

OLD Judge W. of the Old Dominion, is a character. He was a lawyer, legislator, judge, and leading politician among the old-time Whigs of blessed memory; but, alas! since then his glory departed, and he has become a "where the woodbine twined." Notwithstanding the loss of property and the too free use of apple-jack, he maintained the dignity of ex-judge, dressed neatly, carried a gold-headed cane, and when he had taken more of his usual allowance of the favorite beverage, he was very firm at such times, and sitting near the stand as circumstances would admit, and responding fervently. On one occasion a Baptist brother was holding forth with energy and unction on the evils of the times, and in one of his flights he exclaimed, "Show me a drunkard!" The Judge rose to his feet, and balancing his cane solemnly, "Here I am, sir; here I am!" The elder, though a good deal displeased by the unexpected response, warmed up on with his discourse, and soon warming up to his work, again called out, "Show me a hypocrite! Show me a hypocrite!" Judge W. again rose, and reproachful across a seat which intervened, touched Deacon D. on the shoulder with his cane, and said, "Deacon D. why don't you respond? Why don't you respond? I did when they called me."

Indiana cats are having the small-pox. In Chicago red-haired girls are called fire-bells. The inhabitants of Salamanca, Spain have expelled the Jesuits from that city. The executive mansion of Illinois was a scene of a mud and milk festival on Thursday night last. A society for the correction of extravagance in female dress is talked of among the young men of Memphis.

Ladies can, in the present state of civilization, either buy their switches to match their hair, or dye their hair to match their switches. The gentleman who has hitherto performed the part of the wild man in a Chicago museum has concluded to be tame until he gets his last month's wages. The amount of national bank circulation promised to national banks, but not yet issued to them, under the act of July 12, 1870, authorizing an additional issue of $54,000,000, is about $3,000,000.

Advices received from Stockholm state that the Swedish banker was able to appropriate ten thousand Swedish dollars to pay the expenses of teachers of technical schools who may desire to attend the Vienna Exposition. Mr. G. M. Gordon and Miss A. Tolman Smith, principals of their select school for young ladies in this city, will forward an elegantly bound volume of the compositions of their pupils to Vienna in their own handwriting.

The pocket-book of Nelson Curtis, a well known Boston banker, was stolen recently from a pile of lumber in that city, where he had momentarily laid it while examining papers. It contained $3,800 in bank bills and $20,000 in notes of hand.

Richmond Tobacco Market.

There has been no decided change in the market the past week. Receipts and offerings have been small, but they have not affected prices worthily of note. As a matter of course we can look for a steady demand for good manufacturing and shipping tobacco.

Live Stock Sales at State Sales. RICHMOND, April 9, 1873. Mr. L. Gimm, weighmaster at the Live Stock Sales, makes the following report of transactions...

APRIL 11, 1873. As spring moves along, trade continues to improve. Our markets have not improved very materially. Wheat, oats and flour are almost inactive. Eggs are down. Prime butter brings good prices. Bacon is steady. Fish of various kinds are beginning to make their appearance in market. Slight advance in mackerel. North Carolina herring steady by receipt.
