CAN DEMPSEY'S RIGHT STOP WILLARD'S LEFT?

Jess Willard's left hand and arm is the big fellow's greatest asset insofar as pugilistic ability is concerned. With it he can jab as rapidly as many of the fastest little men in the ring. Willard's friends say it carries the necessary kick, too. Experts are agreed that Dempsey must stop Jess' sputhup mitt if he hopes to annex the title when the pair meet at Toledo, July 4.

Dempsey Will Box in Sun to Fit Him for Hot Fourth

Challenger Does Four Slugging Rounds With Bill Tate, His Giant Negro Sparring Partner.

Toledo, May 27.—The sun beat down fiercely on Jack Dempsey's camp, today, and caused his handlers again to send him thru his paces during the cool hours of the morning. It was so hot that Dempsey and his trainer took a swim this afternoon, in an attempt to cool off.

Trainer De Forest sent Dempsey thru his first vigorous workout. The challenger boxed six rounds—four fast with Bill Tate and two with Terry Keller. Dempsey was on the top of Tate from the start, and the giant negro received a punching that he didn't appreciate. Right hand uppercuts nearly lifted him off his feet.

After the boxing, Dempsey shadow-boxed for 15 minutes and then punched the bag.

Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, plans to gradually switch his proteges hours of working, so that he will become hardened to the heat of midday. Kearns realizes that when Dempsey and Willard get into the ring, July 4, the day may be burning hot and that Dempsey should do all of his boxing under the same conditions likely to prevail Independence Day, with the effects of the sun. Boxing in the heat, Trainer De Forest fears, will reduce Dempsey's weight too rapidly.

The army, navy and civilian board of boxing control, numbering among its members several officers of the army and navy and representative citizens, today answered the protest of the federated churches of Ohio against the match. The letter was addressed to Edward R. Wright, secretary of the organization at Cleveland.

"The government made boxing an integral part of the training of soldiers for war, which resulted in a great revival of the sport, the letter reads. "For every person opposed to boxing in America, we are convinced that there are a thousand devoted followers of the sport to whom the proposed match will be a source of innocent and pleasurable entertainment and we cannot see any reason why it should be denied them any more than we could see the justice of interfering with any of the religious entertainments which you frequently organize.

"If you will pardon our saying so, your opposition is half a century behind the times. We consider that those who are opposing this match are incurring grave responsibility as such opposition can only react to the detriment of religion in the minds of millions of men who can see no harm in two opponents of the highest skill in a game sport entertaining contest for supremacy. We have read the rules of the Toledo Boxing commission, governing public contests in that city, and we have no hesitation in saying that they are a model of what such rules should be."

ALLEE SAMEE, HE LITEE BASEBALL DOPE

Lee Woo, reporting ball game.

Lee Woo, the great Hong Kong baseball writer, has been engaged by a San Francisco paper to report the daily games of the professional leagues in the west. Lee hails from Pa in China. He became an adept in the art of playing shuttlecock at the age of ten and at fourteen he was a champion. Because of his superiority at the game he was ruled off and then had to content himself with being umpire. At sixteen, when he was considered the greatest authority on the game, he met a missionary that taught him baseball in America. He manufactured a set of gloves, balls and bats and induced his followers to play the game. With Lee as umpire the game prospered. He has now come to America and is conducting the column entitled "Strike Outs." He is here seen watching a close play thru a telescope, after which he yells, "Take out pitchee man; him aim go by-by."

HIS MIDDLE J IS NOW EXPLAINED

O'Mahony's Friends Make a Discovery When Jerry Goes a Fishing.

Jerry J. O'Mahony's friends have often wondered what the middle initial of his name stood for. For the benefit of all curious, it may be said with a degree of authority that it stands for "Fourteen." It means that Jerry never started on the "thirteen" peg but insists on getting to the fourteenth one. He allowed everybody else to go ahead of him and whip the streams and then he came along and in three hours he came back with his basket filled with 14 fine trout. But that wasn't all. The fish were so nearly an exact size that an observer insisted they be measured when it was discovered that each of them measured an even 14 inches except the fourteenth one taken from the basket and that one measured 13 13-14th of an inch in length and when it was inspected it was discovered that there was a peculiar mark on its right ear. Asked to explain that fact, Mr. O'Mahony declared that it was the first one taken from the stream and that he hadn't gotten his sense of touch to working smoothly when he landed that one and didn't realize until he had it hooked that it was a fraction under length. And so the "J" in Jerry's name stands for "Fourteen" and proves conclusively that he is some fisherman.

A Prayer For Rain

Oh, God, most merciful and just, From whom all blessings flow; Who mark the sparrow's fall And see each twig or blade that grow. Temper these hot winds that burn, They scorch our parching grain, Help us in this time of need, And bless us now with rain.

We've filled our last half-acre, We've staked our very all, That we might feed thy world at large, A bumper crop this fall. All mankind in the universe Depends upon our grain. We've won the war, now feed the world. Please, God, send us some rain.
