OLD GRAY HORSE PASSES SUDDENLY

Animal Being Driven in Team Making Excavation for Johnson Block Checks in.

There is no claim that it was "the old gray horse that came tearing thru the wilderness," but a gray horse belonging to F. E. Evans, the contractor, dropped dead yesterday morning while being driven in a team employed in making the excavation for the Johnson block at 417-419 Central avenue. The horse died shortly after one yesterday afternoon. He had passed a busy forenoon on the job and 14 teams kept on busy as teams could be all forenoon starting the work of making the basement for the new five story block that is to be erected there. Contractor H. Fagenstrom of Fagenstrom brothers, who has the job of making the excavation said there were no formalities to the passing of the horse but added that he decided to pass in his checks and did it quickly. Asked what the "death certificate" would show as the cause of the passing of the old gray horse, Mr. Fagenstrom laughed as he remarked "The bellyache."

MRS. NELSON ASKS DIVORCE DECREE

Extreme cruelty is alleged in a divorce action brot in district court Friday by Olive Nelson against N. B. Nelson, to whom she was married at Granite Falls, Minn., November 8, 1888. SUN RIVER WOMEN STUDY TEXTILES

At a meeting of the Women of the Farm Bureau of Sun River on Wednesday, the subject of textiles was up for discussion, the first part of the forenoon being spent in a contest. There were several groups of textiles arranged on the tables and the women, provided with pencil and paper, examined the textiles, giving the fibre or combination of fibres of which they were made. Mrs. J. H. Hancock won with a perfect score. A great deal of interest was shown in the textile testing and the need for a pure textile law was discussed. It was decided to put on a campaign for textile testing when buying goods. This would cooperate and this co-operation would soon compel the manufacturer to label his goods properly and charge accordingly. Mixed goods have their place on the market but they should be labeled and priced according to the material of which they are made.

FRANK WINS ON DEFAULT

No appearance was made by the plaintiff in district court yesterday in the two actions brot by Mrs. Weinberger against John Frank, her son-in-law, and the cases were ordered dismissed for lack of prosecution. Differences between the defendant and Mrs. Weinberger arose as a result of family troubles, it is understood, a third action being suit for divorce brot by Mrs. Frank.

Men Doing Drudgery at Army School in France to Start for Home Today.

Special to The Daily Tribune.

Washington, June 13.—Senator Walsh was notified today that the Montana troops stationed at the American Expeditionary Forces college at Baume, France, would depart from there tomorrow. They should reach Montana about July 10. This is taken to be the result of inquiries made by Senator Walsh following upon complaint that a large number of Montana soldiers who were enlisted members of the old Second Montana regiment were being retained in France and that they were being compelled to do drudgery around the army university where thousands of men who had not been nearly so long in the service were receiving collegiate and scientific training without being subjected to onerous tasks. A copy of the complaint together with a partial list of Montanans so employed was published in The Tribune several weeks ago.

McCOY'S

IT TELLS ABOUT THE CELEBRATION

Ad Club Sends Out Letter to Newspapers of State Heraldizing Big Program.

In its effort to help advertise the celebration which the people of Great Falls are planning to hold on July 4, the Great Falls Ad club has just sent out the following letter as its first in a series by which it proposes to become an active agency in helping with publicity work in Great Falls:

"Great Falls is pushing forward preparation for the patriotic celebration of Independence day, July 4, on a scale that guarantees the most elaborate entertainment effort in its history. Business men of the city have raised a 'war chest' of sufficient dimensions to provide all manner of free fun for its citizens and guests, and every effort is being turned to make this an event that is more than local in its scope and appeal.

"On July 4 in Great Falls, Northern Montana will pay tribute to the soldiers and sailors who have helped write Montana's name in the nation's history during the past two years. The city will be turned over to them for the day. It will also be the ambition of the citizens in charge of the celebration to give fitting recognition and reception to the delegations from surrounding towns and cities that may decide to make Great Falls the scene of their 1919 Fourth of July celebration.

"The usual dances and free entertainments, an athletic program featuring boxing contests that will be more than usual, gigantic fireworks displays and other features now being arranged, are on the bills for the day, but it is the hope of the committees in charge that the celebration can be made a real tribute to the boys who recently wore the khaki and the blue of the land and sea forces of the United States.

"On behalf of Great Falls, the business men extend to all residents in the surrounding district, an invitation to participate in its festivities on July 4.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Paris is shortening her skirts. Looped silk in silk or wool is popular. Separate skirts are assuming an important position in woman's wardrobe. There is a revival of the lace parasols one had lace mounted over green taffeta.

Headaddresses of all sorts are popular and are worn low on the head, covering the entire brow and quite often the eyebrows.
