

Stanton Spectator.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1890.

Out-Door Pleasures.

The best contented and the happiest people are those who do not allow themselves to be overtaken with work. There is a theory that to make up for the lost time and the sluggishness and the idleness and laziness of many, it is necessary that others not only fill a proper quota of industry but transcend it to bring about an equilibrium of labor, and that that rule applies in a just dispensation of nature laws—fallure on one hand must be compensated by extra exertion on the other. Eight hours for labor, eight hours for sleep and refreshment of the body, and eight hours for intellectual culture and proper amusement in the best system of economy which can be laid down, and if uniformly observed as far as possible will bring the happiest results to the human family. It is admitted that it cannot be complied with in all instances, or in every pursuit, but those who are compelled to disregard it in any particular should not be slow to regain the extra expenditure of brain and muscle as soon as practicable.

In looking at this matter as it may be observed in towns and cities, there is great obligation resting upon the municipal government and a proper training of the tastes and dispositions of the population. Opportunities for out-door recreation and innocent pleasure should be features of municipal provision and watchfulness. The men and families of limited means are especially deserving of care in these respects, for if the public economy is not broad enough to place such opportunities within their reach, the whole community must suffer in the end. The Sabbath day should be wholly appropriated to the purposes of the Divine economy and its hours devoted to sacred and humane work. The public sentiment of the community should control the people on another line—that is, not to engage in physical and mental labor in business pursuits is not only attainable during the six days allotted for that department of life, but that it is an obligation resting upon all to divide their time according to the rules laid down.

A town no matter how small, should, if possible, have its park and fountains, and if they have flowing water through or near by so much the better. The street railway, the modern improvement, auxiliary in the best of features, especially for the slim purses, comes in with the best of opportunities for selling out from the workshop, from the desk, and from toll of all kinds when the hours allotted to work are over. Not to men and youths upon whom the duties and responsibilities of their station rest, but also within the home where women and children are of necessity domiciled during the heated hours, the beauties and blessings of the park will revive new life, and lure the mind and body to the rich enjoyments of open air and refreshing breezes of the evening hours.

The season for out-door enjoyment is at hand. The park wisely provided by our municipal government, it is true, has just been commenced, but it shows something of what its future excellence will be, not only in shade and fountains, in streams and wider limits, but the opportunities of recovering expended strength enfeebled by excessive labor. The tender, young trees are now putting forth their first foliage where they were transplanted for the happiness of the people of the city, and will become a crowning beauty as they grow full maturity.

MISS MARY LEE, the eldest daughter of Gen. R. E. Lee, has arrived in New York from Europe, and will be present at the unveiling of the equestrian statue of the General.

The Supreme Court of the United States denied the application for a writ of error in the behalf of William Kemmler, under sentence of death by electricity for murder in New York.

John Ruskin, the poet, is a veritable "sensitive plant" in regard to the weather. On a bright, clear day he is buoyant and elastic; on a wet day, moody and misanthropic.

The Baltimore and Ohio and Shenandoah Valley Railroad Companies have agreed to make a junction at the crossing west of Charlestown, W. Va., so that trains may be transferred from one road to the other.

Lightning struck a church at St. Maiklen, near Hildesheim, Germany, while a congregation was praying for a cessation of hail storms, which did great damage, and four persons were killed and twenty others injured.

By a late decision of the Interior Department, a man who says he contracted a pensionable disability while undergoing a sentence for desertion, has been granted a pension. In other countries, a military pension is an honor; in this, it is just the reverse.

The West-End Land Company of Charlottesville will have a public sale of some of their valuable lots on June 3rd and 4th. This company now has seven agents on the road, and has already disposed of a large number of lots.

George Francis Train is a fast train as he completed his trip around the world Saturday evening, arriving at Tacoma, Washington, at seven o'clock. The time from start to finish was 67 days 13 hours 3 minutes and 3 seconds.

It is believed that J. Taylor Ellison, mayor of Richmond, will be elected chairman of the Virginia democracy at a meeting of the State committee called for to-day Wednesday, vice Chairman Gordon, resigned on account of ill health.

The U. S. Supreme Court adjourned last Friday to meet on the second Monday of next October.

The sugar and carpet manufacturing interests of Philadelphia will be seriously injured by the McKinley tariff.

The greatest deposit of manganese ever found in the United States has been opened up at Tredgar, Calhoun county, North Carolina.

It is asserted that the republican leaders have determined to unseat more democratic members of the House in order to secure a safer majority.

Private Manning, who killed private Tieghe at Fort Monroe Thursday, was turned over to the United States marshal and taken to Norfolk for trial.

Miss Nora Wootton, the erratic young female who recently attempted the life of Dr. H. A. Sims, at Roanoke, has been acquitted on the ground of insanity.

Four young whales, each about seven feet long, appeared in the Thames, England, recently. They gambolled about in the river, while great crowds looked on.

A monument to soldiers and sailors was unveiled at Newport, R. I., Friday. Gen. Russell A. Alger, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, was one of the speakers.

A fine brood mare belonging to William Barnes, of Marshall, Mo., gave birth to three colts on Tuesday, May 20th. They are perfectly formed and as lively as crickets, though small in size.

