

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 3, 1880.

THE KILLING OF TWO MURDERERS IN NEW YORK TO PLACATE THEIR KEEPERS AND ESCAPE.

We have heretofore announced the discovery in the New York city prison, last Saturday afternoon, of a fatal plot, which was consummated by the principal actors, Stephens and Sanchez, who, it would seem, heartily joined in the conspiracy, and the preliminary arrangements were made to carry their murderous designs into execution on Monday evening. It is supposed that a third person, and a friend of Stephens, while visiting the latter, has conveyed messages to Sanchez on the subject, and returned his replies to the wife of the prisoner. The New York Express gives the following additional particulars...

It seems that on Saturday week, a gentleman who had not been permitted to transact business at the office of Mr. Sutton, the warden of the Prison, with two revolvers—certified to him by the gentleman who had seen it, and who had a short time since called on him, and many of his friends were calling on him, it is supposed that Stephens received a message to another cell. It was thought that the plot which had been made in the wall was discovered. The vacated cell was thoroughly searched, but no revolver was found. It is thought that the search was ineffectual, as the weapon, though not found, was discovered afterwards concealed in the room.

On Tuesday last, Mr. Sutton went to Stephens, and spoke kindly to him about some matters which he had to do with the prison, telling him that, as he was about to be released, he should not leave the prison until he had made up his mind not to die. Mr. Sutton, however, was cautious, and was unwilling to do with that. Mr. Sanchez replied, "I intended to give you a message, but I have not time to do so now. I will give you a message when I see you again."

THE NEW SPEAKER.—As a matter of information to our readers, and in response to numerous inquiries, we publish the following sketch of the career of Speaker Pennington from a forthcoming edition of Luman's "History of Congress."

How William Pennington was born in New York City, where he resided all his life. He is a lawyer, and has for many years practiced his profession extensively in the State of Virginia. He was elected Governor of New Jersey and re-elected in 1845. He was also elected Governor of the State of Virginia in 1852. He was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives in 1855.

THE TRUE GENTLEMAN.—The following sketch is called the portrait of a true gentleman, and is found in an old Manuscript in Gloucester, Massachusetts, and framed, and hung in the main-piece of a tapestried sitting room.

IMPORTATIONS OF AFRICAN "APPRENTICES."—The Havana correspondent of the New Orleans Daily Crescent writes:

It has been arranged to import 20,000 of the best of the available, from 20,000 to 25,000 Africans, under contracts made some time since. This comes from a report that the principle that we have as much business to do in Africa as we have in Cuba, Spain, Mexico, or Yucatan—all of which have given of their population for months or years, and might be better used to aid in the development of Cuba industry. If this business is commenced by introductions under contracts, which it is said to have been authorized by competent authority, it will be continued as long as the sugar cane is one of the staples of the island.

THE STEAMER FROM EUROPE.—The steamer City of Manchester, from Glasgow, arrived at New York on Wednesday, by which we have our first news via telegraph to Queensland. The steamer was a telegram is current that the Peace Congress will meet in the City of Washington, and that Antouelli, the Pope's Prime Minister, has resigned. It is also said that the Peace Congress will meet in the City of Washington, and that Antouelli, the Pope's Prime Minister, has resigned.

ANDREW'S CULPRITY.—A Scotchman named Andrew Baxter, is under heavy bonds to answer a charge of cruelty to animals, and the Mobile Tribune states that he was confined in the city Jail, and died of a fever, and whose death is said to have been caused by his brutality. A nephew of his lived with him to some extent, and his condition was such that he had died of a fever, and whose death is said to have been caused by his brutality.

FROM THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.—Mayor Wood has presented to the Common Council a memorial of W. J. Hubbard, of Richmond, Va., who desires to be appointed a member of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and who desires to be appointed a member of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—By the recent accident on the railroad between New York and Boston, the brakeman, named Simon Daly, who had been on duty for some time, was killed, and whose death is said to have been caused by his brutality.

THE NEW ARRANGEMENTS OF THE AMUSEMENTS.

—Give Times in Lynchburg—An Adroit Regent—A Citizen of Richmond Road, &c.

The opening of the Alexandria and Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, has instituted a new order of things, under the latter arrangement, if we desired to travel, we could start about midday; but now, if we take a trip North, or to your city, we must be up and ready to start at 4 A. M.

Through passengers from the North break for the part of the Commonwealth to the Virginia Central Railroad, and breakfast next morning at Greenbrier, Tennessee, only taking one meal while passing through the State of Virginia.

The Hampden Sydney Magazine, edited by the Students at Hampden Sydney College, and formerly published at Petersburg, has been published in this city, by J. J. Creed.

The building was owned by the Messrs. Hazard and was tenanted by the Fire Association for $2,000. It was leased to Mr. Joseph P. Jones, who occupied it as a furniture factory.

The building had been fired on two occasions before, but the flames were discovered and extinguished before doing serious injury.

LOCAL MATTERS.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—About the hour of 7 o'clock, yesterday morning, the large three-story brick building on the North margin of James River, near the City's large flouring mill, occupied by Mr. Stephen Childrey as a turner's shop, and by Messrs. Belvin & Atkinson as a furniture store, was consumed by fire.

The fire originated on the first floor, and owing to the combustible material with which it was filled, was soon in a sheet of flames. An employee of Messrs. H. & A., on seeing the fire, rushed into the building, and endeavored to extinguish it.
