

TRAIN SERVICE GOOD FOR FLYING CIRCUS

Passengers From Five Directions Will Arrive in Great Falls Saturday in Time for Exhibition. Personnel, Number of Machines Unannounced.

Train schedules affecting travel into Great Falls are well adapted to the requirements of people from outside points who desire to attend the Victory Loan flying circus on Saturday. Trains on all roads into Great Falls will arrive in time to give their passengers opportunity to witness the flight, which will start at 2 in the afternoon or shortly thereafter. Five trains are due in Great Falls every day before 2:30, three of them arriving before 2. Great Northern train No. 228, from Cascade and points west, will pull into the station at 2:20, and will be the last of the five to bring people to the circus. Milwaukee train No. 117, from Denton, Geraldine, Highwood and intermediate points, will arrive at 2:10, and should the flights be started promptly at 2 they will have been in progress only a few minutes before visitors on either of these trains are on the ground. There will be no delays in getting to the show ground or in purchasing tickets, as the theater of the exhibition will be the entire city and everyone without a stiff neck can see it all.

Great Northern Train No. 237, from Hobson, Stanford, Belt and Nelbart will arrive at 12:15, and the train from Havre and Fort Benton is due at 1:30. The Choteau train, carrying passengers from that town, Bynum and Pendroy, will be the first in the city, arriving at 10:30. With this service available the committee decided that special trains will not be necessary to accommodate the immense crowd that is sure to be in attendance. Wind, it is announced, will not prevent the flights and only the most extreme weather conditions of any kind will be capable of postponing the exhibition.

From the number of machines and personnel of the circus has not yet been informed as to the number of machines that will fly in Great Falls or the personnel of the group to come this way from Helena. The special train, due to arrive in Great Falls at 10 in the morning, will have two express cars and a Pullman and will carry probably 25 people, but the management of the circus has not yet informed the committee as to which of the famous flyers will be in Great Falls. A message conveying the desired advice is expected this morning.

From the number of machines carried with the circus it is expected that at least four and probably six will be sent to Great Falls. Eighteen planes are being taken thru the country, but it is seldom that more than 12 of them are in commission, and the local committee knows no reason why those available should not be equally divided between the two groups that will be sent out from Helena.

Great Falls merchants, in order to give their clerks a chance to witness the flights of the visiting aviators, will close their stores from 2 until 4.

MONTANA BRONG GIVES WORLD-WIDE SERVICE

Ridden by Army Officers in Hawaii, Mexico, France and Africa.

Special to The Daily Tribune.
Cut Bank, April 24.—A great many deserving stories have been printed about the gallant soldier boys that have been to war, but this has to do with a horse that can well be termed a soldier of fortune about five years ago Tom Dawson of Glacier Park sold to Col. W. P. Mapes, a regular army officer, also of Glacier Park, "Tago," a Blackfoot Indian reservation bronco that was taken by the colonel to Honolulu. When Col. Mapes left there he sold the horse to Chaplain Aiken of the infantry, who in turn brot "Tago" to the United States, and on being sent to the Mexican border in 1916 took the horse with him. When war was declared the chaplain's company was one of the first to be sent to France and "Tago" again went along. The horse was engaged in many battles in France during the past year and when the armistice was signed it was the intention of the chaplain to return the horse to America, but "Tago" was sold to the French government. Fate decreed that the western bronco was to join the "Franco-Africain," a part of the French army stationed in northern Africa, and according to a letter recently received from the colonel by Mr. Dawson, "Tago" had already sailed for Africa. This bronco has since seen much service in the past two years and, as Mr. Dawson says, is entitled to a service flag.

Great Falls Will Not Be Included on Test Run Park-to-Park

Helena, April 24.—H. W. Child and a party of five men will tomorrow make a test trip by motor car from Helena to Glacier park to secure road data for the Yellowstone-Glacier Park-to-park motor car line that the Yellowstone park hotel and transportation company, of which Mr. Child is the head, will operate between the parks this summer.

Mr. Child has been told by the good roads enthusiasts that the trip from Helena to Glacier park can be made by car in eight hours, and an attempt will be made to make that time. The party will even try to drive the round trip during the day. The distance is about 190 miles.

