

FOREIGN.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP CALEDONIA. Twenty-two days later from England. The Steamship Caledonia, Capt. McCallar, arrived at her wharf, Easton, Saturday, at half-past 4 o'clock, from Liverpool, where she sailed on the 4th inst., at half-past 4, P. M.—making the passage in 13 1/2 days.

The Caledonia brought 37 passengers from Liverpool to Boston, 13 from Liverpool to Halifax, and 24 from Halifax to Boston. She arrived at Easton on Thursday, at half-past 4, P. M., and sailed for Boston on the same evening, at half-past 10 o'clock. She came into port with her topmasts up, making a fine appearance.

If no news may be considered good news, the intelligence by this arrival may be pronounced first-rate, as we find little in our newspapers to the effect that Liverpool to the 4th inst. was not worthy of record. There is nothing there from China.

The aspect of affairs in the old world is decidedly pacific. The money market was easier, the cotton market active, and prices generally advanced. The packet ship Washington arrived at Liverpool on the 4th inst. She carried out the news of the failure of the U. S. Bank, but the effect produced in London by the failure was not known in Liverpool at the time of the departure of the vessel.

The bills on Messrs. Morrison, drawn by the U. S. Bank, had been accepted, and a position of trust was secured by the Bank of England.

DEADLY DISEASE—GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.—The American ship Governor Fenner, Capt. Andrews, which sailed from Liverpool to New York on the 15th ult., came in contact, on the following day, with the steamer York, of Liverpool, with the bows of the ship stove in by the collision, and the Captain on finding the situation of his vessel, called upon the crew and passengers to save themselves, but in a minute the ship sank, with sixteen of the crew and a number of passengers, and a large number of the passengers, were hurrying to the lifeboats. The Captain saved himself by grasping a rope, which hung over the steamer's side. The Mate was also saved by jumping from the fore yard arm to the steamer's deck. The wreck of the Governor Fenner was seen floating off Lambay, on the Irish coast on Friday.

Negotiations.—The London Morning Herald states that negotiations are now going on in London between the Great Powers—parties to the convention of July—for the conclusion of a new and more comprehensive treaty, in which France is to take a prominent part, having for its object the settlement of the Turkish and Egyptian questions.

A proposition to increase the British navy force from 37,000 to 43,000 men, was discussed in the House of Commons on the 1st of March, and adopted. During the debate, nothing, however, was said relative to American questions.

It was reported in Paris on Thursday afternoon, that the French Cabinet was disposed to offer its mediation to arrange the McLeod dispute with the United States. The Court Journal says: "Several of the Journals have announced during the past week, that Mrs. McLeod is to be allowed her liberty. We believe that she is to be set at liberty, and also that it is stated correctly. We now hasten, among the foremost, to congratulate the country upon the auspicious event."

Parliament has been occupied principally with subjects of little interest to the reading public. The trial of Earl of Cardigan, in the House of Lords, is the principal topic of conversation. The trial occupied the whole of Tuesday, the 16th ult. The Court returned a unanimous verdict of "not guilty," the Duke of Cleveland answering "not guilty" upon his honor. The evidence failed to prove the identity of Captain Tuckett as described in the indictment.

In the House of Commons on the 1st inst., Lord J. Russell, in reply to a question from Sir J. Graham, said that a pension had been granted to Lieutenant McCormack, for wounds received in the Crimea, and that the Government were about to grant the question on a former evening by Sir R. Inglis.

DESTRUCTION OF WYANDOTT HOUSE.—On the night of the 10th ult., the splendid mansion of the Marquis of Londonderry, near Stockton-upon-Tees was destroyed by fire, and the only person who escaped was the conservatory. The loss is stated to be between £200,000 to £400,000. The Marquis is en route to Italy from Malta and Turkey. The house was left in charge of his servants.

An extensive fire broke out on Monday at Liverpool. The habitable of the house, which is engaged in the distillery and turpentine distilling business, are variously stated at £70,000 and £80,000. Upwards of £140,000 are owing in different houses in Liverpool.

FRANCE.—The fortifications of Paris were being fortified with extraordinary vigor. The only difficulty appears to be for the undertaking, without immediately contracting a loan. In the Chamber of Peers, Marshal Solit presented a bill for the levy of 50,000 men, and for increasing the length of the term of military service. The law has already been adopted by the Chamber of Deputies.

ascend the Nile on the 8th or 9th ult. The firm was expected from Constantinople but not arrived, and the despatch of the fleet, and the Consul-General might be expected till the settlement of all particulars at issue between the Pasha. Further, that the Pasha was endeavoring to obtain the navigation of the Egyptian for her steamboats, and the maintenance of a garrison for her military colonization. Mehemet Ali promised Commodore Napier that he would take an opportunity of abolishing negro slavery. He had ordered a review of cavalry and artillery on the 5th inst., at which the Commodore was present.

The plague still continued at Alexandria and Rosetta. Turkish forces under General Jochemus were at Jaffa, and all attempts to interfere with the retreating army had been relinquished. Up to that moment, however, preparations for an attack had been persevered in; for on the same day the Port and the Egyptian fleet, under the command of the Port and the Egyptian fleet, under the command of the Port and the Egyptian fleet, under the command of the Port and the Egyptian fleet, under the command of the Port and the Egyptian fleet, under the command of the Port and the Egyptian fleet, under the command of the Port and the European intelligence, that the Caledonia carries out little of interest or importance; in fact, there has been no political news of consequence during the last two or three weeks.

