The brain is the switchboard of our life. Our eyes "call in" and indicate what is to be done, when to do it and how to do it. This line of communication is constantly working back and forth every hour we are awake. Those of you who have poor eye- sight have, for years, been over- working and straining the pre- cious, delicate nerve and muscle construction of the "telosight" lines. Money cannot install a new sys- tem to replace the one weakened by neglect—it is, therefore, advis- able to immediately consult a re- liable optometrist at first indica- tions of eye strain or confused vision.

CLOSING OUT!

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS

The Emporium Millinery Store

6 Sixth Street South Near Corner of Sixth and Central

A merciless slaughter of the entire stock. No sale has ever been held in this city that can equal this stupendous one—slashing prices right and left, sacrificing the whole stock. We want to make a clean sweep of every dollar's worth of millinery in the store, and nothing but a clean sweep will suffice. Stock is going down with lightning rapidity. But they will move even swifter now, down goes every price again, lower prices than ever before. Can you dare to overlook this, the most colossal of all closing-out sales? Bring your neighbors and be here when the doors open at 9 o'clock.

Let us help you solve your hat problem. Visit this Retiring From Business Sale.	Selling out Trimmed Tailored and Sailor Hats, extremely under- priced, $1.85, $2.95, $3.85.	Your Bonnet is here. Shop early. We are crowded every day.

A Retiring-From-Business Closing-Out Sale that is the talk of all Great Falls. It's the greatest and most colossal in history, the most staggering and price-cutting massacre of values ever known, a most barbarous butchering of prices such as never was, never will be and never can be equaled by any house in Montana.

WE DON'T WANT THIS MILLINERY STOCK. WE DON'T WANT THE STORE. DO YOU? The whole or any part of it will be sold to any one at these prices, storeroom for rent, fixtures for sale. We are quitting the millinery business. We bid you welcome. Selling out, retiring from business.
