

The enquiry is often made here, whether another petition to the Governor for the pardon or (in the event of their condemnation to death by the Court) the commutation of the sentence of the negroes, John and Jane Williams, will not be raised and signed by a "large and most respectable body of citizens" in Richmond...

Mr. Webster's early retirement from the Cabinet is simply a conjecture; as to the rumor of the probable appointment of Mr. Brooks, of New York, as Postmaster General, in place of Mr. Hall, nominated by the President for the office of United States Circuit Judge for the Northern District of the State of New York...

There is considerable rejoicing among the $1000 and $1200 clerks, the messengers, laborers, &c., in the departments, in view of the action of the House on yesterday giving them 20 per cent. advance on their present pay, commencing with the fiscal year, July 1, 1852. There is a good deal of grumbling, however, among those clerks of a higher grade, because they are not also included in the provisions and benefits of the act in question.

Members of both Houses are at last waking up to a just sense of the responsibility they owe their constituents and the country. The several Appropriation bills are passing thro' with considerable speed. The River and Harbor bill will be chucked to death in the Senate; this you may rely on.

The Democratic party hold a grand mass meeting to-night in front of the City Hall. A salute of 31 guns will be fired in honor of the result of the North Carolina election.

Political meetings are the order of the day—or rather night—and both parties constantly make night hideous by the miserable music, shouting and hurraing always accompanying their respective professions.

We have had a great deal of rain, recently, and the country people are rejoicing greatly thereat. Joseph R. Ingersoll, of Philadelphia, will certainly be Mr. Lawrence's successor at the Court of St. James.

A company is about to be formed in London, with a capital of one hundred thousand pounds in twenty thousand shares, for the purpose of introducing sea water for bathing into the metropolis. It is ascertained that the water of the German Ocean is purer and better than the sea water of the Southern coast of England; moreover the elevation of the coast along the German Ocean is higher than London; consequently, the sea water will have a natural fall to the metropolis, without the aid of extensive machinery to raise it from the ocean. Brighton lies below London several feet, and the sea water is not pure. It is therefore proposed to bring sea water through three lines of pipes running alongside the Eastern Counties Railway, and buried in the ground. The water will be taken from the coast at Lynn, which is nearly one hundred miles from the metropolis, and distributed at the west end of the town, each mansion being adequately supplied at the annual charge of about 5 pounds. The whole expense of this novel scheme, it is calculated, will not exceed one hundred thousand pounds, and it is confidently believed that shareholders will realize upwards of 100 per cent. on the capital.

Messrs. GALE & SEATON.—I feel it a duty to ask you to lay before the public the following prescription, which may save the lives of hundreds who otherwise may fall victims to the prevailing diseases of cholera, diarrhoea, and dysentery, at this time. It is said to have been communicated from Constantinople by one of our missionaries, as having been attended with the most extraordinary effects, when given early, in cases of cholera. However this may be, it has been tried over and over in my immediate family, and also by our neighbors, to whom we have given it, in the first stages of this class of diseases:—

Take of spirits of camphor, Indianum and Dose for a grown person twenty drops every two hours, diluted with a little water in a table spoon. For children decrease the quantity according to age.

One dose frequently checks the disease. The Editors assume no responsibility for the above or any other medical prescriptions published in the columns of this paper. All they answer for is, that the author of the communication of such prescriptions is, as in this case, a known and respectable person.—Nat. Int.

CHILDHOOD.—There are some children left at I had met one the other day. It was a little fellow of five years. He had come with his father into the country to see one of my friends. As soon as he left the carriage he ran to the kennel of a large watch dog that was chained in the court yard.

"Don't touch the dog," I cried, "he'll bite you." "Why will he bite me?" "Because he don't know you." "Oh! if that's all," he replied, "I will tell him that I am Henry."—Carpet Bag.

THE PHILOSOPHER AND FERRYMAN.—A philosopher stepped on board a ferryboat to cross a stream. On the passage, he inquired of the ferryman if he understood arithmetic.

"Arithmetic! No, sir!" "I am very glad to hear of one quarter of your life is gone. Do you understand algebra?" "No."

"Then another quarter of your life is gone." "Just then the boat ran on a snag and was sinking, when the ferryman jumped up, pulled off his coat, and asked the philosopher—

"Can you swim?" "No, sir." "Then your whole life is gone, for the boat is sinking."

The new Planet discovered by Mr. Hind on the 24th of June has received the name of Melopene, the Muse of Tragedy. This planet is believed to be the seventeenth now known to exist between Mars and Jupiter.

An account of the murder of Willard, at St. Joseph, Mo., a few days ago, by the extraordinary means of whipping, has been given. The three men arrested for this deed, are named Langston, Jennings and Anderson. They were not molested by the citizens, as was threatened, but at last accounts remained in jail.

An Irishman being in church where the collection apparatus resembled election boxes, on its being handed to him, whispered in the carriers ear, that he was not naturalized and could not vote.

AMELIA LAND.—We offer for sale a large and most desirable tract of land in Amelia county, situated as follows: Lying in the extreme low or end of the county, 14 miles from Appomattox River, 16 West of Petersburg, 27 South West of Richmond; within 4 1/2 miles of the South Side Railroad, and within 7 miles of the Clover Hill Railroad. A full and complete description of the tract and convenient access to it, is given in one of our very best farms in Amelia county. The situation is elevated and healthy, and the society of the circumjacent country such as to render the farm yet more desirable. Circumstances are much in favor of the supposition that there is plenty of coal on this land. Nearly one half of this property is in pine of original growth; and when this part of the tract is produced the very finest tobacco.—There is abundance of state timber, which, as well as wood, may be conveniently boated to Petersburg.

One hundred and eighty-eight acres of this tract bottom land of the best quality, and being entirely free from inundation every acre will produce tobacco of the very best quality. About 30 acres more of it is in clover, and 40 acres in pea fields. The improvement is a good dwelling house, a garden, and every out house that could be desired. The negroes, stock, crops, and plantation implements will be sold with the farm if desirable. Terms very accommodating. TOLER & COOK, au 4 General Agents.

JOHN HOODING HUSTINGS GUYER, July 14th, 1852.

Alexander S. Brown and P. M. McClellan, defendants, vs. John Hooding Hustings Guyer, plaintiff. On the motion of the plaintiff, the proceedings in this case up to and embracing the order of publication, are set aside by the court, because the order of publication was not properly issued, and the summons and return thereto issued against the said Robert McClellan not being executed, and it appearing from an affidavit made by the plaintiff, that the said Robert McClellan will be given notice of the proceedings in this case, on the motion of the plaintiff it is ordered that the said defendant, Robert McClellan, do appear at Rules to be holden in the September term, to answer the plaintiff's plea of trespass on the case, founded on an award made by John Græme and Wellington Goddin on the 17th day of July, 1848, between the said plaintiff and the said defendant, Robert McClellan, relating to another thing, to certain taxes paid by the said plaintiff previous to that time, and do what may be necessary to protect his interests; and that a new copy of the order of publication be issued, and a new return be made, and the proceedings in this case, on the first day of the next term of this court. And this case is in all respects, for all purposes to be had hereafter, as if it were a new case. A Copy—Teste, July 31—lawyer CHAS. HOWARD, Clerk.
