Inauguration of Hayes. It is hard to realize that Hayes will be inaugurated President of the United States on Monday next...

The Case of Oregon before the Electoral Commission.

THE VOTE GIVEN TO HAYES AND WHEELER.

On Wednesday last, the case of Oregon came before the Electoral Commission with its two sets of returns. Senator Kelly and Representative Jenks appeared as objectors on the democratic side...

On Friday, the case was argued by Everts for the Republicans and by Merrick for the Democrats, which concluded the argument of the case. The commission adjourned to 10 o'clock A. M. Saturday.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—At Snowville, Pulaski county, on Sunday last, E. L. Bill, 19 years of age, son of Capt. D. B. Bill of that place, was shot in the eye by a friend named Stone...

DEATH OF A MINISTER.—Rev. A. Doniphan died at Keyville, Mecklenburg county, last week. At the time of his death, Mr. Doniphan was an itinerant minister in the Methodist Episcopal church, South, travelling the Mecklenburg circuit.

ACCIDENTS IN FALLING FROM FENCES.—We learn from the Shenandoah Valley that Jacob A. Rehart of Timberville, fell from a fence and sprained his wrist last week...

MARRIED IN A BUGGY.—On Monday last week, while seated in a buggy in front of the Court-house in Luray, Page county, Mr. Wm. Martin and Miss Mollie Jenkins of that county were married by Rev. Jno. W. Watson.

REAR ADMIRAL CHAS. H. DAVIS, superintendent of the Washington naval observatory, died Sunday morning last week of disease of the heart. He was the fifth American admiral who died since the beginning of the present year.

John S. Young, who was at one time chief of detectives in New York, is dead. During the war he arrested Captain Jno. Yates Deall, of Virginia, an alleged Confederate spy, who was hanged on Bedloe's Island.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—At Dublin, Pa., on last Thursday, whilst handling a pistol, Johnnie, only son of Jno. W. Davidson of that place, accidentally shot himself through the heart.

A gang of Molly Maguires at Plymouth, Pa., were last week, dragged a man out of bed from beside his wife and cut one of his ears off. Two of the desperadoes have been captured.

Maj. John W. Daniel, of Lynchburg, has accepted the invitation to deliver the address before the Literary Societies of the University of Virginia on the 27th of June next.

"ALMOST LIKE PROPHECY."—In his Louisiana report, made scarcely more than a year ago, William A. Wheeler, of New York, who is to be the next Vice President of the United States, said: "Upon the elections in Louisiana, as in other States, depends the right to their seats of Senators and Representatives who are to aid in making laws for the whole country..."

As the Lynchburg Virginian says, this sounds almost like prophecy, for the very condition of things that Mr. Wheeler predicted is upon us in all its startling reality. He had no idea, at the time he penned these words, that the circumstances here so graphically described would be fulfilled in his own case...

As the Balt. Sun says, the rejection by a strict party vote of every proposition looking to even a partial and limited inquiry into the facts is what no republican man anticipated under the electoral bill, and could such a result have been imagined the bill would never have passed. The decision may be technically tenable, but that is all. Everybody supposed that the commission would interpret its functions more broadly...

DEATH OF REAR ADMIRAL GOLDBOROUGH.—Rear Admiral Louis M. Goldborough died in Washington city Tuesday morning of typhoid pneumonia. The deceased was born in Washington city February 18, 1805, and entered the navy as a midshipman from the Virginia on June 18, 1812...

The Washington Star gets off the following good hit on our democratic friend, Dudley Field, who has led the congressional examining committee against Wells & Co. "When Hon. David Dudley Field goes back to New York, he will be in much the same sort of fix that the western hunter was, who on being asked by his wife upon his return from a game of guinea which he had lost through three days, 'What he got,' answered, 'Well, I've got home, and that's the best I can do, considering the d—d luck I've had.'"

HOUSE BURNED.—A dwelling on the Davenport Whitehall farm, 3 1/2 miles North of Charlottesville, Jefferson county, occupied by Mr. James Littleton and family, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night last. Mr. Littleton, wife and child, escaped, but everything else about the premises was consumed. The occupants having retired and sleeping soundly, were first notified of the fire by the falling in of the roof.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—The Blooming Plains and Saw Mills of Mr. George H. Turner, operated by Mr. Wm Phillips on the Shenandoah river, 2 1/2 miles South-east of Charlottesville, Jefferson county, were destroyed by fire on Friday last before they were determined whether Mr. Hayes or Mr. Tilden had received the majority of the votes cast on the 7th of November.

