Can 4,000,000 Progressives be stand-patted. That is the question.

To point with pride is all right, but to get out and hustle will help more.

The disorder at Chicago began the minute the convention was called to order.

"Invisible government" needs an able bodyguard—hence the term the "Old Guard."

We've got a good candidate and a good cause. Stay right on the job, Democrats!

There are Progressives who, under their breath, call the Republican leaders the "Old Blackguards."

The Republicans had two difficulties: To find a candidate they could stand for who also could stand for them.

American mill and factory capacity is now practically exhausted for 1916 delivery, and new contracts are chiefly for delivery in 1917 and after the war.

In making any arrangements with the Bosses at Chicago, the Progressives should remember the well-known proposal made by the spider to the fly.

Deduct all war business from the country's exports and the balance is still greater than the heaviest export volume under the Payne-Aldrich tariff.

The Commissioner of Navigation reports 1,200,000 vessel tonnage now building in American ship yards against 250,000 in 1912. The United States for the first time in 60 years has become the leading shipbuilder among nations.

Who controlled the Republican national convention of 1912? Boss Penrose, Boss Barnes, Boss Smoot, Boss Gallinger, Boss Murray Crane, etc.

Who controlled the Republican national convention of 1916? Boss Penrose, Boss Barnes, Boss Smoot, Boss Gallinger, Boss Murray Crane, etc.

The effort to raise the issue of Americanism against Woodrow Wilson is the most transparent piece of political bunco that has been attempted in a generation.

Who can please the Republicans this year? At the hint of nominating that dignified and erudite pair—Hughes and Fairbanks—Republican delegates begin to discuss ice, frost, overcoats and mittens.

In being compelled to choose between two leading candidates, the one of whom says nothing ever and the other of whom says nothing frequently, the Republicans at Chicago had a hard job.

In the discussion of the "big navy" question, it is interesting to note that the United States lost its position of world's second naval power and surrendered that position to Germany under the administration of Roosevelt.

The month of May, 1916, produced a greater volume of wage increases than any preceding 12 months of American history. Against this wall of prosperity, Republican spell-binders will make little progress in trying to stampede American workmen into voting a return to Republican conditions.

Shelled to the kernel, the only real complaint against Wilson is that he has not plunged the country into the European war. But, in adapting this to political uses, the Republicans are careful to avoid any intimation as to what side we should now be fighting upon. Of course, the idea is to get votes from the sympathizers with both sides in that carnival of blood and destruction. Is it possible to conceive a more hypocritical, loathsome piece of political trickery?

There are undoubtedly some ten million voters in this country, Republicans, Progressives, Independents and Democrats, who believe heart and soul in the constructive reforms agitated during the past decade and carried, to a large extent, into effect by President Wilson through the agency of the Democratic party. This was possible because the Democratic party was the only political agency not dominated by the selfish interests opposed to these reforms. And under Woodrow Wilson the Democratic party has been kept free of special-interest control and today remains the only available political agency for the continuation of this good work.

Owing to the complicated political situation existing in this state at the present time it is almost impossible for the voters to fully inform themselves regarding the multitude of candidates for state office and the conflicting issues presented. With the primary election only a week away, and the various contests becoming daily more intense, it is inevitable that many important questions will not receive at the hands of the voters the serious consideration to which they are entitled. We desire, however, to call special attention to the importance of selecting proper candidates for our state Supreme Court. Three of the present members of the Court, Chief Justice C. J. Fisk and Associate Justices E. T. Burke and E. B. Goss are candidates for re-election. They have all had long judicial experience and in our judgment merit general support. In this connection we publish the following letter from S. J. Doyle, United States Marshal, and earnestly request the voters to give this matter careful consideration:

"Fargo, N. D. June 21, 1916

Hon. E. S. Cameron, Editor Wahpeton Times, Wahpeton, N. D.
"Dear Sir: When I was a member of the North Dakota legislature from the 32nd district, I introduced a bill which was known as the "Non-partisan Judiciary Act". The purpose of this bill was to take the Courts of the state, so far as possible, out of party politics and elevate them above the strife which is always incident to party elections.

To show that this measure was popular with everyone I call your attention to the fact that there was practically no opposition to its passage, either in the House or Senate, and I have never noticed an adverse criticism of this measure in the public press.

The present members of the Supreme Court were elected under this system. As a judicial body they have, I believe, been honest in their decisions and diligent in keeping the work of the Court up to date as closely as possible. For these reasons I believe the present members of the Court should be returned by the voters at the primary and general election. The three Judges who are now before the people for re-election are Chief Justice C. J. Fisk and Associate Justices E. T. Burke and E. B. Goss. These men come before the voters of this state with a judicial experience ranging from twelve to twenty years, and this fact of itself is a very strong recommendation why they should receive the support of the voters for regardless of how competent or honest a new member might be, none will seriously contend that an untried and inexperienced man would come to the court as well equipped to handle the public business as the men who are already there with all these years of judicial experience behind them.

My object in writing you this letter is to ask that you look after the interests of these men in your locality at the coming primary election, not that I have any personal interest in the matter but because I believe the voters of the state should exercise great care in the selection of men who will represent them on the highest judicial tribunal of the state. Very sincerely yours, S. J. DOYLE."
