MANCHESTER AND VICINITY.

Court News.—In the absence of Mayor Clarke yesterday Justice Foster presided at the Mayor's Court. There was only one case disposed of, and that was of a trifling nature.

Commonwealth's Attorney A. K. Kiser will have Messrs. Smith and Kelly, judges, before the grand jury of the Hustings Court, notwithstanding the fact that they were discharged by Mayor Clarke. They were arrested for unlawfully dealing in railroad iron.

The next term of the Chesterfield County Court will be a regular grand jury term. F. W. Smith was tried in the Hustings Court Saturday for receiving stolen goods, and was acquitted.

Frank Ivson (colored) was tried for stabbing John Taylor (colored), and was fined $5 and sent to jail for thirty days.

Church Notes.—There were no services at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches Sunday night. The congregations were unusually large.

The debt of the colored Baptist church in this city made by rebuilding the church has all been paid off except a few hundred dollars. The whole debt was about $2,000.

Rev. J. K. Hazen, of Richmond, conducted the services at the Presbyterian church here Sunday morning.

The Methodist congregation are about to elect a new pastor. The church is enlarged and refitted. This is the oldest church building in the city now in use.

The Board of Supervisors of Chesterfield county met at the Courthouse yesterday. The names of Messrs. Laura Brown and Maggie Noid and Colonel William Ambers were unintentionally omitted from one report of the board.