The excitement here was intense when the news respecting the arrest and imprisonment of Mr. Leod was received. The excitement is now over, and the funds have recovered—the public being under the impression that the news of the arrest of Mr. Leod, both as regards the case of M. Leod and the Boundary Question, will place the Government in a position of great embarrassment. The Levant mail arrived this morning, bringing news from Turkey, Egypt and Syria; but the news is not important. The overland route from India to Europe is now open, and it is supposed that it will not be so far as depends upon him, that while the exercise of the elective franchise by the people shall be free from the undue influences of officers of authority, opinion should be free among the officers and agents of Government.

The President wishes it further to be announced and distinctly understood, that from all collecting and disbursing officers promptitude in rendering accounts, and entire punctuality in paying the public moneys, are to be expected. It is time to return, in this respect, to the early practice of the Government, and to hold any degree of delinquency on the part of those entrusted with the public money just cause of immediate removal. He desires the severe observance of this rule to be essential to the performance of their duty, and a neglect to be faithful in office, creates a necessity to be charged upon the President.

DECEASED AND DESPOTISM. Nothing adds so much to the pang of an oppressive Government, as to find it assumed sanctity. King Richard, when ravaging in the blood of victims of his nearest kindred—of innocent babes, and the best men of his time, to make sure his illegal power, was approved before the people with a priest on each side.

It is possible that for the removal of such a man, the prosecutors can set up the apology that he has, in the office they give in the election, and as a consequence, the officers of the Government, who played his part in the double character of Antislavery and Abolitionists. Colonel Gardner's name has been for some years on the bond of Blair and Rives as Printers; possibly he has lost his office by this act of neighborly kindness.

It is more than a year since he was heard from, after having been whipped thrice in a few hours, he will hardly feel in the humor or condition for the trouncing to see for him.

goods and chattels, and they may contribute voluntarily as much as they please out of any funds they have. The edict is only a sign of the Government's contribution or assessment on salaries or official compensation.

The country must perceive what a mockery this is, coming from a party which has laid individuals and corporations in the old and new world under contribution to effect its ends; and who, having accomplished its ends, and while retaining the contributors with salaries, and while retaining in bringing them into power, they are told, we will not assess your salaries or official compensations in the coming campaign! What virtuous, honest men! Why did they not put their interest on those men who had used money to purchase votes, and prostitute men to commit crimes to vote and vote against them, where they had no right to vote at all? They might have reached the contributors to the Government, and excluded all those who were brought in to supply the places of such men as Mr. Morgan, and the honest officers, who were occupied with their official trusts in this city, while those who supplanted them were busy with their active knavery by which the late election was disgraced.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE. March 30, 1841. To the Hon. Thomas Ewing, Secretary of the Treasury. Sir—The President is of opinion that it is a great abuse to bring the patronage of the General Government into conflict with the freedom of elections; and that this abuse ought to be corrected wherever it may have been permitted to exist, and to be prevented for the future.

He therefore directs that information be given to all officers and agents in your Department of the public patronage, that no person shall be employed in any office, whether of State officers or officers of the General Government, or for whomsoever or against whomsoever any contribution or assessment on salaries or official compensation for party election purposes, will be regarded by him as cause of removal.

It is intended that any officer shall be restrained in the free and proper exercise of his official duties, and that no person shall be employed in any office, whether of State officers or officers of the General Government, or for whomsoever or against whomsoever any contribution or assessment on salaries or official compensation for party election purposes, will be regarded by him as cause of removal.

Wild Cat has been in Tampa and gone out to bring in his people and letters to-night, say that ninety men were sent out on the 11th, to escort thirty odd warriors on their way in.

About four hundred Indians are already at Tampa waiting to be shipped—in fact every one writes that the war is over.

RICHMOND, FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1841. To the Polls! To the Polls! Awake, Republics of Virginia! Turn out, turn out! Organize yourselves—and carry the next Legislature to the polls! Carry a majority of the next Delegation to the polls! An Extra Session of Congress is at hand, and a three-years mischievous National Bank, a Distribution, &c.—Maintain every man your own public councils, who, whatever be his previous party name, is devoted to the great Rights principles of the Old Dominion. Never despair of the Republic—Never be intimidated by the boasts of the mercenary Whigs. Do not let the Whigs tell you, that it is in vain for you to struggle; that your fate is already sealed; that they have the majority in the H. of R., whatever be the vote of Virginia. One of their presses at least reads a very different less—And that press is the pet press of Daniel Webster—we mean, the Boston Atlas. It proclaims to the Whigs throughout the Union, that they are in danger; that the following is the political character of the members already chosen:

Table with columns: Whigs, Locos Focos, and various state names with corresponding numbers.

That supposing the next Congress to remain the same, the friends of the Administration would stand 123, to 111 who will oppose its leading measures. The net result of three members of those who remain in the minority, would be to give the Administration into a minority, and would make it dependent upon a handful of such men as Mallory and Wise, than which it would be far better to have a majority of the best and best of the Virginia Legislature of '38 and '39, and the Virginia Legislature of '40, '41, '42, '43, '44, '45, '46, '47, '48, '49,