THE FAILURE TO PASS THE DOG-LAW.—The dog-law has "gone where the woodcock went." In the House of Delegates on Tuesday last, the order of the day known as "the dog-law" was taken up. Mr. Berry, of Bedford, eloquently and earnestly invoked the House to pass the bill, but the Speaker "ruled it out" on the ground that the question had already been passed upon by the House at this session. Mr. Berry appealed, but the decision of the Speaker was sustained.

REVIVAL IN KANAWHA.—The Charleston (W. Va.) Courier writes that "the revival now in progress at the Campbell's Creek School house, under the supervision of Rev. C. C. Armstrong, of Dickinson Chapel, of that place, assisted by Rev. J. C. Brown, of the Malden Presbyterian Church, has proven a glorious success. Some fifty persons have connected themselves with the Church, and many more are expected to be added to the number of the church in the near future."

THE SWORD WORN BY THE CONFEDERATE GENERAL WILLIAM BARKSDALE, taken from his body after he fell mortally wounded in the battle of Gettysburg and deposited in the ordnance museum, was delivered last week to his brother, Hon. E. Barksdale, to be conveyed to his friends in Mississippi.

HON. ALEX. H. STEPHENS says: "I want to go. What is left to me in this world? My brother, my comrades, my friends, have all gone, and I am ready to go to them. I am weary of this world and its sufferings."

CHILD KILLED BY SWALLOWING LYE.—Last week, a child of Morgan Wezel, aged 15 months, near Dovesville, Rockingham, fell into a tub of lye, and swallowing some of it, died after suffering some hours, as we learn from a correspondent of the Shen. Valley.

Gov. Vance, of North Carolina, has recognized Wade Hampton as Governor of South Carolina by communicating with him relative to fugitives from justice now in jail in the former State.

The Greenbrier Independent wishes to see a Republican who look one in the face and say that he believes in the honesty of his heart that Hayes was entitled to the vote of Louisiana. One hundred and seventy-five conversions are reported as the net result of recent revivals in churches in Charleston, Kent county, Md. Votes, of Indiana, says, "the republicans having stolen everything else, now steal the Presidency."

MoHetti's Bell-Punch Liqueur Bill. In the House of Delegates on Wednesday last, MoHetti's liquor bill being the order of the day was considered. An amendment to the bill, requiring keepers who take out a license to make oath that they will observe the provisions of the law, was discussed by Messrs. Hubbard, Armstrong, Stuart and Massey for and Messrs. Cecil, Lovenstein and Ball against the amendment. It was adopted, however, by a vote of 41 yeas to 33 nays.

On Thursday, the liquor-tax bill was further considered. On motion of Mr. Wheeler, the provisions authorizing the Auditor to employ an inspector of registers at $1,000 a year and travelling expenses was stricken out, and the Auditor directed to furnish printed instructions to all commissioners of the revenue in regard to the use, &c., of the registers. A motion by Mr. Lovenstein to reduce the tax of two cents to one was defeated by 49 yeas to 48 nays. Mr. Popham moved to reconsider. Mr. Powell, of Franklin, opposed reconsideration, and said he desired to amend by raising the tax to three cents pending the further consideration of the matter, the yeas adjourned.

On Friday the consideration of this bill was resumed. The pending question was on the motion to reconsider the vote rejecting the proposed amendment to reduce the tax on drinks from two cents to one cent, and was decided in the affirmative—yeas 59, nays 41. A proposition to fix the tax at three cents was rejected. The question recurred on the motion of Mr. Lovenstein to fix the tax at one cent and was decided in the affirmative—yeas 58, nays 41. The vote was recorded as follows: Yeas 58; Nays 41. [The Augusta Delegates, Stuart, Hanger and Craig voted in the negative.] The Enquirer says: "This vote prefigures the passage of the bill. Some of the negative votes were given, it is believed, with the view of making the bill as objectionable as possible, so as to increase the chances of its defeat when it comes up on the question of its passage. In its present shape it will have a decided majority."

