

BOLSHEVISM IS WORLD SPECTER ROSEN ASSERTS

What Happened to Russia and Germany Menaces Other Nations.

OWN LAND'S ONLY HOPE DICTATORSHIP, HE SAYS

New York, April 12.—Baron Rosen, formerly Russian ambassador to the United States and one of the peace plenipotentiaries who settled the war between Russia and Japan, in an address, today, before the Brooklyn chamber of commerce, his first public utterance since arriving in America, declared that it was the "deadly poison of bolshevism which brot on the defeat of Russia and next of Germany" and that its "sudden rise and stupendous growth" should be a solemn warning to the ruling classes in all belligerent countries.

"Russia, as a political entity, has temporarily ceased to exist," said Baron Rosen. "There is at present no political party or body of men which could be entitled to enter upon international engagements in the name of Russia and the Russian nation—least of all that small group of demagogues and fanatics who follow the murderous bandits who have usurped power by violence, who maintain their tyrannical power by a regime of terrorism such as the world has never seen, who have completely ruined and destroyed the social fabric of the state and who have turned what was once the empire of Russia into a wilderness of primitive barbarism, a prison, a lunatic asylum and a slaughter house."

Germs Lurking Dormant. "The germs of this deadly disease, bolshevism, altho lying dormant, were present and are still present everywhere," said the speaker, "bred and nurtured by an atmosphere of social unrest, an inevitable accompaniment of the wonderful achievements of modern civilization, which are doing so much to emphasize and render more glaring the contrast between the luxury and ease of the few and the want and limitations of the many, condemned to a life of incessant toil, joyless monotony and anxious insecurity."

Discussing the problem of the immediate future of Russia, the former ambassador said it is "one of unexampled difficulty." Its solution is required in the interest of world peace, he declared, adding that "if bolshevism be not now extirpated root and branch and if it is suffered to spread any further, it might come to mean the doom of our race and civilization."

Sole Glimmer in Chaos. "No one can tell when and how the time will come when the world will again behold Russia reconstituted as a political entity and able to resume her place in the family of nations," continued the ex-ambassador. "For the present, the only glimmer of hope seems to lie in the evolution out of the prevailing chaos of a military dictatorship, such as must always be the outcome of a prolonged state of anarchy, if the teachings of history are to be believed. Some indications of the possibility of a similar development are already discernible. Admiral Kolchak, the head of the Siberian government, having of late secured the submission to his authority of General Denikin of the Kuban Cossacks and Krasnov of the Cossacks of the Don, it seems to begin to use in his public utterances the firm language of a dictator, conscious of his power and determined to render his will supreme."

FRANCE TO TRAIN POLISH ARMY. Berlin, April 12.—The Polish paper Luch, of Thorn, announces that according to the military convention, France is required to train the Polish army under the French system. Twelve hundred French officers, the newspapers says, will begin this training soon.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, languor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order. PROF. HEMMETER says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance only to the heart."

We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom. The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, acting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation. A blockage in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or yellow acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloe, jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

STOCKTON, CALIF.—"For constipation, sick headache, an inactive liver, indigestion and biliousness there is nothing to equal Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I have tried other things but like the 'Pellets' best of any."—Miss E. CANNFIELD, 229 S. Grant Street.

WIRE RATE RISE DUE TO UNEVEN FIELDS IS PLEA

W. U. Gets Lean Business, Postal the Fat, Says U. S. Board.

Washington, April 12.—In making available today figures upon which it based the increase of telegraph rates, the wire control board directs attention to the fact that while the increase in prices of products and service of various industrial and mercantile corporations have increased 100 per cent, telegraph service has been rendered at pre-war prices throughout the period when industrial and business profits were unprecedented. "The increase of 20 per cent in telegraph rates," says the statement, "should be considered in comparison with the 100 per cent increase in other prices, and it is less than that found necessary to add to the railroad freight rates and is greater than has been made generally in other public utility rates in order to obviate financial collapse."

Discussing a comparison of the self-sustaining operations of the Postal company with the smaller proportions of the Western Union, the statement declares that during the six months from August, 1918, to January 1919, the Postal carried only about one-sixth of the business of the country, limited to profitable fields, while the Western Union carried five-sixths of the business, much of which extended into fields less profitable, but which gave a service necessary to maintain the requirements of the public.

During the same period the Postal carried only about one-twelfth of the government business, carried an approximately 40 per cent of the commercial rate and claimed by both companies to be a loss of 50 per cent of the operating costs. In this connection the board says it is informed that instructions were issued by officials of the Postal, directing their subordinates to avoid government business whenever it could be done.

JAPS CHARGED

(Continued from Page One.) police departments to control them by means of apprehending the ringleaders and dispersing the crowd. The mobs, however, taking advantage of the lenient attitude of the government, have increased their activities until they amount to lawless outrages and have increased their area of operations over the greater part of the peninsula. The accounts of the last three days show that more than 200 fatalities are now afoot, and large numbers of innocent people residing therein are suffering greatly. Some have been forced to join the bandits and others are receiving immense damage to property and business. "Under these circumstances no one expects that the military forces will remain passive. If the government allows the riots to take their course, the outrages will not only increase, but the movement will eventually ally itself with bolshevism, which now controls the greater part of Siberia to which Korea is adjacent. "Impelled by this situation, the Japanese government has now decided to send to Korea a military contingent consisting of six companies and 400 gendarmes, hoping thereby to restore order and bring back prosperity to the people as soon as possible."

