The pension papers were fixed up and she is returning to her home happy. She missed her way, but was put in the right direction when she reached here.

Along the C-W
In Rockingham

Some Fine Farms and Busy Towns
--A Word About Bridgewater, Etc., Etc., Etc.

Augusta county may have a greater reality value than Rockingham, but that is probably because it has a greater area. However that may be Rockingham has some of the finest farm lands to be found in the Shenandoah Valley,—for that matter so has Augusta,—but there is no discounting the Rockingham lands. Fertile, well kept, undulating, dotted here and there with handsome barns and residences, the landscape presents a beautiful picture of rural prosperity. In speaking of its wealth and varied resources a gentleman with whom we were traveling summed up the situation as he saw it in these words, "It's a little Empire in itself!" An enthusiastic expression to be sure, but when you have traveled over the county, especially at this, the harvest season, you are apt to agree with him. It is certainly a goodly country and calculated to excite admiration.
From Elkton west, along the line of the C-W. Railway the panorama is very pleasing.
The banner cornfield in this section and the finest we have seen, is the 40 acre field on the bottom lands of W. T. Southall just west of Elkton. This field and the one adjoining it embrace about 80 acres and all is well grown and in tassle. Further on and before reaching McGaheyville we see the farm and residence of Prof. J. H. Bader, a former honored citizen of Staunton. Prof. Bader is just now adding to the attractiveness of his home by the erection of a large front porch. Kezletown the home village of State Senator Geo. B. Keezle, is in the midst of a beautiful country; the senator's place itself being one of the prettiest. At Harrisonburg we noticed that the city was spreading in all directions. The extension of Main street has built up almost to the C-W station, and if one drives down that thoroughfare to the business part of the town he will find on either side a number of very attractive and well kept homes.
It was our good fortune to spend the night at Bridgewater at the hospitable inn kept by Mrs. Laura A. Irvine. From the depot the drive is down a long stretch of Main street leading by a number of pretty homes, attractive, amid abundant shade and green lawns. In the direction of the college the town is building up rapidly and all are nice homes—many of them handsome. Perhaps it is natural that a town should build in the direction of its principal seat of learning. At all events Bridgewater has built out to and beyond its college—a co educational institution of real merit. The college itself has set the pace in progress by inaugurating a policy of expansion that has in recent years greatly increased the buildings and its capacity for efficient college work. This institution prepares its students for the University of Virginia where its graduates have acquitted themselves with distinguished honor and where two of them—Messrs. Geo. Flory and John W. Wayland—received the degree of Ph. D. at the close of the last term.
Bridgewater is also a good town from a business point of view. It has large stores, a prosperous bank, a large flouring mill and other enterprises. The mill has an abundance of water power, supplied by a large dam across North River. Mr. D. N. Wilson, formerly of Churchville, is at the head of this enterprise, receiving valuable assistance from another son of Augusta county, Mr. Edward White, whose duties are those of head miller. But for that matter both Staunton and Augusta have contributed to the business success of Bridgewater. Mr. D. C. Graham, formerly of Staunton, and Mr. D. N. Wilson are partners in a department store, the largest in the town. Mr. L. C. Sanger of Augusta, has a clerkship with them. Mr. S. M. Woodward has charge of the drug store. Mr. C. N. Hiner is manager of a manufacturing plant near the C-W depot which is just now beginning operations.
Dr. G. F. Holler, a practicing physician, has bought and is improving a valuable Main street residence property. His new medical office—a brick building—occupies a convenient place on the lot. Mr. James R. Shipman, cashier of the Planters Bank, was for some years clerk in the drug store of Hughes & Bell, Staunton. Mr. J. C. Baxter, while still a resident of Augusta county, owns one of the handsomest old homes in the town—a colonial house with ample grounds in the heart of the town which he has recently improved and beautified. Mr. D. S. Long, a former member of the Stone wall Brigade band, has for some years been engaged in the dry goods business at Bridgewater. These and many others from Augusta have gone over to cast their lot with Rockingham.
A striking feature in the make up of Bridgewater is the comfortable home life of its people. Nearly every residence has its ample grounds and its well tilled garden. We have never before seen so many fine gardens. The soil is rich and loose and the land lies level, in fact the surrounding country generally speaking is very fine and the lands rich and productive. There is scarce a prettier agricultural section anywhere than that which surrounds Bridgewater.
Last week we met at Bridgewater the Rev. A. B. Woodin, pastor of the Baptist church at Waynesboro, who had been for several days a guest in the home of Col. G. T. Barbee, the sage of Bridgewater. Col. Barbee is remarkable not only for his advanced age, but for his mental vigor. He is as bright as when a young man, and seasoned by the experiences of nearly a hundred years. The last day of this month he will celebrate his 93rd birthday. He has lived under the administrations of all the presidents of the United States except Washington, Adams and Jefferson, and his reminiscences of the early days of the republic are very entertaining and instructive. Especially so are those relating to the Mexican war, and the causes that led up to that great epoch making period.

