SEXTON THEATER

POLICE START THE BIG DRIVE

Captain Locher Proposes to Be Herder Instead of "Goat," and Demimondes Are Gathered.

When tomorrow morning's police court session is called it will be for Magistrate George Raban to say whether women arrested for vagrancy and soliciting shall be assessed what has come to be termed the regulation fine of $25 and what is referred to by some as the police court license. That there will be an unusually large number of women allegedly of this class present was apparent last night from the appearance of the police blotter for half a dozen arrests had been made and none of the suspects had been released on bail. This was because bonds in the amount of $100 was demanded of each woman instead of the old $25, and at midnight it seemed probable that the required guaranty involved more money than any of the women could produce.

"Magistrate Raban can do what he pleases with them Monday morning," Captain Fred Locher told a reporter. "The police department does not propose to be censured for the presence of these women on the street. If they are released, no matter in what amount they are fined, we will pick them up again whenever and wherever we find them. The department believes that public sentiment demands the removal of vagrant women from the streets and we are going to prove that it can be done. If the campaign we launched tonight miscarries, the public is entitled to know who is responsible. We will include also users of drugs and the so-called 'secretaries.' The department declines to be the goat."

Chief Marcus Anderson has been quoted as expressing a sentiment similar to Captain Locher's. In official circles the chief is represented to have said that the systematic fining of women, which is considered by them to be a license, has been due to the policy of the city administration. Among certain officials it is understood that the chief passes the buck up to the mayor, who, as the account goes, in outlining the course to be followed by the police department, said he would be personally responsible for the position taken by the city. Just how many vagrant women there are in Great Falls would be difficult to determine. Estimates range from 100 to 500. Certain police officials have said that the latter number is nearly correct.

The women arrested last night were Frances Howard, Gladys Howard, Cecil Finch, Grace Finch, Babe Ward and May Thompson. When the first woman was locked up in default of $100 bail the word somehow spread thruout the south side that the old system was no longer vogue and many suspects took to cover. Captain Locher stated. He said, however, that every woman found during the night would be gathered in and that the same plan will be diligently followed tonight.

HUGS BY EFFIE COST REAL CASH

At Least That Is Claim of Henry Cybor—Her Price Varies.

How much is a hug worth? Henry Cybor told the police last night that two hugs by Effie Simmons cost him $31. He said that when he first met her Thursday night she put her arms around him and that when he got home and frisked himself he was shy $25. Last night he met her again, he declared, and again was compelled to submit to Effie's embrace before he could help himself. Again he went home and again he found himself shy, this time in the amount of $6. Then he got fussy about it and told the police.

Effie is a lady of color. When she was arrested at midnight she told the police, between snuffles that she was the wife of a Pullman porter and that she arrived in the city Friday to visit friends. J. J. Genzra was picked up for reckless driving and released on $10 bail. Harold LaMouri, arrested for vagrancy, furnished a $50 guarantee against his appearance.

BILLINGS LOSES TO LOCAL QUINT

Great Falls High School Boys Take 28 to 22 Basketball Contest.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Billings, Jan. 18.—Members of the Great Falls High School Basketball quint last night defeated the fast Billings team in a closely played game, the final score being 28 to 22. Coach M. L. Couch wired The Tribune that every man in the local team was a star and team work and close guarding was responsible for the victory. Billings played a fast game and displayed streaks of precision with which the Great Falls boys assisted each other was too much for the home team last night and the local boys therefore have their second victory of the trip and a perfect percentage so far.

Lewistown people announce the Great Falls team, which defeated the Fergus High school five Friday night 38 to 16, is the best that has visited Lewistown in several years. The boys left Great Falls determined to bring home the "bacon" and Coach Crouch was confident they could do it.

At the THEATERS Here and Coming

PATRONS OF GRAND HAVE GOOD THINGS COMING UP THIS WEEK.

Starting on Tuesday evening, the patrons of the Grand opera house will have a busy program with two nights of Pantages vaudeville of promising quality, the coming of Irvin S. Cobb, popular humorist and finally on next Sunday evening "Business Before Pleasure", one of Al Woods' big shows. The coming of Irvin S. Cobb on Thursday evening will be one of the biggest attractions of the season at that theater. The Woods show brings back two delightful characters in "Abe" and "Mawrus", those characters so well known to those who read the Perlmutter stories.

The Pantages vaudeville show gets this commendation from the Albertan of Calgary.

"The bill offered at the Pantages this week is a top-notch and every act was very well received at the performances yesterday.

"The Little Burglar" is a musical mix-up, Jimmy Rose, impersonating the little burglar, has a cute way of his own in serving his line of fun. His impersonation of the adopted baby brings laughter from the audience till the tears fall.

"The Tyrells have a novelty act of whirlwind dancing and a film which has one on the edge of the seat.

