Newcomers' Luncheon Successful Affair.

One of the prettiest and most successful luncheons that has been given by any of the clubs was given Thursday afternoon at 1 in the palm room of Hotel Rainbow by the Newcomers' club.

The table formed in a large T extended the length of the palm room and was attractively decorated with large cut glass vases of pink roses and lilies intermingled with sprays of fern. Miniature red, white and blue hutchets were used as place cards.

Immediately following the luncheon an interesting program was given. Mrs. Hiram F. Johnson rendered two violin numbers, "Liebes Freund" by Kreisler and "Minuet in G" by Beethoven. "The Call of the Rahda" by Ware and "God Smile Upon the Desert" by Cadman were the selections that were so ably rendered by Mrs. A. E. Barkemeyer, Margaret Brown, pupil of Mrs. C. W. March and who has read before the Newcomers a few times before, very cleverly gave her interpretations of the "Conquette Conquered" by Paul Lawrence Dunbar and "The Famine Scene" from "Hilawatha."

Miss Grace Maxwell of Seattle and Miss Josephine A. Brown of the local Y. W. C. A. both spoke in the interest of the "Carry On" campaign which the Y. W. C. A. will soon wage in this city. Miss Maxwell spoke principally on the national aims and accomplishments of the Y. W. C. A. while Miss Brown spoke more on the local and state work.

The guests at the luncheon were: Mrs. Harry H. Roberts, Mrs. Bertram Grant, Mrs. S. S. Singer, Mrs. Seybert Peterson, Mrs. J. W. Speer, Mrs. Fred Kaufman, Mrs. John W. Stanton, Miss Viola Stanton, Mrs. Frank M. Wallace, Mrs. A. M. Irelan, Miss Josephine Brown, Mrs. G. M. Miller, Mrs. M. H. Hart, Mrs. G. F. Carpenter, Mrs. G. R. Ainsler, Mrs. B. H. Mitchell, Mrs. W. Junior Cast Gives Play and Party.

The cast of the junior play, "Fawn No Fraud," had a party and banquet Friday night in the high school. The music room was changed into a dance hall and dancing was enjoyed by all. The main features of the dance were given by John McDonald as Isabella Duncan and Andrew Kelly as Fatty Arbuckle. Games were enjoyed during the evening and among them was a shadow movie offered by Bessie Peacock as Eski-maid and Louis Bailey as the Eskimo. Herbert Graybeal as the Eski-villain and Andrew Kelly as the Eski-pup. The playlet was entitled "The Eski-Romance," and the plot was as follows:

"The Eskimo and the Eski-maid were lovers and the Eski-villain came upon them when they were spooning under the Eski-moon and killed them, burying them to keep them from the Eski-pup. The Eski-pup came and ate the Eski-villain—too much for him—and he died.

The committee quartet, composed of the same four actors that took part in the shadow movie, all sang different songs and did different dances to different music at the same time. The music was played by Gladys O'Leary.

At 10 the guests assembled in the dining room, where a banquet awaited them. The long table was decorated with purple and gold, the junior class colors, and the center of the table was placed a bouquet of purple violets from which alternate streamers of purple and gold covered the table. Place cards representing the characters of the play and the work of Miss Lucille Bristol and Miss Helen Kennedy, marked the places of the illustrious guests. The toastmaster of the evening was Milton Schwindel, and after each guest had responded with a toast they were seated at the table and enjoyed a three-course luncheon. Miss Kennedy, in behalf of the cast, presented Mrs. Vivian Carson, the dramatic instructor, with a letter of appreciation. Between the courses the guests enjoyed themselves with stories, songs and dances.

Mr. and Mrs. Josephs Entertain for Lieutenant Josephs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Josephs were the host and hostess at a dinner party given in the peacock room of the Park hotel Thursday night complimentary to Lieut. Louis Josephs, a brother of Mrs. Josephs. Lieut. Josephs was in the first contingent of 20 surgeons that left California in June, 1917, for overseas service. He was transferred from the navy to the army in France and was in active service during the heaviest fighting in the Argonne forest. Lieut. Josephs has been in Great Falls on a 30 days' furlough visiting his brother and left Saturday morning to return to San Francisco to await further orders. When he is discharged from the service he plans on returning to Great Falls possibly to make his home.

