SATURDAY, January 14, 1865.

Prayer by the Rev. Dr. Norwood, of the Episcopal Church.

Senate bill to regulate the pay and allowances of certain female employees of the Government was reported back from the Judiciary Committee with amendments.

On motion, by Mr. Semmes, Senate bill to facilitate the settlement of the claims of deceased soldiers and officers, by the creation of the office of Fourth Auditor, was recommitted to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Walker, from the Judiciary Committee, reported back bill to secure more effectually the preservation and distribution of the effects of deceased soldiers.—Ordered to be printed.

On motion, by Mr. Semmes, the Senate resolved into secret session.

Mr. Johnson, of Missouri, presented the credentials of the Hon. George G. Vest, appointed a Senator by the Executive of the State of Missouri to fill, until the next meeting of the Legislature of that State, the vacancy occasioned by the inability of the Legislature to elect a Senator conformably to the provisions of the Constitution of the Confederate States, owing to the occupancy of the said State of Missouri by the public enemy, which were read.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House met at 11 o'clock, and was opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Duncan.

The Speaker announced the following committee on the message of the President relative to the arrest of Hon. Henry S. Foote: Messrs. Clarke, of Missouri; Gilmer, of North Carolina; Chilton, of Alabama; Gholson, of Virginia, and McCallum, of Tennessee.

The House passed a Senate bill amendatory of the act providing for local defence and local service.

Also, a Senate joint resolution of thanks to General Stand Watie, Colonel Gano, and the officers and men under their commands, for gallant military service.

The House also passed a bill to provide for the payment of provost marshals and military clerks.

Also, a bill to increase the compensation of the Surgeon-General, so as to give him the pay and allowances of a colonel of cavalry.

The House then took up for consideration the exemption bill. Several attempts were made to table the bill and recommit it to the Military Committee, but they failed.

A clause was adopted exempting all ministers of religion engaged in the discharge of their duties on the 17th of February, 1864.

Also, an amendment to exempt all mechanics and agriculturists over forty-five years of age, habitually engaged in the prosecution of their calling, who have eight white persons in their families dependent on them, and all such persons now in the army who would have been so exempted had they been at home.

Pending the consideration of the bill the House adjourned.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

[EXTRA SESSION.]

SENATE.

SATURDAY, January 14, 1865.

The Senate was called to order at noon.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Jeter.

Joint resolutions from the House of Delegates, instructing our representatives in Congress to urge the passage of a law appropriating money to pay for horses killed or unavoidably lost in the military service, and providing for the appointment of a joint committee to examine the accounts of the commercial agent, were read by the Clerk. The first was laid on the table and the latter was agreed to; when, in accordance with its provisions, Messrs. Hart and Spiller were appointed said committee.

A bill was adopted by Mr. Coghill, from the Committee for Courts of Justice, providing for the protection of Confederate currency from improper depreciation by restricting the sale of exchange thereof at less than its nominal value.—Read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

House bills amending and re-enacting the eleventh section of chapter one hundred and thirty-two of the Code of Virginia, in regard to fiduciaries; also, an act entitled "an act releasing from taxation deeds required to be recorded a second time, where the county records have been destroyed by the public enemy"; and Senate's bill amending the second, sixth and twenty-second sections of an act passed March 7, 1862, entitled "an act to amend an act entitled an act amending the charter of the town of Danville," were read the third time and passed.

Mr. Spiller introduced a resolution inquiring into the expediency of increasing the compensation of sheriffs and other officers for conveying insane persons from their homes to the asylum. Secret business crossed the rest of the session.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

The House met at noon, and was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Woodbridge, of the Episcopal Church.

Mr. Anderson, from the Military Committee, reported a bill to organize and enroll the home guards for local defence. The bill, on his motion, was read the first time, and ordered to a second reading.

The Speaker submitted to the House a message from the Governor, taking ground against the action of the Legislature in exempting from military service certain members of the reserve forces upon the ground that their ages exceeded that of fifty years. The Governor insinuates in his communication that their discharge was without warrant in the Constitution. The communication was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Pending the discussion of the communication, the House went into secret session, upon motion of Mr. Deane, of Campbell.

When the doors were re-opened business was resumed. Mr. Deane offered a resolution to disband the battalion of second-class militia organized for the defence of the city of Lynchburg, and to provide for the organization, in a better form, of a local force for the defence of the said city. The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. Hunt submitted a resolution, directed to the Committee on Confederate Relations, inquiring if a more effectual mode cannot be devised to secure the speedy shipment to Confederate prisoners of war confined in Northern dungeons of packages sent them by their friends to promote their comfort and well-being.

Mr. Castleman introduced a joint resolution, addressed to our representatives in Congress, calling upon them to urge the passage of a bill to mount and equip the cavalry, and make that branch of the service more efficient. The resolution was ordered to be laid over under the rules.

Mr. Hutchinson introduced a joint resolution to encourage the production of supplies, and recommending the repeal of all laws now upon the statute books in relation to impressments. The resolution lies over under the rules.

The Committee on Propositions and Grievances reported adversely to the resolution of Mr. Hall, of Wetzel, in relation to the opening of Capitol Square gates.

The bill for the relief of Tucker Carrington, of Mecklenburg, to allow him eighteen hundred dollars for a slave hanged by sentence of the court, in addition to one thousand dollars already appropriated, was taken up and lost, not a constitutional majority voting in favor of the bill.

The House, after the disposition of some other business, adjourned.
