And Blackheads On Face and Arms. Itched. Did Not Sleep. 2 Cakes Cuticura Soap and 2 Boxes Ointment Healed.

"I had been a sufferer from pimples and blackheads on my face and arms for three years. The pimples were scattered over my face, and they itched so that I used to scratch and I did not even sleep. I found out about Cuticura so I sent for a sample. I then bought more, and after using two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed."

Delicate, sensitive skins with tendency to pimples, redness or roughness, should not be irritated by strongly medicated soaps. Why not use for every-day toilet purposes, Cuticura, a delicately medicated soap, touching the first signs of pimples with Cuticura Ointment?

Do not fail to include the exquisitely scented Cuticura Talcum in your toilet preparations. 25c everywhere.

To many of us who have lost a loved one, the home seems to be the most appropriate place to hold the funeral services, but in many cases the home is not large enough to accommodate all of the friends who wish to attend, and for such instances, the W. H. George Co. have arranged their funeral home as near home as possible. We have private rooms for mourners and a rest room for ladies and children.

Two Nights of "Chin Chin" for Patrons of the Grand

Big Dillingham Success Coming to Great Falls Next Sunday and Monday Evenings—One of Biggest Stage Attractions on Tour.

Walter Wills and Roy Binder, the two leading comedians in "Chin Chin."

"Chin Chin", whose reputation as a famous entertainment has preceded its coming by almost two years, will be seen at the Grand opera house on next Sunday and Monday evenings.

By the box office returns, the most potent argument in the theatre when entertainments such as this are under consideration, "Chin Chin" is the greatest and the best.

Certainly the most exacting and sophisticated taste will ask for little or nothing more in facile playfulness, pretty dresses, swift dances and pranks amusement than this production has to offer.

Ivan Carrill's score is rich with ingratiating melodies, and the various stage settings make attractive pictures.

BELT CREEK ROAD IS PROGRESSING

Contractors Have 15 Camps Established but Are Looking for Additional Men.

That excellent progress is being made upon the grading of the joint county and federal road along Belt creek between March and the foot of King's hill, is stated by Roland J. White of the firm of White, Brown & Leahy which has the contract for that heavy piece of work.

At the present time the company has 15 camps established in the 19 mile stretch covered by the new road and is working about 100 men and a large number of teams. Much of the work is in rock and a great amount of blasting is required. It had at first been intended to put a steam shovel upon this work but that idea has been abandoned.

The work has been divided up into sections and it is the plan to have all of these completed and connected up at about the same time. Mr. White expects to take out two crews of masons today or tomorrow, men who will be employed upon the erection of concrete abutments for bridges.

The contractors are still in need of a couple of section crews, men who will be engaged upon rock work principally, and this was one of Mr. White's objects in coming to the city at this time. He is in hopes of securing enough men for this work before leaving the city.

The contractors have hopes of cleaning up this piece of road work in about 90 days.

LITTLE HOPE NOW OF FINDING BODY

Long Search for Victim of Sunday's Drowning Fruitless; One More Effort.

Search for the body of William Cipriani, the boy who was drowned in the Missouri river while swimming Sunday afternoon, was temporarily abandoned last evening with the arrival of darkness. Sheriff J. P. Burns, his deputies and a party of citizens worked through the day with motor boats in an effort to locate the body, but nothing was discovered capable of indicating where it was deposited by the current after the boy went down for the last time. Dynamite was used at intervals, but this method of bringing the body to the surface proved unsuccessful as well as the other means employed. Hooks, drag nets, poles and every implement that could possibly be of assistance in locating the body were brot into use. Some distance below the point where the boy disappeared a sand bar extends into the river at an angle that would, it is believed, stop the body if the current succeeded in carrying it, and the entire distance between the bar and the scene of the drowning was repeatedly covered by the boats, but without result.

Sheriff Burns found that the river in many places is 25 feet deep, altho there is a surprisingly swift undercurrent. The combination of deep water and swift current makes the search doubly difficult and altho another attempt to locate the body will be made today it is considered possible that it will not be found before it reaches Black Eagle dam. The dam is about five miles below the poor farm and, judging by former experiences, several weeks would be required for the body to float to that distance.

A $200 diamond ring was lost in the river yesterday by Charles Zuckerman, an expert swimmer and diver, who worked with Sheriff Burns during the greater portion of the day. Zuckerman is a pawn broker and had purchased the ring but a short time before he went to the river. After he had been down a few times he missed the ring from his finger, where he had placed it after making the purchase, and the probability of finding it was so remote that but little time was devoted to searching for it. Zuckerman has only one nephew, but is a remarkable performer in the water. He was in the river yesterday for hours and was of valuable assistance in the search.

Dan O'Reilly and Carl Knudson, who nearly lost their lives at the time young Cipriani was drowned, was yesterday re-

RAINFALL LIGHT, NOT ENCOURAGING

Total Precipitation for Past 50 Days Less Than Two Inches for This Section.

There was another shower last evening but when it had ended, the water gauge showed a scant six-hundredths of an inch of water as the result. It was just enough to wash the dust off the leaves and the grass and cool the atmosphere but not enough to make any appreciable showing in helping the wheat crop to grow. In fact, analyzed on the basis of cold, its value to the crops was practically nil and in that connection, it may be said that the rainfall from the middle of April to the present time, a period of two months, would not be enough, if it all were considered together, to make much of a showing on the crops for it would not all total two inches. There was less than an inch of rainfall for May and there has not been an inch of rainfall yet for June.