Local Notes of Interest.

Clem Brothers mean to see to it that there is no danger of an ice famine this hot weather. Early in the season they added to their factory plant on Central avenue, greatly increasing its capacity. With this equipment they can turn out daily about 40 tons of ice. They also have in connection with the plant a cold storage department which can accommodate about 65 beef carcasses.
Friday night last District Deputy Grand Master R. J. Kennedy went to Craigville where he installed the following officers of Craigville Lodge No. 106, I. O. O. F.: C. S. Burgess, noble grand; P. R. Canley, vice grand; B. E. Vint, secretary; W. W. Mathews, treasurer; W. L. McLaughlin, chaplain; R. S. Reid, warden; E. S. Ryan, right supporter to noble grand, and P. R. Davis, left supporter to noble grand.
Mr. Samuel W. Kaylor, a merchant at Shenando, was seriously and probably fatally shot by Samuel P. Garrison, on Saturday last, at that place. The cause of the shooting arose over a dispute about a bill. Mr. Kaylor being shot while in his store. Garrison was quickly taken to Harrisonburg and lodged in jail. Mr. Kaylor was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for treatment.
R. C. Anderson, trustee, is advertising for sale a valuable small farm about four miles from Staunton on the Port Republic road. This will make a valuable little home. Sale Monday, August 26th.
Commissioners Hackman and Bumgardner offer for sale at public auction on Saturday, August 24th, a valuable farm near Sheridan, and a house and lot in the village. See ad. in another column for particulars.
There being no other candidate to enter the primary, the Democratic committee on Wednesday declared Gen. Edward Echols the party nominee to succeed himself in the Senate.
Madison district in Orange county voted on Saturday by a majority, Gordonville giving 10 majority for the drys and Orange C. H. 19 for the wets.
The name of the Virginia Female Institute has been changed by the corporation commission to "Stuart's Hall."

The Dunsmore Business College.
This excellent college for the business training of young men and women will open its 35th session on Tuesday, Sept. 3d. Its present prospects for a full attendance, were never brighter, and in this is its president, Prof. Dunsmore, to be congratulated. In its 35 years of usefulness the college has turned out an army of industrious young business men and women, prepared for the keen rivalry of battle for existence that the busy world has in waiting for them. In this practical age men of affairs look to results rather than to fine spun theories or ideals. From this view point they are noted for their students stand the test, measuring up fully to the demands of an exacting age. Practical business men scattered over several States have, therefore, come to regard Dunsmore's as a supply house from which to draw when in need of trained accountants, stenographers or typewriters. To have had the training and the endorsement of this college is about equivalent to the early refusal of some responsible and desirable position. In the past two years the number of good positions secured by Dunsmore students through the assistance of that institution number about 166. These are actual figures and are verified by a comparison with an official list now before us. Such practical endorsement of a business training school speaks better for it than any fine words or friendly expressions could suggest.

Death of a Lovely Christian Lady.
Mrs. Jennie E. Litman, wife of Mr. F. W. Litman of this city, died July 20, 1907, at Mt. Elliott Springs, Va., where she had been for the last three weeks in the hopes of benefiting her health. She had been sick for the last five months and bore her great suffering with patience and Christian fortitude. Never uttering a complaint, Mrs. Litman was a woman of lovely Christian character, and was beloved by all who knew her, having many friends in this city, the short time she lived here who extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family. She was the mother of six children, of whom three are living, namely: Mrs. S. A. Lesley of the county, and Mrs. J. H. Tudor, and Miss Estelle Litman of this city, and grandmother of six. Mrs. Litman was 52 years, 2 weeks and 6 days old at the time of her death. She was a consistent member of the Baptist church of Covington, Va., where her remains were taken on Monday from Mt. Elliott Springs for interment.

