The ceremony being performed in an impressive manner by Rev. D. H. Kern of the Methodist church, the bride's pastor. The parlor, dining-room and hall were profusely decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, the color scheme being white and green. At the appointed hour Miss Agnes Lyons rendered the wedding march and the bride and groom with Miss Carrie Fretwell, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Mr. Robert Herndon, brother of the groom, as best man, entered the pretty parlor where the knot was tied that made them one. "The aisles of the orchard, with blossoms are drifting
In the garden the tulip, its pale stalk is lifting
A goblet of gems to the skies?"
thus joining in the grand dress parade of Dame Nature as she unfolds her scented robes, under the cloudless skies of sunny April.

Mrs. Dunlap visited her brother, G. M. Bear recently.

Mrs. Milton Eucher and Miss Lightner visited her nephew, Julian Lightner, who has been prostrated with inflammatory rheumatism. He is some better at this writing.

This will permit of regular morning service weekly and in many respects this will be preferable. His mid-week prayer service has been a delight to many who have had the privilege of attending.

At present the prospect is very flattering for fruit of all varieties.

Mr. Monteuire Campbell of Amherst, is a guest at the home of Dr. J. S. Blair.

CRITICISM OF APPOINTMENT.
MANY THINK SPEAKER BYRD SHOULD NOT HAVE ACCEPTED.
Richmond, Va., April 19.—Many people here and in this section are openly criticizing the appointment of Speaker Richard E. Byrd to the position of special counsel for state institutions and departments, some claiming the place is nothing less than a state office and that Speaker Byrd has no right to accept such an appointment.

One state official yesterday said the position looked to him as if it were simply created for Mr. Byrd. Others who are claiming he should not accept, are close personal friends and supporters of the Speaker.

One attorney has made the statement that a test case may be made of the matter in the courts, and predicts that someone—a republican—may take the matter up. It is thought and expressed by many that if he accepts the appointment Mr. Byrd, who has been a favorite in Virginia political circles for years, will kill his political career.

Governor Mann when asked regarding the matter stated that he did not see how the position could be regarded as a state office. He takes the stand that if Mr. Byrd is simply subject to the assignments given him by the attorney-general and the governor, and is free to continue his law practice, he sees no construction of the law which makes the position an office.

Hanger-Clemmer.
One of the prettiest home weddings for a long time, was that which took place on Thursday night of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Clemmer near Arbor Hill, when their eldest daughter, Miss Lucy, became the bride of Mr. Wm. C. Hanger of Washington, D. C., Rev. J. F. Bouch, the bride's pastor, performing the ceremony, assisted by Rev. C. L. Marks. The bride's sister, Miss Lelia Clemmer was maid of honor, and Mr. Blair Hanger, the groom's best man. Miss Maude Baylor played the wedding march, and rendered some sweet and appropriate music for the waiting guests. The bride is an extremely popular young lady and will be greatly missed in the community, especially in church work, where she labored with untiring energy. The groom is a mail agent on the Southern Ry., running out of Washington, and after an extended tour the newly married couple will reside in that city. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white messaline silk, trimmed in crystal and pearl ornaments, her long veil caught back with lilies of the valley, and carrying bride's roses. Maid of honor, Miss Lelia Clemmer wore white silk tulle carrying white carnations. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations, the guests were invited to the dining-room where an elegant course supper were served. They drove to Staunton and took the 2:09 C. & O. train for a northern tour. The bride's traveling suit was a beautiful green shade, with hat and gloves to match.

Look for Drop in Prices.
New York, April 19.—Close observers of the food products market today expressed belief in the probable speedy setting in of an era of lower prices for foodstuffs. "The wish may in some degree be father to the thought," said one provision man, "as lower prices would help us as well as the consumer, but the tendency of prices is just now unmistakably downward. It seems to me entirely reasonable for the people to look for a drop in the retail prices of beef and pork in a short time. The plentifulness of grain has forced the farmer to feed it to his cattle, which are waxing fat and which must be put on the market."

Mr. Hugh Glenn, for several years connected with the Farmers and Merchants Bank, expects to leave the latter part of this month for Nevada, Mo., to take a position in the banking firm of H. F. Glenn. Mr. Glenn is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Glenn, and has made an enviable reputation here, and his friends predict for him a bright future.

The Richmond News-Leader of Wednesday has the following marriage notice of interest to our readers: The marriage of Miss Rachel Christian Trimble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford McChesney Trimble, of Staunton, Va., to John Mason Lee, Jr., of Widewater, Stafford county, Va., took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the New York-Avenue Presbyterian church, Washington, the Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe officiating. Mr. Lee is a son of Major John M. Lee, of Stafford, and a nephew of the late General Fitzhugh Lee.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Nance Trimble, as maid of honor, and Bankhead Lee, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Marshall King and Mr. Chittenden, both of Alexandria.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Hugh C. Braxton, of Staunton, Va. The church was decorated with palms and American beauty roses. The bride wore a blue broadcloth tailored suit and large black hat, trimmed with plumes. She carried lilies of the valley and gardenias.