Reports last night from Floweree indicated there was a rather heavy fall of rain in that section, and according to E. Homer Stone, who was north of the city a little more than 25 miles and returned shortly before last midnight the rain was quite heavy north until he got within six miles of Great Falls. The water was standing in the fields and roadway and running in the ditches, according to Mr. Stone.

In this connection it may be stated that Choteau got more rain last night than at any time within a 10-day period, there being quite a good shower about 8 last evening. There was a light shower at Choteau yesterday afternoon about 3, according to word received from there last evening.

But the reports from various sections are in harmony on one point and that is that the frequent showers that are being reported are not sufficient to make a wheat crop, either for the winter or spring grain and that unless there comes a period of wet weather that will actually mean a consistent soaking of the ground for several inches in depth, and all agree that such a condition can only result from several days of steady and comparatively heavy downpour. The rains that have been coming have been only of the shower variety and light showers at that. The one last evening was heavier than usual and it would take 17 of them to make an inch of water. At that rate, with a shower just like the one of last evening falling every day in June, there would still lack one-fifth of an inch of being two inches of water. The rainfall of last week when there were several hours consecutive fall amounted to slightly more than one-half an inch, so it will be seen the total is not very encouraging.

May has previously, on crop years, been reasonably favorable in rainfall and June has produced a good amount, usually from three to four and one-half inches. The total rainfall for the month of May and the first 16 days of June this year is far less than what should have been the total for May and that leaves June a blank so that there would have to be three or more inches of rain in June yet to make things look very hopeful. But this year there was a condition not usually obtaining and that was a dry earth, such as has seldom been found here, for there have been two dry growing seasons and last winter was unusually free from snowfall, thereby adding to the complications. It is conceded by all that the remainder of June will have to be wet in the fullest sense of that term for there to be much grain harvested here.

Got Good Results. This honest, straight forward letter from a woman who has suffered should be heeded by all afflicted with backache, rheumatism pains, sore muscles, awful tired feeling and other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble: "I have got such good results from Foley Kidney Pills that I can sleep much better and the pain in my back and sides is a good lot better. I am going to keep on taking them." Mrs. Chas. Gray, 270 6th St., Detroit, Mich. Great Falls Drug Co.—Adv.

Build for Year 'Round Comfort

Insulate the walls and roof of your new home with Flaxlinum. It shuts out heat in summer and the cold in winter. Cuts coal bills one-third

THERE is no longer any reason why you shouldn't have a house that is comfortable and livable the year 'round—regardless of what the the temperature is outside.

Advance has been made in the science of building homes as well as along other lines. It is doubtful whether anything more important has ever been developed in home-building than house insulation.

What Insulation Means

Perhaps the word "house-insulation" doesn't convey much meaning to you. It is simply applying the principle of insulation used in your refrigerator and refrigerator cars to home building.

You know it is the insulation in the walls of your refrigerator that gives you the value of your ice. It keeps the heat out and the cold in, by preventing their passage through the walls.

It may interest you to know that Flaxlinum is used in insulating the best refrigerators and refrigerator cars. And also that Flaxlinum has been used in house insulation for the last eight years.

People who have used Flaxlinum tell us that if they were going to build again they couldn't afford not to use Flaxlinum. These people represent home-owners of all classes.

And this is the reason: Flaxlinum prevents the heat of summer and the cold of winter from passing through the walls and roof of the house. It keeps the house cool in summer—10 to 15 degrees cooler than one that is not insulated. And by keeping out the cold in winter it is possible to heat a house with 30 to 40 per cent less fuel.

A layer of Flaxlinum one-half inch thick, the thickness in which it is ordinarily used in house construction, is equivalent in heat and cold resisting resistance to thirty thicknesses of building paper—or to four inches of back plaster.

How Flaxlinum is Used

Flaxlinum is built into the walls and roof of a house—and to insure the greatest results should be used in both walls and roof. Detailed drawings showing exactly how it should be applied will be sent on request.

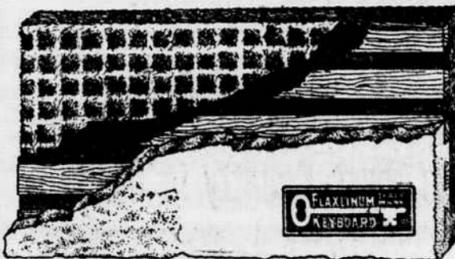

No special construction is necessary in either walls or roof. It is made to conform to the standard types of construction and can be put in place by anyone who can drive a nail.

Flaxlinum Keyboard for Stucco Houses

Flaxlinum Keyboard permits the insulation of stucco houses at the greatest economy of labor and cost of materials. It insures a warm, dry stucco house.

Flaxlinum Keyboard is built up of a sheet of Flaxlinum one-half inch thick, overlaid with one thickness of heavy saturated and coated asphalt paper. The Flaxlinum and paper are mounted on No. 1 white pine beveled lath.

Keyboard is nailed directly over the sheathing and is ready for the stucco.

Detail showing construction of Flaxlinum Keyboard and application of stucco to it.

Flaxlinum is sold by leading building material dealers everywhere. It is specified by the best architects and endorsed by reputable contractors.

If you do not know the name of your nearest Flaxlinum dealer, write us.

Free sample and literature sent on request. In writing please state what kind of building you are interested in.