On Saturday, the bill was amended, on motion of Mr. Watts, so as to impose a specific license-tax upon bar-keepers and retail-dealers of half the amount of the present license-tax. On motion of Mr. James, the provision to pay informers for convictions of violations of the law was stricken out. Mr. Dooley moved to strike out the tax of 32 cents per gallon upon wholesale dealers from the liquor bill, and to reduce the tax on retail dealers to 16 cents. Mr. Armstrong moved to amend by reducing the tax to 16 cents a gallon up to five gallons, and to 10 cents a gallon on all quantities over five gallons. The debate over these competing propositions was quite extended, and was engaged in by many members. The question was still pending at adjournment.

The Alexandria Gazette says that the million white majority of the voters of the country, who cast their ballots for Mr. Tilden, are complacently awaiting the consummation of the fraud on the 5th proximo, when Mr. Hayes will be quietly inaugurated. The democrats elect a list of speakers for the President fairly, but finding that they would not be allowed to inaugurate him, agreed, as the best thing that could be done under the circumstances, to leave the case to the disposal of a tribunal, the honor and integrity of the deciding portion of which they had, from their infancy, been led to respect and confide in. The result has proved that their confidence was not misplaced, and that the tribunal that at last three of the members of the Supreme Court of the nation are actuated by no higher motives than those which control the action of the most depraved slyster of the police courts, and that they have decided as important an issue as was ever left to arbitration upon quibbles and technicalities, scuffling the idea, vainly entertained by the people of the country, that a question of this kind before them was to determine whether Mr. Hayes or Mr. Tilden had received the majority of the votes cast on the 7th of November.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 26th. On the Pennsylvania Ineligible Elector the discussion in the House was quite fiery on the part of the Democrats. Mr. Hewitt was very severe upon Mr. Hoar, denouncing him in cutting terms for his perfidious action in and out of the Electoral Commission.

The theory that light which is transmitted through a blue medium, as blue glass, is a remedial agent in nervous complaints is now attracting the attention not only of the medical profession, but of the public generally. The theory is, that the blue medium arrests the rays which give light and heat and transmit those which possess chemical properties, and that these act beneficially upon the nervous system. We do not propose to discuss the theory, but suggest that it is in accordance with the laws of nature, and the sun are made to pass through a blue medium in reaching the earth. The circumambient air is blue, and it is for that reason that the sky looks blue, "deeply, darkly, and beautifully blue," when the vision is not intercepted by clouds or vapor. Pure water is also blue, as is shown wherever much depth of it exists. This color of the air and of pure water is not perceptible except when a large quantity is brought within view. It is owing to this color of the sky and the sea, the beasts of the field and all creeping things, as well as all vegetable growths, are bathed by Nature in the sun's rays transmitted through a blue medium.

We suggest this analogy as an argument in favor of the plausibility of the theory, and would recommend it to the consideration of our Pleasonton and other advocates of it. It is safe to follow the way indicated by Nature. The virtue of this mode of treatment cannot be certainly ascertained until many, many experiments have been made. It must be established by inductive and not a priori reasoning. DEATH OF JUDGE JNO. W. BROCKENBROUGH.—This distinguished citizen of this State died at his residence in Lexington on Monday last week, aged 79 years, 1 month and 26 days. The funeral services were held on the 23d inst. at his late residence and were conducted by Rev. Wm. N. Pendleton, assisted by several friends attended upon the occasion. His remains were interred in their last resting place. The solemn and impressive service of the Episcopal Church concluded the exercises at the grave, read by Dr. Pendleton.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. J. M. Layne died at his residence, near Libby, Bedford county, on Saturday inst., 17th instant. Mr. Layne was a hearty sportsman, and was in apparent good health until 12 o'clock, when he was taken suddenly ill and lived only two hours. Mr. Layne was in his forty-fourth year. He leaves a wife, three children, and numerous friends to mourn their loss. Eight times the Democratic members of the Electoral Commission made distinct propositions submitting evidence as to six different kinds of fraud in the Louisiana case, and every time the Republican Commissioners voted the proposition down. How can an administration of this kind be expected to make war upon rogues? Will not its very existence in power be a warning to all that before them was to determine whether Mr. Hayes or Mr. Tilden had received the majority of the votes cast on the 7th of November.