Miss Mary Lee, the eldest daughter of Gen. R. E. Lee, has arrived in New York from Europe, and will be present at the unveiling of the equestrian statue of the General.

The Supreme Court of the United States denied the application for a writ of error in the behalf of William Kemmler, under sentence of death by electricity for murder in New York.

John Ruskin, the poet, is a veritable "sensitive plant" in regard to the weather. On a bright, clear day he is buoyant and elastic; on a wet day, moody and misanthropic.

The Baltimore and Ohio and Shenandoah Valley Railroad Companies have agreed to make a junction at the crossing west of Charlestown, W. Va., so that trains may be transferred from one road to the other.

Lightning struck a church at St. Maiklen, near Hildesheim, Germany, while a congregation was praying for a cessation of hail storms, which did great damage, and four persons were killed and twenty others injured.

By a late decision of the Interior Department, a man who says he contracted a pensionable disability while undergoing a sentence for desertion, has been granted a pension. In other countries, a military pension is an honor; in this, it is just the reverse.

The West-End Land Company of Charlottesville will have a public sale of some of their valuable lots on June 3rd and 4th. This company now has seven agents on the road, and has already disposed of a large number of lots.

George Francis Train is a fast train as he completed his trip around the world Saturday evening, arriving at Tacoma, Washington, at seven o'clock. The time from start to finish was 67 days 13 hours 3 minutes and 3 seconds.

It is believed that J. Taylor Ellison, mayor of Richmond, will be elected chairman of the Virginia democracy at a meeting of the State committee called for to-day Wednesday, vice Chairman Gordon, resigned on account of ill health.

The Virginia Commissioners to the World's Fair—Governor McKinney has recommended the Hon. John T. Harris, of Rockingham, Democratic, and General W. Campbell, of Norfolk, Republican, Commissioners from Virginia to the World's Fair. Colonel Alexander McDonald, of Lynchburg, and Mr. Heermans, of Montgomery county, are the Democratic and Republican alternates. These appointments are to be made by the President and confirmed by the Senate. There will be no opposition to them, as a matter of course.

Gen. Lee, who is to be chief marshal on the 29th at the unveiling of the R. E. Lee monument, will be superbly mounted. He has accepted the offer from Mrs. George Bennett of her iron-gray saddle horse. This animal is one of the most beautiful in Richmond, is 16 hands high, perfectly formed, has free action and is spirited. Gen. Lee, who is an excellent judge of horses, declared upon seeing the horse, "If I had hunted the State over I could not have found a finer animal."

Robert Ross, a young brakeman on the Panhandle road, dreamed on Thursday night last week that he was thrown under his train while coupling cars in the Cincinnati yard, and that one of his legs was cut off. On Saturday his dream came true exactly as related, except that when his leg was cut off his arm went too, and he was taken to the hospital in a dying condition.

The Empire State Shaken by an Earthquake.

At 7 o'clock last Sunday morning portions of the State of New York were shaken by an earthquake. At Groverville, large buildings were shaken, people were thrown out of chairs and out of beds, and glass was shattered.

The earthquake was followed by a loud, rumbling sound. A despatch from Utica says:—

"The Mohawk Valley was disturbed by a slight shock of earthquake, accompanied by lightning and heavy winds. The shock in this vicinity was very light, but increased in intensity to Montgomery county, where, at Fort Hunter, it was quite severe. At Little Falls dishes were rattled, and a rumbling as of distant thunder was heard. Fort Hunter buildings were shaken and beds moved so that the occupants were awakened. In Utica dishes were rattled, and some people reported an earthquake, but the shocks were hardly perceptible. No damage was done in any quarter. This is the first seismic phenomena of note here since 1858."

How REPUBLICANS FULFILL THEIR PROMISES.—It will be remembered that a very Republican speaker in Virginia during the last canvass asserted with great positiveness that, if a Republican President and Congress should be elected, the tobacco tax would certainly be abolished. A Republican President and a Republican Congress were elected, but they have refused to abolish the tobacco tax. Our Congressman, Hon. H. St. Geo. Tucker, moved to amend the Republican tariff by abolishing the tobacco tax, and the Republican Congress by a vote of 118 to 62 defeated it. Every Democrat but 5 voted for the amendment to abolish that tax, and Republicans voted against it. It is curious to note that thirty miles to the southwest point of the island, at 3 P. M. he supposed he was a long distance from the island. He could not find the island, and he was obliged to back out three miles, expecting to pass on the opposite side of the island. Instead, the vessel struck on Henning's rock, on the west side of the island, and the vessel was in a short time the Ouedia was a total wreck. The white men and thirty-three Chinese escaped in boats or floated on rafts. The white men and thirty-three Chinese were undoubtedly drowned, as they have never since been heard of. The Ouedia had on board the material for building a saltpetre mine, and that twenty miles to have been erected on the island.

