Baltimore Sun: President George H. Denny of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., was prevented by serious illness from being present at the inaugural celebration of the Jacob Tome Institute at Port Deposit, Md., on the 15th. His speech was read by Prof. Robert W. Tunstall Head, of the classical department of the Tome Institute.

Milton W. Humphreys, professor of Greek in the University of Virginia, was in Lexington Friday. His three daughters were among the young ladies here that day from Randolph-Macon Woman's College of Lynchburg. Professor Humphreys was a distinguished graduate of Washington and Lee University during Gen. R. E. Lee's incumbency, and left Lexington twenty-seven years ago—eight years of which time he spent at Vanderbilt University, at Nashville, four years at the University of Texas at Austin Texas, and the rest of the time at the University at Charlottesville, Va. Professor Humphreys is classed among the best Greek scholars, at this time. He returned to Charlottesville Saturday.

Rev. Geo. T. Lyle, who was a Rockbridge boy, gave THE GAZETTE a pleasant call Tuesday. He informs us that he has a book published and on sale in W. C. Stuart's book store, on "The Church," in which he presents a different theory from the one usually taught, namely, that the church has had its only organization in the covenant with Abraham. Mr. Lyle holds that all the prominent covenants of the Scriptures have been reorganizations of the church which has been from the beginning. Mr. Lyle finds in what is called the great commission, the reorganizing covenant of the church and the beginning of the church under the present dispensation.

Call at Stuart's and get this book, and though small, you will find it valuable, unless you have learned to value books by their avoidpoups.

Interest is being shown in the approaching election of mayor and town council. There are two candidates for mayor, the incumbent Mr. W. F. Pierson, and Mr. S. B. Walker, Jr.

Mr. Walker has chosen as his cunning mates Messrs. C. R. Deaver, W. P. Irwin, G. W. Ollighter, P. M. Penick, W. C. Stuart and Hugh R. Wright.

Death of Michael Ammen
Mr. Michael Ammen, one of the most prominent citizens of Finca, died Saturday morning from paralysis, aged about 70 years. There was a fire in the woolen mill owned by the deceased about three weeks ago, and the excitement brought on the attack of paralysis which caused his death. He is survived by his wife and several children. Mr. Ammen's wife was Miss Varner of Lexington, a sister of Messrs. A. W. and C. B. Varner.

Field Day at W. & L. U.

Field day exercises were held last Friday afternoon at Washington and Lee University, and consisted of numerous events on the athletic field. In the evening the first annual contest between the literary societies of the University and Randolph-Macon College of Ashland, Va., took place. Interest was lent to the occasion by the attendance of about 130 young ladies from Randolph-Macon Woman's College of Lynchburg, who came on a special train. Academic duties were suspended at the University in honor of the occasion.

The athletic exercises began at 2 o'clock and were witnessed by a large crowd. The program consisted of nine events, and was in charge of the following officials: Judges, Dr. J. S. Lewis Howe and Prof. D. C. Humphreys; time keeper, Prof. W. LeConte Stevens; referee, Mr. J. W. Bagley.

The events and winners were: One hundred yard dash, won by H. H. Smith, time, 10 6-10 seconds.
Putting shot, won by J. W. Conover; distance, 32 8-10 feet.
Throwing hammer, won by H. H. Smith, distance, 86 25-100 feet.
Long jump, won by H. H. Smith; distance, 19 53-100 feet.
Standing broad jump, won by H. H. Smith; distance, 10 3-10 feet.

Mr. H. H. Smith having won five of the events, was declared the best all-around athlete, and had conferred on him the right to wear the University monogram.

In the evening at eight o'clock the debate took place in the University chapel. The address of welcome was made by President Denny, and Dr. W. W. Smith, chancellor of the Randolph-Macon system, responded. The debate followed, the subject for discussion being, "Resolved, That the abolition of tariff duties on trust-made goods would result in lower prices to the consumer of such goods." Randolph-Macon had the affirmative, represented by Messrs. Vernon Hope Kellam of Virginia, and Nathaniel Powell Westcott of Virginia; Washington and Lee the negative, by Messrs. John Henry Day, Jr. of Virginia, and David Hopkins Rolston of Virginia. The committee of judges—Cols. R. A. Marr, H. C. Ford and E. W. Nichols of the Virginia Military Institute—awarded the honor to Randolph-Macon.

An admission of 50 cents was charged to the exercises to help pay expenses, and about $70 was thus realized.

Enforcement of the Dog Tax

By limitation of the law requiring owners of dogs to place a collar on their dogs with a medal attached, which showed that the tax upon the dog had been paid, expired Monday, and Chief of Police Hazlewood on Tuesday, proceeded with approved and modern appliances, to catch and impound those that were not properly uniformed. Twenty-six were placed in the pound, and of this number 13, one-half, were redeemed. The unredeemed half were taken to an out-of-the-way field on the Miller plantation, 3 miles east of Lexington Tuesday evening at 3 o'clock, and put to death in a very humane way by administering to them chloroform. Chief Hazlewood, who superintended the uncanny job, says that all were dead in 35 minutes.