44th Congress, Second Session. SENATE.—Monday, Feb. 19th.—After the return of the bill from a joint session with the House, the democratic side demanded the reading of the decision of the electoral commission in the Louisiana case, and the objection thereto which had been presented in the joint session. This occupied considerable time after which the debate upon the decision was resumed. From the democratic side the decision were made by Messrs. Mazey, Kernan, Thurman, Bayard and Wallace, and in support of the decision by Messrs. Sherman, Hoar, and others. A substitute offered by Mr. Kernan declaring the election of the Tilden electors was rejected, yeas 28, nays 41—a strict party vote. A resolution confirming the decision of the commission, despite the objections presented, passed, yeas 41, nays 28. The democratic party vote—41 to 28.

HOUSE.—In the House, at 11 o'clock, the arrival of the Senate was announced, and the reading of the joint session of Congress was resumed. The report of the majority of the electoral commission, awarding the vote of Louisiana to Hayes and Wheeler, was read, and the objection thereto was presented by Senator Wallace and Representatives Gibson and Wheeler. The objection was sustained, and the bill was withdrawn. It was, however, so that the two houses might separately consider and decide the objections. As soon as the Senate had passed the bill, the House resumed its consideration of the bill, and the yeas adjourned.

On Friday the consideration of this bill was resumed. A Horror of the Sea. LIVING ON HUMAN FLESH FOR THIRTY-TWO DAYS—BUT ONE SURVIVOR OF A CREW OF FOURTEEN. BOSTON, Feb. 21.—A letter was received in this city yesterday from Capt. Kane, of the American schooner F. E. McDonald, dated at Guel, on the west coast of Africa, January 24th, in which he says that on his outward passage from Boston, whence he sailed December 17th, he fell in with the wreck of the British bark Maria, Capt. Grayson, having on board two survivors of a crew of fourteen men, the others having perished FROM EXPOSURE AND FAMINE.

The wreck was discovered in lat. 37 deg. 23 min., long. 22 deg. 30 min., but the masts gone and full of water. The two men were taken on board the schooner, but one of them died in four hours from loss of time. From the other survivor it was ascertained that the bark was bound from Darien, Ga., to Belfast, Ireland; that she sprung a leak in a gale and filled with water, so that it was impossible to save any provisions or fresh water. The lumber with which the vessel was loaded prevented her from sinking, but the weight of the masts and rigging, and the vessel on her beam ends until the masts broke away, when she righted and the men regained the deck. Having no food or water, however, they soon perished.

BEGAN TO DIE OF STARVATION, and as soon as one died the rest subsisted upon the dead body, and soon until only two were left. The survivor, whose name was James M. Lind, and who belongs to Belfast, Ireland, says that only small portions of the dead bodies could be eaten. It was thirty-two days before the disaster occurred until the blood and then divided the heart and lungs, and the rest of the body was eaten. SUCCESSFUL BEAR-BOSSING.—On Friday last a colored boy, aged twelve years, living at Dr. Caldwell's, on Greenbrier river, whilst out hunting a short distance from his home, discovered a bear sunning her cubs on the hillside near a cliff, where, it is supposed, she had taken up her winter-quarters. When within fifty feet of her he discharged his rifle (consisting of squirrel shot), taking effect in her lower jaw, which, not rendering her hors de combat, resulted in a free fight. The boy retreated a few paces and treated her to a second lead, firing which she stood erect, the second discharge taking effect near her heart. The youthful hero and his dog set about gathering up the spoils, consisting of three cubs and two hundred pounds of meat, the fat cutting four inches through. —Greenbrier Independent, Feb. 24th.

Previous to sending such men as John Sherman to Louisiana to secure an honest (1) count of the election returns President Grant said: "No man worthy of the office of President should be willing to hold it if counted in or placed there by fraud." It is pertinent to enquire what President Grant thinks of Gov. Hayes, who is entirely "willing to hold" albeit counted in or placed there by fraud? Yes, let it go forth on the wings of all the winds, that one man has been found, and he is the appointed of the Radical party, who is willing to accept a fraudulent title to the highest office in the Republic!—Lynchburg Virginian.