Mr. John Overmeyer, ex-chairman of the republican State committee of Indiana, and ex-Speaker of the lower house of the legislature of that State, has left the republicanism of the United States, and has changed for goods, wares, or merchandise, or where such goods, wares, or merchandise are to be sold, and he has carried on board and shipped to the winter hotels in Bermuda. They will there be out on a train and slightly decocted, and after the decoction is over, the water which was on board and shipped to the winter hotels in Bermuda. They will there be out on a train and slightly decocted, and after the decoction is over, the water which was on board and shipped to the winter hotels in Bermuda.

The Glasgow Herald.

We have received the initial number of the Glasgow Herald, the publication of the new city of industries and commerce in Rockbridge county. The paper shows life and energy in the beginning, and announces its unflinching purpose of tireless work in behalf of development. It has a full and bright field before it for great usefulness and will achieve it. Its business, as well as the other departments of the paper, shows that the people manifest a just appreciation of a good newspaper as one of the most essential means of building up all their interests.

Mr. John Overmeyer, ex-chairman of the republican State committee of Indiana, and ex-Speaker of the lower house of the legislature of that State, has left the republicanism of the United States, and has changed for goods, wares, or merchandise, or where such goods, wares, or merchandise are to be sold, and he has carried on board and shipped to the winter hotels in Bermuda. They will there be out on a train and slightly decocted, and after the decoction is over, the water which was on board and shipped to the winter hotels in Bermuda.

Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Mr. Blaud, Democrat:— Mr. Korr, of Iowa, Mr. Chairman, the first objection there is to the gentleman's proposition is that it is a tariff system, and it would take away from all the revenues that were received from that system.

Watchman, What of the Night.

To those who have been schooled in adversity, who have, with one exception, been in the minority for the past 25 years, who have seen the good of the whole people disregarded that a few might prosper, who have seen partisanship rampant, and justice trampled upon, who have seen money squandered that bootie politics might succeed, can but take heart, press together more closely, and advance more boldly, inasmuch as they must be by the recent elections. First of all, they see Harrison, the pigmy, sheltering under his grand-pa's hat, discredited and repudiated in the eyes of the people.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Saved by the Proof-Reader.

HOW A WEDDING AND STOCK REPORT CAME TO BE MIXED.

In a certain Western newspaper office the gentleman whose business it is to report the fluctuations of the live stock market sits across from the rustic man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen, and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses of the chapel, a young man whose lot it falls to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalists. Both use the same kind of paper and their penmanship is not unlike.

Not long ago the wedding report was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding. These sheets were gathered up by the live-stock writer when he finished his report, and the two stories became mixed. This is what the zealous care of a proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from the public eye.

CONGRESS.

In the United States Senate Tuesday, May 28th, Mr. Stanford introduced a bill establishing a land loan bureau in the Treasury Department. The Senate spent a portion of the day in debate on the bill subjecting imported liquors to the provisions of the law of the several States. The death of the late Representative Kelley, of Pennsylvania, was formally announced, and a number of eulogies delivered.

The House passed the tariff bill by a vote of 164 yeas to 148 nays. Messrs. Coleman, of Louisiana, and Featherston, of Arkansas, being the only republicans voting with the democrats against the bill.

In the United States Senate, Thursday, May 30th, Mr. Stanford made a speech in favor of the free coinage of silver in support of the free coinage of silver.

The House was occupied on the river and harbor appropriation bill. The bill was passed by a vote of 164 yeas to 148 nays.

The session of the House was devoted to the consideration of the river and harbor bill. An evening session was held for the purpose of further discussing the bill.

In the United States Senate, Saturday, after a long discussion on the naval appropriation bill, the amendments to strike out the appropriation for the construction of the plants at Portsmouth, N. H., and Boston navy-yards were disagreed to.

The House was engaged on the river and harbor bill. The bill was passed by a vote of 164 yeas to 148 nays.

The United States Senate Monday passed the naval appropriation bill, including the appropriation for the construction of the plants at Portsmouth, N. H., and Boston navy-yards were disagreed to.

The House passed a number of District of Columbia bills, including the bill providing for the construction of a bridge and a bridge across the Eastern Branch at Benning's.

STANTON MARKETS. SPECTATOR OFFICE. STANTON, VA., MAY 27, 1890.

From very good opportunities, and observation to some extent and through an agency extending over a wider section of this part of the Valley, we have occasionally advised the country of the condition of growing wheat and grass, and a week ago furnished a summary of the intelligence which referred more conclusively to those interests.

On the 24th there were rains in this section of the Valley, but not of the general and refreshing character which appeared to fall over a wider extent of country on the 21st.

Our market there is only ordinary animation. Good wheat sells from 90 to 95 cents, and shippers as well as millers buying.

Wheat is arriving quite freely, and maintains a slight advance to-day from last week's figures.

The quotations are wholesale, not retail.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

RAICON—country cured, 100 lbs. 1.00

RAICON—country cured, 100 lbs. 1.00

RAICON—country cured, 100 lbs. 1.00

FLOORING—heart.

RAICON—country cured, 100 lbs. 1.00

WHY COUGH.

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its use.

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefit I have derived from your Cherry Pectoral. My child, from the use of your medicine, has been freed from cough and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining child. I feel that the first symptoms of