Belmont—Misses M. B. Scott and Ruth Pfaff.
Mint Spring—Misses Sallie Christian and Bettie Jones.
Bolivar—Misses Lillian Hamilton and Ruby Hamilton.
Aber Hill—Miss Pearl Keister.
Staunton—Miss Sibert Noon.
Oak Grove—Miss Anna St. C. Tate.
Mt. Olivet—Miss Florence Drake.
Folly Mills—Miss Adela Berry.

Singular at Least.
The following has been received from the Confederate Home at Pikeville, Md.: "We have reached the limit at the home. A negro orphan asylum will hold a lawn fete here tomorrow, Wednesday, at Gen. J. T. Wheeler's invitation. It is the Elizabeth's Negro Orphan Asylum, 315 St. Paul street. The old soldiers are much worked up over it, not knowing that the grounds of the Confederate Home were to be used for that purpose."

After you have suffered from eye aches

For awhile you will appreciate the immense relief that comes from the wearing of properly fitted glasses. All the burning sensations cease. And all the aches and pains. And where discomfort tormented you now, now absolute eye comfort. This change can be brought about in a very short time, indeed—and we are ready to undertake it at any time you say.
No charge for anything but the glasses. We grind our own lenses.

Trustee's Sale

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Trustee under a certain deed of trust, executed by A. H. V. Long and husband, dated January 16th, 1896, and duly recorded in the County Clerk's office of Augusta County, in Book 47, at page 216, default having been made in the payment of the debt secured in said deed of trust in the sum of five hundred and thirty two dollars and no cents, and being required so to do by the holder of said debt, I will offer for sale at public auction, in front of the court house in the city of Staunton, on Monday, August 26th, 1907, at 12 o'clock noon, that certain real estate passing under said deed of trust, situated in Beverly Manor District, Augusta county, about four miles from the city of Staunton, on the Port Republic road, being described as three parcels in said deed of trust, but all constituting one tract, and containing in the aggregate about 39 acres, be the same more or less.
This property is located in a splendid neighborhood, has on it a good frame dwelling house, stable and other out-buildings, and considerable fruit of good varieties, and will make a nice home for any one wanting a small farm near the city of Staunton.
TERMS OF SALE CASH. But better arrangements may be made by the purchaser with the holder of the debt secured in said deed of trust, if such is desired.
For further information apply to the undersigned at the office of E. J. Cushing, Grover Building, Staunton, Va.

Distressing Accident.
One of the most distressing accidents of recent days was that which occurred Saturday morning at Basic City, by which Mr. M. W. Quarles lost his life. He was on his way to the depot from his home to take the early train for Staunton, and for convenience was walking down the N. & W. track. The Southbound passenger train was at the depot, and hearing a whistle he stepped from one track to the other and was struck by a rapidly moving freight train and instantly killed. Mr. Quarles was the son of Peter and Mary E. Quarles, was born in Caroline county, Va., and was about fifty-nine years of age. He married Miss Susan Booker, of Charlotte county, Virginia. Mr. Quarles entered the confederate army when very young and was a member of the 4th Virginia cavalry. He was one of seven brothers, six of whom served in the confederate army; he is a brother of Judge J. M. Quarles of this city, who was the youngest of the family, and the only one now living. He leaves surviving him his wife and one daughter, Miss Lula Quarles, of Basic City, and one son, Mr. Edward N. Quarles, of California. He was at one time a member of the board of supervisors of Augusta county from South river district and was a candidate for the house of delegates at the time of his death. He was very popular with all who knew him, and his sad and untimely death cast a gloom over the tire community. He taught school for a number of years at Waynesboro, where he resided the greater part of his life. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon and was attended by a large concourse of friends.

Mrs. Caroline Riley.
Mrs. Caroline Riley, widow of Mr. J. D. Riley, died Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Powell, on Washington street. Mrs. Riley was Miss Caroline Dull and was born and reared near Staunton. She had not been good for some time but she seemed unusually well the day of her death, and went out in the back yard and in a few moments Mrs. Powell heard a groan and rushed out and found her mother lying on her face. She spoke to her, but received no answer, and with assistance carried her into the house. A doctor arrived very soon and said that death had been instantaneous and from heart trouble. She leaves two children, Mrs. Powell and Miss Bessie Riley.