Vases of red carnations were used in decorating the room and the dinner table. Dancing and cards were the main features of the afternoon's entertainment. Covers were laid for 12. A number of social functions were given for Lieut. Josephs while in the city but this one was given in honor of his birthday.

A. C. A. Entertains for Senior Girls and Their Mothers.

Last evening in the club room and gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A. the members of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae entertained at a banquet and party complimentary to the senior girls of the high school and their mothers. Since 1916 it has been the custom of this association every year to give some social affair either as a reception, a banquet or party for the senior girls who are soon to graduate from the Great Falls high school and enter college or the business world. The purpose of these affairs is to encourage the girls to continue their school work and to enter some college or university, even if it may only be for a year or so but preferably for the four-year course so that they may be better equipped to enter the business world when occasion demands.

The gymnasium was decorated in the patriotic colors and flags, long red, white and blue streamers intertwined were draped in festoons about the chandeliers from which other streamers were draped to the four corners of the room. Numerous flags were hung on the walls with a large American flag floating at the rear end of the gymnasium.

The club room in which the banquet was served at 6:30 was decorated with crossed flags and vases of red carnations were artistically arranged on the tables. Music and games were played during the evening and interesting talks were given by members of the association.

The chairman of the committee, in charge of the affair are: Miss Myrle Murchie, president; Miss Rachel Baumgartner, refreshment committee; Miss Edith Lehr, entertainment committee; Miss Rosalie Borgman and Miss Clara Kuck, social committee.

Fashions and Other Things

Possibly none of the dress styles have been so popular for so many seasons as have the Betty Wales dresses. This style is especially fitted for the use of the school girl or the young business woman and because of this it has held the center of the stage for the past three years. "Betty Wales" was particularly planned for the use of the college girl, the boarding school girl and for hundreds of other American girls, who have passed the school age, by J. J. Goldman and is strictly an American design. On December 27 last Betty Wales (the dress) celebrated its third birthday at a real birthday party in New York. It was rather a spring opening and a large number of the latest models of the Betty Wales style were placed on display. "Betty Wales" will again be a favorite for the early spring dress when it is too warm to wear a wrap but too cold to wear some of the lighter spring and summer dresses.

This year sees the revival of the separate skirt and separate blouse. For the past two seasons the separate skirt has been somewhat in the background and more attention has been paid to the whole dress, but the coming spring brings with the revival of the separate skirt fashioned along more distinctive lines and with more style than has been attributed to it for several years.

The lines are to be narrow and simple with the box-pleat, the side pleat and the panel as the only means of varying the separate skirt from the plain, gathered model. The original combination skirt depends entirely on the combination of the colors and silks used in making. The black and white skirt is, however, the most popular of all. Skirts of black and white weight serge are made into very attractive models for sport wear while the same combination of colors in Kumm's Runtin, making striking models for afternoon wear either on the street or to the afternoon tea.

To be in keeping with the ever increasing demand for evening and formal gowns the novelty shops have provided an appropriate selection of petticoats and undergarments. Petticoats are shown in some of the daintiest laces and materials. Flesh color predominates, with a few pastel tints such as baby blue, primrose and even a few orchid shades. A number of games and musical numbers were given in the early part of the evening being followed later by dancing. Refreshments were served at midnight.

Red, white and blue crepe paper streamers were draped in a network across the ceiling and numerous jack-o'-lanterns placed here and there about the room were the only lights used.

The guests invited were: Mrs. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sherrard, Mrs. John Foreberg, Mrs. Mary Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cole, Mrs. Chona Gold, Mrs. Frank Sieber, Mrs. Horace Dunavent, Mr. and Mrs. Chester McConville, Miss Hazel Daniels, Miss Evelyn Lande, Miss Gladys, Adeline and Georgina Rexford, Miss Anna Clemons, Miss Eva Samouette, Miss Allida Johnson, Miss Lorene

Having a beautiful basket or dish of fresh fruit adorn the table at week end parties grows constantly in favor.

George Washington

Had a tactful way of intimating to his friends that he liked them to be punctual—he presented them with watches.

Probably they took the hint, at all events they must have been pleased with such a gift, for watches were rare and costly articles in those times.

The Van Cleave & Reisz Jewelry Store offers the best watches that can now be procured.

Women's Bracelet Watches, $25.00 to $60.00.

Men's Watches, $5.00 to $100.00.