This morning it was ascertained at the office of Treasurer S. O. Campbell that 234 owners of canines had complied with all the requirements of the town ordinance relating to dogs.

Anniversary of the Battle of New Market

Thirty-nine years ago last Friday—It was Whit Sunday in 1864—occurred the battle of New Market, where General Breckinridge met and routed the Federal Army under General Franz Sigel. It was not one of the great battles of the Civil War, but there was a display of gallantry as fine as ever shown on any field of blood and carnage. In this fight the Virginia Military Institute cadets won undying fame in association with the less spectacular but all the more effective veterans of the Sixty-second Virginia infantry.

The 14th of May has always been observed annually by the authorities of this institution with suspension of studies. This day had also been selected for the laying of the corner-stone of the monument designed by Sir Moses Ezekiel to perpetuate the name and fame of the fallen heroes of New Market to be unveiled June 23rd, next. About 800 people were present to witness the ceremonies, which were very plain and simple.

The site of the proposed monument is but a few feet west of the main entrance to the Jackson Hall. Col. E. W. Nichols presided over the ceremonies and Dr. R. J. McBryde offered prayer. Colonel W. T. Pongue had been selected to deliver an appropriate address. Cadet John Paul also made a short address. The cadet battalion, forming a hollow square were massed around the proposed site.

A box was placed under the corner-stone which contained a V. M. I. catalogue, coins of 1864 and of present date, John S. Wises' address on the battle of New Market and papers bearing on the battle.

The graves of the cadets in the cemetery at the Institute were handsomely decorated, eight guns were fired, one in memory of each cadet who fell at New Market.

Sunday School Convention at Buena Vista

The seventh annual convention of the Rockbridge County Sunday School Association was opened Tuesday morning in the Methodist church at Buena Vista. The address of welcome was made by Rev. J. S. D., of Lexington, on "Seed Basket and Sowers"; In the afternoon Dr. W. S. Currell of Lexington, delivered an address on "The Literary Study of the Bible"; and Rev. J. H. Light of Lexington, on "The Book and the Land." At night Rev. A. L. Phillips, D. D., of Richmond, addressed the convention on "The Mighty Mission of the Sunday School."

The convention will adjourn this afternoon. Today addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Phillips on "How to Teach the Lesson"; Rev. R. J. McBryde of Lexington, "Religious Education Compared with Secular in its Importance, and the Attention Given to it"; Mrs. C. H. Buchanan of Buena Vista, "The Primary Department." The exercises were concluded with a symposium "Knotty Problems and How to Solve Them," by Rev. C. H. Buchanan of Buena Vista, Messrs. F. T. Glasgow and John D. Letcher of Lexington.

The music of the convention by a trained choir, under the leadership of Mr. J. D. Deacon of Oak Dale. There was a large attendance at the convention and the hospitality of the Buena Vista people was unbounded.

Teachers Elected for Public Schools

At a meeting Saturday night of the Lexington school board—Mr. R. E. Hutton, Prof. D. C. Humphreys and Mr. F. T. Glasgow—teachers were elected for the Lexington schools next year. With one exception the teachers in the white school were re-elected, as follows:
Principal, Mr. Harrington Waddell; assistant in the high school, Mr. W. D. Gresham; teachers in the grammar grades, Misses Myrtle Moore, Bessie Penick, Maggie Shanks, Katherine Varner, Mary Smith and Margaret Withrow. Miss Frances White, who taught the primary grade the session just closed, was not an applicant for re-election and Miss Withrow was elected as her successor.

In the colored school William Washington was re-elected principal and Charles Harper and Mrs. Evans teachers.
Two teachers remained yet to be elected.

Against E. H. Barclay's Administrator

The suit of E. H. Barclay's Administrator against the Town of Lexington for $10,000 damages, which was in progress when THE GAZETTE went to press last week, was decided Thursday by a verdict for the Town of Lexington, allowing the plaintiff nothing. On the first ballot the jury stood two for slight damages, but they shortly came over to the majority side. The plaintiff was represented by Mr. Hugh A. White of Buena Vista, who asked for a new trial, which Judge Hundley over-ruled. Notice however was given that in the next 30 days this case might be carried to the supreme Court of Appeals.

The jury, the names of whom were published last week, that heard the evidence in this case, was the best that could be obtained in Rockbridge. Judge George J. Hundley of Farmville, Va., who presided, made a fine impression as a lawyer, as to his rulings and instructions to the jury.

TO MEN WHO Want to Dress Well.

Perfect fit is the first element in perfect dress. The coat must fit smoothly over the shoulders around the collar and must hold its shape as long as it lasts. The vest must fit smoothly all around. The trousers must have the right shape.

The Clothing that does all the above, must, first of all, be made right, and to be made right must be made by professional Tailors, which means HAN-MADE.

When a man comes to us he finds the best CLOTHING made in our own tailor shop, in all the latest styles and shapes, and has the aid of expert advice in selecting the proper styles for his individuality.