EXODUS OF ALIENS U. S. MONEY PERIL

Banks Urged to Check Rush Which Threatens to Take Out $4,000,000,000.

New York, April 12.—All the saving banks in the United States are asked in letters sent out today, by the savings bank section of the American Bankers' association, to aid in checking the exodus from this country of thousands of aliens who are sailing for their native lands with millions of American dollars. Due to bolshevik propaganda, the association says, an "alarming" proportion of the 14,000,000 foreign-born population in the United States are selling their Liberty bonds and withdrawing their money from the banks. "It is estimated that about 1,300,000 cannot be stopped from going and that they will carry with them nearly four billion dollars, or four-fifths of the total currency in circulation and in reserve in the United States before the war," said the letters.

SHOOTING GUILT

(Continued from Page One.) minutes before he heard of the killing and at that time Wilber had on his shirt front a diamond stud and a diamond ring on his left hand. Further the witness also alleged that Wilber had two $50 bills in his possession. Witnesses who followed Lucier on the stand stated that when the clothes were searched the diamond was missing from the shirt front, there was no ring on his finger and the money was gone from his pockets. According to the testimony, Bessie Burt met Chief of Police McKinnon on the street and asking for the Burt woman and in a conversation with him she said she was nervous and had not slept well the night before. About an hour after this conversation she went to the hardware department of the E. A. Buttry store and purchased the Colt's automatic revolver which she used in the shooting. Several witnesses said that Wilber was wearing the diamonds on Wednesday and Thursday.

Accused Woman Silent.

The Walker woman who was in the store when the shooting occurred in the bedroom at the rear, told the same story on the stand that she told the night of the tragedy relative to Wilber coming into the store and asking for the Burt woman and then going directly to her room, and that she heard no sound until the fatal shot was fired. Miss Walker stated at the inquest that she ran out of the store and telephoned for the police and a doctor and that Bessie Burt went back into her bedroom. The Walker woman was gone from the store several minutes. Bessie Burt appeared at the inquest in custody of Sheriff McLean but her attorney, J. P. Donnelly, objected to her presence there, saying that she could not be compelled to testify or remain at the inquest. After being asked the formal questions of whether she would testify or use her right not to, she stated she would not go on the stand and was returned to the county jail by the sheriff.

House's Character Questioned.

County Attorney Straubman then questioned the Walker woman further by asking her if it were not true that the candy and cigar store was just a blind and that the two were really conducting a house of prostitution. Her reply was that they were not and that to her knowledge Bessie Burt had not conducted such a place prior to her being employed at the store. The county attorney then asked this same question to Chief of Police McKinnon, who answered that he "didn't know." Mr. Straubman was unable to learn from the witnesses anything as to relations existing between Wilber and the Burt woman as all examined stated they were not familiar with his dealings with her.

Mountain of Air Bars Atlantic Flight Now

New York, April 12.—A great invisible "mountain" of high atmospheric pressure has loomed up in mid-Atlantic regions and stands as a menace to any aviator who attempts the trans-Atlantic flight under present weather conditions, officials of the New York weather bureau asserted tonight. They were unable to predict when the "mountain" would be leveled. A previous knowledge of weather conditions, it was explained, is almost essential to an aviator contemplating a distance flight, so he can "sandwich" his trip in between storms. The menace of the high atmospheric pressure "mountain" lies in the fact that it has upset all weather prognostications so that the probable course of any given storm cannot be even roughly calculated.

LEAGUE PLANNERS

Being Big Power Suffices. "The commission was impressed by the justice of the Japanese claim. Mention was made of the fact that the covenant provided for the representation of Japan on the executive council as one of the five great powers, and that a rejection of the proposed amendment could not, therefore, be construed as diminishing the prestige of Japan."

Various members of the commission, however, felt that they could not vote for its specific inclusion in the covenant. Therefore, the commission was reluctantly unable to give to the amendment that unanimous approval which is necessary for its adoption."

Both Japan and France have announced that they reserved the right to bring up the amendments they desired before a plenary session of the conference.

Danger in Barring Foo Labor.

As it now stands the covenant contains 28 articles. At the meeting of the peace conference Friday before the report of the committee on international labor legislation was adopted, Emile Vandervelde, Belgian labor delegate, made what was in effect a minority report. He advocated the admission to the international labor conference of delegates from countries with which a state of war still exists, saying that otherwise he felt there might be held another conference where the proletariat from all countries will be represented and which would yield approval of the report. The conference to be held in Washington next October. He concluded by saying that questions relative to the adoption of an eight-hour day, equality of salaries for men and women workers and legislation dealing with night work must be settled. "There are two ways to arrive at these results," he said. "One is the Russian way and the other the British method. I prefer the latter."

M. Collard, the French labor delegate, spoke briefly bespeaking French support and approval of the report.

Recommendations embodied in the report of the committee on international labor legislation which was adopted by the peace conference yesterday include the following: "Employers and workers should be allowed the right of association for all lawful purposes. No child should be permitted to be employed in industry or commerce before the age of 14, in order that every child be insured reasonable opportunities for mental and physical education. Between the years of 14 and 18 young persons of either sex may be employed at work which is not harmful to their physical development on conditions that their technical or general education is assured. Every worker has the right to a wage adequate to maintain a reasonable standard of life, having regard to the civilization of his time and his country. Equal pay should be given to women and men for work of equal value in quantity and quality."
