

THE STRAIGHT-OUT.

Colonel Blanton Duncan on the War-Pan... The following circular address has been issued by the Democratic Executive Committee:

LOUISVILLE, August 6, 1872.

DEAR SIR—Will you be kind enough to place this circular in the hands of active Democrats in your county, who will at once commence an organization for the purpose of supporting the principles of our party as they will be proclaimed by the convention at Louisville, September 3?

There are hundreds of thousands who already proclaim their purpose of maintaining the Democratic organization at all hazards. The disintegration of the Radical party into two factions renders it self-evident that the Democratic masses can elect one of their own faith, instead of a life-long enemy like Greeley, who still loudly asserts that he never will be the champion of the black race alone and to elevate them to suddenly into a controlling position, which education and time can only fit them for.

Can Democrats who have boasted that they support "principles, not men," agree to falsify their past life by clapping hands with the worst men of the Radical party—Sumner, Schurz, Trumbull, Fenton, and the thousand other leaders who rally around Greeley, and would control his administration if his election can be secured? Who are the men that thus seek for the highest honors and emoluments of this country, and who have obtained the support of the trading politicians of the Tammany school by a promise of dividing the spoils? Without exception they are the bigots whose bitterness has been evinced for the past twenty years in the conduct of their opponents. They are the men who have uttered the most unchristian, the most ferocious, the most villainous sentiments about and against the Southern people (women and children as well as men) during the war, and who have done most to develop and pass that legislation since the war which true Democrats denounce as subversive of liberty and against the spirit of our institutions.

They are the men who have riveted the South in its chains, and burdened it with increased debts, the proceeds of which have gone into the pockets of the select few who have fattened upon the misfortunes of the people, and who turn to the new ring and the Tammany alliance in order still further to enrich and ennoble themselves.

Wormth can control the registry of Louisiana, and can elect by fraud such candidates as he pleases, just as the Mayor of New York has the deciding vote in appointing all the return officers for Mr. Greeley, who can, if not checked, carry out the open assertion of 80,000 majority in November.

All Augustus Schell and others have written urgent letters for the "good of the cause," that the Louisiana Democrats should work in harmony with Wormth. And it is boldly proposed to place him in the United States Senate as a reward for his infamy.

Can it be that the people are so degraded as thus to sanction a premium for their own dishonor? Is our body politic to be inoculated with the base poison of fraud?

Is this a better method of securing our liberties than the partisan use of those laws which were originated by the prominent leaders of Mr. Greeley's party, and placed among our statutes to be enforced by the bayonets of the present Administration?

Shall we surrender our liberties to perish either by slow poison or by the sword; or, preferring rather to maintain them and to insure free expression of the popular will, shall we not make war against all parties who attempt to pervert the Constitution? Can the people of the South class hands with those men who have wronged them from the termination of the war? Can Southern men condone such offenses by placing them in power? In Texas, to institute Governor Pease, whose arbitrary course was so nobly rebuked and thwarted by the generous and statesmanlike acts of Hancock; in Arkansas, to endorse Senator Rice, who was the first to concoct and carry out those frauds by which a Radical Legislature was installed in power, and the infamous despotism which disgraces that State was brought into being; in Missouri, to lead with honors Brown who, in August, 1863, with Herold Herod for disfranchisement and persecution, and recanted only when office was to be obtained and future plunder was in view; Blair, who came into the party to destroy it, and nobly has fulfilled his mission; Schurz, who, loudest of all, would sweep the South with the besom of destruction; and viewed the election of a Democrat as the worst calamity to befall the country, only six months ago? McNeil, the butcher of unarmed prisoners? In Kentucky, to honor Burbridge, the most detested of all its citizens? In Georgia, Brown, who as an official during the war, and since, under the corrupt administration of Bullock, which plundered the State of many millions) has been and is accused of using his official station for private gain? In Alabama, Warner, who never neglected to carry out the most unrelenting crusades while the pay of his office rewarded his efforts? These and such men, whose antecedents are too well and too disgracefully known, are to be the Southern leaders, in conjunction with those selected politicians who a year ago denounced them as the most unprincipled scoundrels! If the fraudulent bargain is faithfully executed by the selected chieftain of the clan nobis fratrum, latrones anlo?" And yet they dare to sail under an flag which they emblem "Honesty!"

In the North the leaders of this movement are known to be incited by jealousy, rage, and revenge, because of their failure to receive the desired amount for private gain. The entire coalition is a rope of sand, with no cohesive power but that of plunder in perspective. The people have always, and in all countries, placed the stamp of condemnation upon similar bargains. They will do it again. The only precedent in history for the immediate selection of a deserter for a command—chief is that of Coriolanus, and for the Democrats to thus compare is unfortunate. Coriolanus betrayed his army and spared Rome when she was prostrate at his feet. So Mr. Greeley, who is Sumner and one of the champions of negro social equality, (reinsured with emphasis since his nomination) truculent advisors of centralization, and the approval of those who are the uncompromising enemies of that constitution which to them is "a league with all and a covenant with death;" ready to do anything for power and place, will unscrupulously betray their own followers if necessary for their own advancement, even in the hour of victory.

Political parties are necessities for the welfare of a country, provided they advocate the doctrines and present the men to the people for their decision. Our party is the party of the future. It will be fixed as a rock in its principles. Its honesty of purpose will attract the support of the masses, and its future will be crowned with success. The two radical factions which are now fighting each other for the offices are actuated by considerations of individual aggrandizement. The leaders of each have eyes in objects to legislate for the black race alone and to elevate them to suddenly into a controlling position, which education and time can only fit them for.

The interests of the white race, that vast majority of our citizens who gain their living by the honest sweat of the brow, have been willfully neglected and their just claims ignored. Demagogues have excited the passions of the ignorant and politicians have secured their services without any return.

It should be the duty of our party to wisely legislate for the benefit of the laboring classes, educating, elevating, ameliorating their condition, rejecting and refuting the fanatical doctrines taught by professed friends, who yet are their worst enemies, and by demonstrating that we are their true and honest friends, and that we can secure their powerful cooperation in the support of law and order, integrity in every sphere of society, a restoration of fraternal feeling between the people of all the States, and an unparalleled prosperity under the constitution, truly interpreted and justly executed.

The committee recommend an immediate appointment in every county of a board of five members, the chairman of which shall constitute the district committee. That Congressional district conventions shall be assembled on or before the 25th of August, and select two delegates and two alternates from each district, so that full delegations from each State shall certainly be present on the 3d of September. Correspondence from true Democrats is solicited from every county.

For the Executive Committee, BLANTON DUNCAN, Chairman.

PLATFORM OF THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The following is the platform adopted by the Republican National Convention, held at Philadelphia, June 5 and 6, 1872.

1. That the Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention, in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, do hereby re-affirm their faith in the history, and announce its position upon the questions before the country.

2. That the national currency being a national blessing, that a protective tariff is the true policy for the South, leading as it does to the production of wealth, and the maintenance of a high standard of living, and that State and national taxation should be reduced as rapidly as possible, consistent with the maintenance of the integrity of the Union, respectively offer their names to the Republican party of the United States as candidates for the Vice Presidency.

3. That this Convention unanimously recommends the re-nomination of General Grant for the Presidency, as due, not only to his great public services in the field and in the Cabinet, but to his fidelity to the principles of justice to a great and good man who has been made the object of iniquitous assault not only by his political enemies, but by those who should have been his political friends.
