Richardson. Only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties were present.

ENCAMPMENT BANQUET.

DELIGHTFUL EVENING SPENT BY STAUNTON ODD FELLOWS AND THEIR GUESTS.

On last Friday night Central Encampment of Odd Fellows held a banquet and smoker in their lodge room from 8 to 11 o'clock.

At 8:30 the assembly was called to order by Mr. J. C. Williams, who called on Rev. G. W. Stover to ask a blessing after which the feast of good things so beautifully supplied by the committee was most heartily enjoyed. The long table was beautifully and artistically arranged in the center of the room and presented a handsome appearance. This was the work of Mr. R. J. Kennedy, one of the committee-men. More than one hundred persons partook of the banquet which consisted of oysters, coffee, celery, pickle, tongue, ham, oranges, bananas, ice-cream and cake. After all had been served Mr. A. S. Woodhouse, who was master of ceremonies, and who made up in gestures and antics what he lacked in eloquence of speech, and greatly amused the audience, introduced Mr. J. C. Williams, who made a fine address on several branches of the order. His highly complimentary remarks about the women of the Rebekah Lodge and the sax in general, not only amused, but greatly pleased, the members of the "fair sex" who were present. He was followed by Rev. W. M. Compton who made a short, but earnest address and by Sergeant A. D. Johnson who spoke of the benefits derived from membership in the order and of the home for orphans and aged Old Fellows in particular. Mr. Geo. E. Bright was then called for who owing to his innate modesty tried to back, but finally came forward like a little tin soldier and made his speciality of the Canton, a branch of the order not previously mentioned. The speaking was interspersed with music by the Italian orchestra, and when the company dispersed cigars were passed around to the gentlemen.

A most congenial happy crowd would be hard to find and every one expressed themselves as highly pleased with the evening's entertainment which was gotten up by a committee consisting of Messrs. A. S. Woodhouse, R. J. Kennedy and C. E. Stoneburner.

Surprised Their Friends.

Mr. Curtis D. Broughton of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Miss Alice Terry Marr of this city, were quietly married on March 2nd at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. M. Compton. The affair had been kept quiet by the members of the bride's family until Monday, when the groom, who was a student at the Staunton Military Academy, decided to leave school and then the secret was let out. Mrs. Broughton is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Marr. At present they are staying with the bride's parents, not having decided on their future plans. The marriage is the result of a romance, the young couple having known each other for only a few months, as this was the groom's first session at the school.

Adelaide Thurston, the brilliant, charming and talented young actress, who comes here in her new and greatest play "The Girl From Out Yonder" has won for herself a place in the hearts of young girls in every city in which she has appeared, that she is more jealous of than the proud position she has attained in her profession. With the thousands of young admirers of both sexes it is pleasant to contemplate what a charming child is growing up with her girl friends. At the Beverly Theatre on Friday night, March 20th.

The Virginia Hotel.

Staunton has long known the name "Virginia Hotel." It was for years the only hotel of the town, sheltering the traveler and catering to the public. Later on it ceased to be kept by anyone and stood an untenanted and unsightly reminder of bygone days. Then later it was purchased by Mr. B. L. Parlow, a well known business man of this city, and he began at once to rehabilitate it after plans of a comprehensive nature. The plans at first entered upon grew in size and costliness, as such plans often do, and Mr. Parlow at last found the undertaking too great for an individual, and a company was formed which carried to their present results the plans as they are now. On Wednesday evening the house was thrown open to visitors, and from 3 to 5:30 ladies were invited, and during those hours a throng assembled and parlors, lobby and halls were filled with visitors, who were delighted with the surroundings. At 7 o'clock dinner was served to several hundred invited guests and those travelers who had found their way to the hotel, of whom there was quite a number. The Stone wall band rendered well selected numbers in the lobby, which was packed with visitors. The sidewalks and street in front were also thronged with crowds who looked in through the broad plate windows at the animated scene. Everything about the hotel is absolutely new and up-to-date. In its appointments it excels anything yet attempted here. Its lobbies are spacious, tasteful and attractive, its bed rooms, to some 30 of which are elegant bath rooms, are large, well lighted, well ventilated, and furnished with the best beds and other furniture. There is a quiet refinement about the place which must prove very attractive and must tend to draw people to Staunton.

The management is under Mr. L. C. Ware who is well known to, and popular with the traveling public. Mr. Hal. E. Colner is day clerk, Mr. A. W. Graves is night clerk, and C. H. Fitch is porter; which makes a strong and acceptable combination. All are well known and popular young men of Staunton. R. N. Page, Esq., of Hermitage, and Messrs. P. M. and J. M. Colner who are associated with him, are men of ample means, in conjunction with Mr. Parlow, have carried out the plans, furnished and equipped the hotel and thrown it open to the public. It is not our intention to describe the hotel in detail, we have not the space, but we assure all who may visit it that they will be pleased. Persons from the county calling for a meal, or between 2 rains, especially ladies, will be welcome and find the parlors always open to them.