The maid of honor wore blue chiffon broadcloth, with a straw-colored hat, trimmed with pink hydrangeas and carried Killarney roses. After a wedding trip to Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Lee will be at home at Widewater, Va., on May 1.

Aldrich and Hale to Retire.
It is announced from Washington that Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, has sent a letter to Governor Aram J. Pothier, of that state, formally announcing his intention to retire from the United States Senate at the end of his present term, March 3 next. The reasons assigned are length of service and a desire to conserve his health. "I am going to remain in active co-operation with the national monetary commission in the work which it is doing to revise and reconstruct the currency system of the country," says the senator. Senator Hale has sent notice of his refusal to be a candidate for re-election to Byron Boyd, of Augusta, chairman of the Maine state republican committee. The letter, which was mailed yesterday, will reach Boyd this evening and is to be given out by him tomorrow morning. The senator would not give the letter for publication. Senator Hale encountered so much opposition to his re-election in that rock-ribbed Republican State, that he got out of the race.

MR. F. C. OTT, a well known citizen of the county, died on Tuesday night near Stribling Springs. Mr. Ott, after a long and useful life on the farm retired from active business, and for many years spent his time here, in Roanoke and Waynesboro. Some years ago his wife passed away, and on yesterday his remains were brought here and interred by her side in Thornrose cemetery. The funeral being conducted from Christ Lutheran church by Rev. A. D. H. Hancher. Mr. Ott was 84 years of age.

MR. D. W. WOODRUFF.
Mr. D. W. Woodruff, father of Mrs. S. D. Gochenour of this city, and a former resident of the county, died in Roanoke on Monday, aged about 60 years. He was originally from New York, but some years ago moved to Augusta and located in the Tinkling Spring neighborhood, and was well known in that section. The funeral took place in Roanoke. His wife, five daughters and a son survive him—the children are Mrs. S. D. Gochenour of Staunton, Chas. B. Woodruff, Miss Flora Woodruff and Mrs. Lucinda Black of Middletown, N. MR. DAN. O'DONNELL.
Mr. Daniel O'Donnell died at his home in Harrisonburg on Thursday of last week. Some days before his death he was thrown from his buggy when his vehicle ran into a wagon and he sustained a broken collar bone and the dislocation of several ribs. Pneumonia followed and death resulted. He came to this country from Ireland and after the war came to Staunton, where he married, and some thirty years ago went to Harrisonburg, where he had since been engaged in business. Surviving him are his wife, who was Miss Bridget Crikard of the city, and three sons and two daughters. The funeral took place Saturday from St. Francis Catholic church, and the interment was in Thornrose cemetery. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: Edward Dore, J. J. Kilgallen, William Wholey, J. J. Flavin, J. J. Murphy and T. J. Hounihan.

Takes His Own Life.
Mr. Jared Andrew Jones, one of the wealthiest and most prominent citizens of Highland county, treasurer of the county for twenty-four years, and cashier of the First National Bank of Monterey, shot himself through his temple last Thursday at his home and died instantly. No cause is known, save that he had been dyspeptic, and that a certain political faction recently had vigorously antagonized him in business. This may have caused the rash act. He was a steward in the Methodist Church and was said to be the most popular man in his county. He was a Confederate veteran and extensively known as a stock and cattle man. He leaves four sons, Dr. C. C. of Staunton; Andrew, and Robert, of Monterey, William, of Wier; two daughters, Misses Mary and Margaret Jones, of Monterey, also two brothers and several sisters.

Big Musical Comedy Coming.
Manager Barkman of the Beverly has closed a contract with the "Top O' the World" Company for one performance on Tuesday, May 3rd. This is one of the largest and best musical comedies on the road. Watch for future announcements.

That New Office.
Some of Mr. Byrd's friends in Richmond are talking as follows:
"The position pays $4,000 a year, and there is no one who will admit that Mr. Byrd accepted the position because of the attractiveness of the salary. Had he been required to relinquish his practice in order to accept the appointment, it is not believed that he would have even considered the matter. He has for years been at the head of the bar in the Valley of Virginia, has an office here and is enjoying a lucrative practice. Should he engage to discharge the duties of the position to which he has been named it would not in any way involve his private practice but he would be free to attend to that so long as he saw fit."

"The people of the State will resent this appointment," said an official in the city a man who has been in office for years and who is one of the men who has always spoken the language of the tribe. He added: "The manner in which it was passed, being hidden in the appropriation bill, passed on the last night of the session, when there was no discussion of the matter, when few knew that there was such a thing as the bill, and the appointment of a member of the general assembly to the place so provided, will be different of explanation to the satisfaction of the voters."
