

Stanton Spectator. WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1888.

Augusta Democrats. You have been called again to action. You are now to choose representatives to the State Convention of the party which convenes at Norfolk on the 16th inst.

The National and State administrations of government are capable, pure, and above reproach. You are to take counsel together in your primary and State deliberations for the purpose of continuing good government and impressing the people with the responsibility resting upon them in maintaining it.

You are preparing now for participation in the coming campaign which is one of great importance. Depending upon its results, will be the shape given to Federal legislation and the policy to govern the Federal administration for the next four years, if not for a longer time.

In upholding the administration of Mr. Cleveland, you best maintain your own rights and liberties, and bind stronger your alliance with the Democratic party—the only real National Union party of the country.

The line of duty for all Democrats is plain, and, especially at this time, they should promptly follow in its course. The party in Augusta county has a large delinquency of the past to correct.

The President has nominated Melville W. Fuller, of Chicago, to be Chief Justice of the United States. This is said by able men, who know Mr. Fuller well, to be a most excellent nomination.

During Mr. McMillin's speech on the tariff bill in the House on April 24th, Mr. O'Ferrall asked him if he would amend the bill to discontinue the impression existing in the minds of some that by the duty on coal and iron ore was removed.

Mr. McMillin replied that the committee thought there was no ground for such an impression, but that if it did exist, that the bill should be so amended as to remove all conceivable doubt upon the subject.

The President has decided to visit New York on the 30th of next month in order to participate in the Grand Army memorial exercises in that city and Brooklyn.

Mr. Langston has been elected to the Republican Convention of Petersburg, Va., held a convention Monday evening April 23rd, and elected delegates to the State convention.

Mr. Langston said that not a single man from his ward had been selected. He knew how Mahone had displayed his ability in the Senate, but he could not gag the negro.

A Strong Point Well Taken. Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, says the New York Herald, put the whole tariff discussion in a nutshell in his speech of April 24th.

Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, says the New York Herald, put the whole tariff discussion in a nutshell in his speech of April 24th. His summing up of the case between the Republicans and the Democrats was done in a single sentence, which the workmen of this country would do well to keep in mind.

Mr. McMillin said—namely, "whether we will reduce the tax on whiskey or the tax on clothing—in other words, reduce the tax on that without which men can live and prosper, or on that which is essential to their existence and comfort." He then added, crowding the question at issue into a terse and forcible statement of fact, that the matter "arrows itself down to a contest between the drunkards' appetites and the poor man's back."

The point is well taken, and it can't be evaded. This is the poor man's country, and ours is a poor man's government. If there is any merit in our institutions it consists of the jealousy with which they guard the rights of the laboring classes, in the opportunities which they afford them to improve their condition, educate their children, and surround their prime duty—which is domestic conveniences which no other people on the face of the planet are permitted to enjoy.

Gifts of respect. It is time that respect, as merchants combined with consumers for the purpose of all gift, prize and lottery schemes in connection with the sale of merchandise.

It is time that respect, as merchants combined with consumers for the purpose of all gift, prize and lottery schemes in connection with the sale of merchandise. These schemes are not only illegitimate business and to the morals of the community, but in the extent in which they are being carried on, nothing more or less than a deluge of swindle and mismanagement.