Think It is a Subterfuge.

Mr. Turner K. Hackman of this city, has filed with the State Corporation Commission a complaint against the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway for its refusal to sell him a ticket at Alexandria to Staunton for train No. 1.

This refusal, he alleges, compelled him, in order to reach Staunton on the train in question, to buy a ticket on to Covington at an additional cost of $1.40.

The lawyer charges, that the railroad, by acting as it did, has violated the two-cent rule now in force in this State.

He wants the Commission to adjudicate the matter, for he holds that the existing arrangement is a subterfuge to resist the enforcement of the two-cent rule.

The Chesapeake and Ohio, it appears, does not indicate a stop at Alexandria for train No. 1, and in order to take on passengers there must be flagged, and the road designates the stations for which this train will be flagged, and Staunton is not one of the stations. Many persons bound for Washington have discovered the advantage of buying a ticket to Alexandria at two cents a mile, and then paying twenty-five cents to the conductor to go on to Washington. Not returning, they ride out to Alexandria by trolley ahead of time and there buy a two-cent rate ticket on to their destination in Virginia.

Mr. Hackman alleges that No. 1 is scheduled not to stop in Alexandria so as to delay people and make them take the late night train and thus to discourage the business.

Circuit Court.

The case of C. A. Fisher vs. H. F. Harnsberger, was decided in favor of the plaintiff, and a verdict for $102.18 rendered.

The case of King vs. the C. & O. Ry. was decided in favor of the company. On the petition of J. P. Tribbett for a change in the road near Hebron church, Judge Letcher took the matter under advisement.

Mr. Hamilton Rogers of Waynesboro, qualified to practice in this court. W. K. Booker was appointed constable for South River district in place of W. J. Hulvey, who failed to qualify.

The case of Drumheller vs. Drumheller in the circuit court was decided Wednesday. Mrs. Drumheller was given one horse and buckboard and harness and Mr. Drumheller the other horse.

Mr. Geo. A. Shields qualified as deputy treasurer.

The bill for the school for the colored deaf and blind has been passed. It carries an appropriation of $20,000 for farm and buildings, and $5,000 for running expenses.

Evelyn Seeks Separation.

Col. Franklin Bartlett, the lawyer, who has been engaged by Mrs. William Thaw to assist in straightening out the troubles of her son, Harry K. Thaw, is quoted as making the following statement regarding the break in the relations between Thaw and his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

"The reports that have been printed to the effect that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has been shadowed for evidence in divorce proceedings are without truth. Mrs. William Thaw is inclined to be fair and just with her son's wife. Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw desires a separation from her husband, and her husband hopes that there will be a reconciliation. There has been an estrangement between them."

SOON CALL STATE COMMITTEE.

DELEGATES TO DENVER WILL LIKE- LY BE INSTRUCTED FOR BRYAN.

The Richmond Journal of yesterday says: As soon as the legislators get well out of the way, Lieutenant Governor Elyson, who is chairman of the State Democratic Committee, will call a meeting of that body, and once it accomplishes the work mapped out for it to do, the politicians of this state will have plenty to talk about.

The State committee will meet in this city the latter part of this month, and it is altogether probable that it will select Richmond as the place for holding the State convention. Other Old Dominion towns, it is true, would like to land the State convention, but sentiment seems in favor of the Virginia capital.

It will devolve on the State convention to choose delegates to the National Democratic Convention, which will begin its work in Denver, Col., on July 7th. Virginia is entitled to twenty-four delegates to the national convention. The State convention itself will choose four of these—delegates at large—together with a like number of alternates, while the ten districts will be entitled to two each, as well as to a like number of alternates. The district delegates are recommended by the district delegations and their appointments are ratified by the general convention.

The two United States Senators and the Governor will certainly be three of the four delegates at large, while the fourth prize, it is predicted, will go either to Congressman Flood or to Hon. Allen Caperton Braxton. Neither of these gentlemen is making an effort to land the honor, though each probably is "receptive."

Nobody who is any sort of political prophet at all doubts for a second that Bryan will be the Democratic nominee and it may be—in fact, is quite probable—that the Virginia delegates will be instructed for him.

The State convention, by the way, will have other work to do besides the election of delegates to Denver. It will choose a State chairman, a member of the national committee, two presidential electors at large and one for each congressional district in the State.

It would astonish everybody if Mr. Elyson failed to be re-elected State chairman, while he will also be made chairman of the committee on resolutions. It has been estimated that the expenses of the trip to Denver will reach at least $200, as it may be that the selection of delegates will have to be confined largely to those to whom "money is no object."