"Weir and Temple have an act of the hit and miss system and certainly make a hit. The operative end of the act is something that one has to see to appreciate.

"Spencer and Wilson, 'A cute little girl and the other' encored a great success.

seen here again at the Imperial theater today and tomorrow in "Fame and Fortune," which is described by those who have seen the play as probably the best this sensational actor has ever appeared in.

Based on Charles Aiden Seltzer's story, "Slow Burgess," which attained considerable success in book form, "Fame and Fortune" gives Tom Mix numerous opportunities to display that daring horsemanship and consummate acting which have made him one of the foremost of present-day screen artists.

Pathe News Weekly has some very interesting subjects this week while a cartoon comedy, "Pep," will furnish plenty of good, clean, clever fun and completes an exceptional Sunday program.

There have been but few photoplays made that equal "The Cheat," featuring Fannie Ward and Sessue Hayakawa. In fact, many critics assert it is one "perfect photoplay," and since its showing it has been put upon the stage, reversing the usual order of things. The wonderful dramatic story and climax have been the talk of the film world. Hayakawa has never been able to make the public like him as well in any other play, although many have been great successes.

It is also Miss Ward's greatest success. The story concerns the folly of certain women of wealth apparently reduced by adventitious circumstances to poverty. This is a splendid picture, the theme of which is filled with dramatic romance of absorbing interest. It is the attraction at the Imperial for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

REMARKABLE MORAL IN "THE ONE WOMAN" SHOWING AT PALACE.

The special Mastercraft production, "The One Woman," by Thomas Dixon, now playing at the Palace theater, will finish its engagement with today's showing, which will be continuous from 1 o'clock this afternoon until 11 this evening.

"The One Woman" is a thrilling story of love, religion and politics, concerning the faithful devotion of the "one woman" and the misguided career of Frank Gordon, a young clergyman, who leaves his wife and family to follow the advice of Kate Ransom, Gordon holds the pulpit of a fashionable New York church, but as his leaning toward socialism becomes more pronounced, he is asked to resign. His only comforter is Miss Ransom, who finally urges Gordon to solicit funds for the erection of a "temple of man." At last Gordon is successful in obtaining the money, and before the new temple is completed, he divorces his wife and enters into a common law agreement with Kate. When the temple is dedicated Gordon is proclaimed a leader of men. The time comes, however, when one of his radical lieutenants takes steps to bring a vote against conscription. Gordon protests, but he is overruled, and in the end he leaves the church brokenhearted, several of his ideals already having slipped from his grasp.

When Gordon reaches his home he finds his common-law wife in the arms of another man. He struggles with the man who thus attempts to break up his home and in the fight he kills him. Gordon's former wife in the meantime still loves him, and when Gordon is sentenced to prison for the remainder of his life, his former wife goes to the governor and obtains his pardon. Thus, the "one woman" takes back to her heart the man who has turned against her and has sinned before the whole world.

MARGUERITE CLARK TODAY THE ATTRACTION AT SEXTON THEATER.

"Little Miss Hoover" with Marguerite Clark in the title role will be the feature today at the Sexton theater. There will also be the usual comedy film as an added measure to the program. This is said to be an exceptionally interesting interest comedy, "The Way of a Man With a Maid." This is a Paramount film of excellent picturization and one that tells a story fresh and bright in every detail. It has a force carried by few film comedies.

Tuesday and Wednesday, the Sexton will offer Bryant Washburn in the human interest comedy, "The Way of a Man With a Maid." This is a Paramount film of excellent picturization and one that tells a story fresh and bright in every detail. It has a force carried by few film comedies.

The bill for Thursday and Friday will present Dorothy Gish in another big Paramount film "The Hope Chest."

SENT TO HOSPITAL
John Jones, aged 18, was picked up last night by the police and sent to the detention hospital on orders of Health Officer B. A. Place. The nature of the boy's ailment was not exactly diagnosed, but it appeared evident that he was suffering from a contagious disease. Jones came to the city with the train load of men who returned from Nitro several weeks ago.

GAMBLING CHARGE RESULT OF VISIT

Sheriff J. P. Burns and County Attorney Bennet yesterday afternoon investigated a gambling charge preferred against Martin Cacic at Sand Coulee by Deputy Sheriff A. C. Trice as the result of a raid made on the soft drink stand supposedly conducted there by Cacic. The county attorney said last night that Deputy Trice entered the place while a game was in progress and that he was able to get a pot containing $11 as evidence, although the players threw the most of their money and their cards and chips on the floor. Mike Milos is also suspected in connection with the game that was allegedly in progress. Milos was under suspicion last summer on a sedition charge.

Cacic was placed under bonds by Justice of the Peace Vernon and the case will receive further action from the county attorney the first of the week. Mr. Bennet said last night that Cacic practically admitted his guilt.