Mr. Child, who announced the trip today, said the route would be via Choteau and not by Great Falls. He said he had information from Choteau that the road beyond that place is now good and direct.

MERCHANT MARINE NEEDS RECRUITS

Commercial Club Asked to Assist in Securing Men for This Service.

Support of the Great Falls Commercial club has been asked for the recruiting service of the United States merchant marines. The club is requested to make a direct appeal to the young men of the community who may be seeking positions and to emphasize the fact that excellent opportunities are awaiting those interested in this sort of employment. It is pointed out that if ships already constructed are delayed or indefinitely tied up because of the lack of crews, the building of new ships must automatically cease. The only available place to obtain these crews is at the training station, and it must continue to be manned if the work is to be carried forward consistently.

The commercial club is informed that since the declaration of war the United States has built up the second largest merchant marine in the world. Ships under construction or contracted for will make it second to none. With the ships built, the next problem was to man them and experienced men who were American were scarce. They comprised but a small fraction of the number required and to build up a personnel for the merchant marine the government established five training stations, the nearest one to Great Falls being at Seattle. It is here that all men from the north-west states are trained and facilities are at hand for handling 600 men every six weeks. This number is required to meet the calls for ship crews leaving Seattle and Portland, and the only place from which such crews can be recruited are at the training station. If the station is not kept supplied with new men the indefinite delay of ships will be a result.

Any man between the ages of 18 and 35, who is an American citizen and in sound physical health is eligible for enrollment, the period of enrollment is one year. Transportation from the point of enrollment to the training station at West Seattle is repaid if he is accepted by the examining surgeon. Uniforms and work clothes are furnished without charge. The candidate is placed on a training ship for from four to eight weeks, during which time he is furnished with board and room and paid $1 per day. After his graduation he is immediately placed aboard an ocean-going ship, after which his compensation is as follows:

Engine department, per month, oiler and water tender, $80; fireman, $75; coal passer, $65.

Deck department, able seamen, $75; ordinary seamen, $55.

Steward's department, cook $60 to $100; mess man, $60; mess boy $55.

LITTLE HOPE FOR LOW PRICES NOW

Conditions Against Lower Cost on Foodstuffs for Many Months Yet.

About high prices!
"Tell us they are going to go down soon," says the average Mrs. Housewife every week or so to her grocer.

"Great Caesar's ghost but these prices are awful," says Mr. Provider, who pays for a loaf of bread what he used to pay for a steak for three.

Put Mr. Grocer keeps mum and doesn't make any rash or glowing promises about the immediate drop which is coming in beans, in sugar or sardines. He keeps still because he doesn't see any chance of the drop approaching and if he was to give out any of the information he gets from his numerous bulletins and market lists it wouldn't cause the housewife to rush out and start a jubilee right away. His news would be sad and mournful.

Mr. Grocer—the modern Mr. Grocer, who keeps up on the signs of the times and knows all about labor, markets here and there and everywhere and all the rest of the history of everything he sells from the rice to the spices, knows that things are going up.

One man in Great Falls who keeps up with all these things and who knows all about it said when asked whether fruit was going down right away: "We have to take into consideration the increased freight and express rates, and we have to remember that the biggest percentage of cost is the labor that handles the fruit from the time it leaves the trees."

And when discussing canned goods he mentioned that the majority of retail merchants are carrying heavy stocks of merchandise but some time ago and are still receiving "future" goods but at the time the armistice was signed. Canners had contracted for fruit at a price—and naturally they cannot permit prices to be lowered.

Another reason for higher prices is the big foreign trade. The heretofore belligerent nations are coming into this country and bidding up groceries to secure prompt shipment. Coffee has been advancing continually. Shortage of a crop causes it to be up, as well as a noticeably heavier consumption since many states have gone dry. The man who in the 'old days' had a bottle of beer with his lunch has decided that coffee has a pretty fair kick in it after all.

The cost of doing business is as it always was and is not showing any signs of decreasing right away. None of the manufacturers or producers are taking any desperate steps toward reconstruction until the big men across the pond finish the peace business, and until the peace negotiations are actually history authorities say that manufacturers and producers aren't going to do much towards lowering prices.
