his hand. As his eyes grew dim and his hearing failed, he was asked if he found the Savior precious. He said, "O, yes! I have found him so all through my sickness." Then his face seemed to be fixed, his lips ceased to move, and his breath grew shorter, and we looked momentarily for the last. Suddenly he lifted himself and sat up, his eyes opened, filled with an unearthly radiance, while a heavenly smile overspread his face, as he exclaimed, "Great glory! Praise the Lord! O, how I love my Savior. How can I help loving him, he is so beautiful, and he has loved me so. I have hoped, and now my hope is fulfilled. I hoped in his mercy, and in his judgment; I hoped in his atonement; I hoped in his death, and in his glorious resurrection. He is bringing me into his everlasting Kingdom. It is all true. My such calamities, more than can be told, he made repeating beautiful portions of Scripture, but did not seem to be addressing those individually who stood around his bed, nor to recognize them as mourning friends, though as his eye would rest upon one he would speak the name. He was evidently lost to earthly things, and filled with visions of glory, and his frame had been reanimated for a little that he might testify of the rapturous joys of heaven. Four times he raised himself up, with many expressions of praise. The last time, he said, "I must praise him, though I exert myself too much. His love is so wonderful. It is not for a moment merely, but forever and ever, and we shall praise him world without end." Then as he began to faint and fall, he said, "Jordan is driven back. But I cannot tell it. Read the one hundred and fourteenth Psalm. Its all there." We laid him back, and there was no movement any more. He remains in his bed as if an infant, for perhaps half an hour, his face perfectly serene, a calm radiance overspreading his brow, while his eyes, from underneath their half closed lids seemed fixed, with the light of a holy and eternal joy shining in them, upon the far off, infinite glories of heaven. As he thus lay, his head resting high on the pillows, we read aloud the wonderful Psalm, and then we knew what he would tell, how that death had been conquered; how the waves which had threatened to overwhelm him, had fled at the approach of one whose hope and trust were in the Lord, how the swelling tides of Jordan had been driven back, so that he who had hoped, though so tremblingly, "Could pass the river telling The triumphs of his King."