To Contest Local Option Election.
Saturday the local Anti-Saloon League Committee, through their attorney, Mr. T. K. Hackman, gave notice that they will contest the election held on Friday, July 12th, for local option, in which the city went by 24 majority. The grounds for the contest are the alleged voting of non-residents, illegal registration, payment of poll tax for votes by the saloon element, bribery and misconduct of election judge, use of blue and red pencils destroying secrecy of ballots and other irregularities. The ballots were inspected Saturday but not counted.
The saloon men have thirty days in which to prepare their side of the case, and it is likely the trial will come up at the September term of the corporation court.

Hoffman—Beale.
A pretty wedding was celebrated Tuesday at the home of the bride in Buchanan, Va., when Miss Lucy Preston Beale and Mr. Oscar Caperton Hoffman were united in marriage. The bride, who is a lovely young girl, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Radford Beale, and has a large circle of friends. Mr. Hoffman is an old Staunton boy, but for several years has been engaged in business at Buchanan, where he has been very successful. The Sunday Times-Dispatch had an excellent photograph of Mr. Hoffman and his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ott of Roanoke, have returned to this city, after a pleasant visit to the home of Mr. H. A. Davis near Mint Spring.

North Carolina Rate Law Invalid.

Asheville, N. C. July 22.—The penalty clause of the new state bill was declared unconstitutional and void by United States Judge Pritchard today. James H. Wood, district passenger agent of the Southern, and C. Wilson, the ticket agent of the same road, who were recently sentenced to thirty days on the chain gang for violation of the law, were discharged on habeas corpus proceedings.
In his decision Judge Pritchard said that the penalties inflicted by the statute would close the doors to a judicial hearing, and would amount to two and a half million dollars a day if the penalty was enforced on the sale of each ticket, which is eight times more than the amount involved in the original suit. Also that it would do violence to the county which exists between the state and federal courts. While not imputing any improper motives to officials or state courts, Judge Pritchard remarked that if such a course of conduct was permitted to be pursued it would have the effect of defeating the jurisdiction of the United States courts.

Killed near Swoope.
About 6 o'clock Thursday morning of last week a colored man found the dead body of Mr. Isaac Bosserman, a few hundred yards west of Swoope depot lying near the Chesapeake and Ohio railway track. Part of the top of his head was split off. Mr. Bosserman was about 55 years old and lived at West View. He went to the home of one of his wife's relatives at Christians Wednesday afternoon and left there about 12 o'clock Wednesday night for his home, and how he met with the accident by which he lost his life is not known. His wife, who was a Miss Davis, and seven children survive him—Jas., Lee, Walter and Luther Bosserman, and Misses Edie, Janet and Grace Bosserman. He was well known in that section of the county, having for some time been farming for Mr. J. Lester Hoy.

The Price of Thread to be Doubled.
The Baltimore Sun says: Cotton thread, until a short time ago the most stable in price of all the staples, selling the country over for 5 cents a spool, is to be advanced again, so that the retail price will be 10 cents. On May 29 there was an advance which brought the retail price to 6 and 7 cents.
Cotton thread for domestic use is manufactured almost exclusively by a trust. Increased cost of raw material and an advance in wages is the reason given for the contemplated increase in price. Independent manufacturers declare that neither of these reasons is a good one, for when cotton was selling much higher than it is now, thread retailed for 5 cents.

GERMAN DAY!

—AT THE—
JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION,
Thursday, August 1, 1907.
All Germans and their Descendants are Urgently Invited to be present.
GOOD PROGRAMME.
COME ALL! COME ALL!

They Come in Car-Load Lots.

Geo. Dyer, Point Breeze, has just shipped a solid car load of Race Horses to the
STAUNTON HORSE SHOW
These horses will race here, then through the Ohio Circuit
Miss Swartz and Miss Blain of Md., have entered in the ladies' running race. This is a very attractive feature of the Horse Show, as it is something absolutely new. Other entries for this race from all parts have been received.
Horse Show horses of the highest type will be here. Don't miss this SHOW as it is the best you have ever seen. Runners by the score.
Get a season ticket at Tom Hogshead's [3] day for $1. Dinner and refreshments served on the grounds by the King's Daughters. They give it their personal attention.
Buy a Bex for $20 (3) Days. Each Box covered with canvas.

D. S. THOMAS

MANUFACTURER OF FIVE VEHICLES, BRIDGEWATER, VA.
Pleasure Vehicles of all kinds and styles. I carry a large line of my own manufactured work, also a full line of Western vehicles at prices to suit. Come to see my vehicles before buying and be convinced that I can please you both in style, quality and price. I have just put in a rubber tire outfit and can tire your wheels or repair your old rubber tires
