

CHILD'S ARM IN CLOTHES WRINGER

Ida Marie Cunningham, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cunningham of this city who has been ill for the past three weeks of scarlet fever, on Tuesday one day before the quarantine was to be lifted, suffered another misfortune that will cause her to refrain from playing for some little time. While helping her mother in doing the family washing the child caught her arm in the wringer, which passed over her hand and her forearm before Mrs. Cunningham could turn off the electricity. The child's arm was badly bruised but no bones were broken.

WIFE AVERS HE WED FOR MONEY

Mrs. G. L. Bennett Declares Husband's Charges False and Asks for Decree Herself.

That G. L. Bennett assumed marital relations with Annie L. Bennett for the purpose only of obtaining her property is the charge made in Mrs. Bennett's answer to her husband's divorce complaint. Bennett last week initiated an action in which he asks that his marriage be annulled, basing his suit on the allegation that prior to the wedding his wife had represented herself to be free of the liquor habit and all manner of excesses, but that shortly after the ceremony was performed she became intoxicated and that later developments showed her to be a habitual drunkard. In the wife's answer it is stated that no such representations were made for the reason that none were necessary. She brands his charges as false and in a cross complaint demands that she be awarded a decree of divorce on the ground that he married her with the intention of securing possession of her property.

Immediately after the marriage, Mrs. Bennett declares, her husband "began to devise ways and means to fetch money from her" and once induced her to open an account for him at a local bank. She advanced him $50 on that occasion, it is alleged, and later bought an automobile for his use, paying $1,750 for the machine. Bennett later claimed that the car was his, it is set out, and once attempted to get possession of it by force. Quarrels between husband and wife frequently occurred, according to the complaint, because of his attempts to obtain money and the charge is made that he once demanded that she turn over to him half of her property. When she refused, it is claimed, he threatened to kill her. Mrs. Bennett is said to be several years older than her husband. Mrs. Bennett's answer became record in district court yesterday.

THOMAS BROWN ASKS DECREE

Thomas W. Brown is plaintiff in a divorce action filed in district court against Gladys Brown, who is charged with desertion in the complaint. It is the husband's claim that the defendant voluntarily separated from him on January 7, 1916, with the intention of deserting him. They were married February 25, 1913.

BACK IN OLD POSITION

G. F. Honetschlagler will resume his former position as operator at the Great Northern station at Stanford within a few weeks, following his discharge from the service of the military. Mr. Honetschlagler enlisted at Stanford in June, 1917, and was with a signal corps in France for more than a year, receiving his discharge early in June. He will spend some time with relatives at New Elm, Minn., before reporting for duty.

BOOZE POURED INTO A SEWER

Sheriff's Force Obeys Court's Order to Dispose of Some Confiscated Goods.

Sheriff J. P. Burns officiated again yesterday at a little party, the principal feature of which was the destruction of a quantity of liquor recently confiscated by members of his force. Three two-gallon kegs of home made wine, five one-gallon jugs of home made wine, one 10-gallon keg of home made wine, one 20-gallon keg of home made wine, half full; two one-quart bottles of "Dago Red," one-half quart of the same liquor, and six quarts of Rockwood whiskey were ceremoniously dumped in the presence of Judges J. B. Leslie and H. H. Ewing and Deputy County Attorney F. A. Ewald, after the courts had ordered the stuff destroyed.

The liquor was seized by members of the sheriff's force some time ago and was confiscated and destroyed on the ground that it was being kept with the intention of using it as a means of violating the prohibition law. Ethel Thiellbar, until recently landlady of a local hotel, was defendant in one of the confiscation cases and the other was directed against John Doe, the sheriff having been unable to determine the owner.

Two cases pending disposition were ordered continued until July 9 on motion of the county attorney. These cases were filed against Thomas Martin and Dan Stafford.

WATER CARS MAY BE A NECESSITY

Great Northern Road Officials Fear Situation Will Require Them Unless Rain Comes.

Drought conditions on the Great Northern's Butte division will compel the hauling of water cars on trains between certain points unless relief is secured within a short time in the form of a general and continued precipitation. Wells used in filling water tanks at different places on the division have gone dry, or so nearly dry, that at the present time it is only with difficulty that a sufficient supply is maintained for the locomotives. This is true at Gerber junction, where continued pumping for longer than 20 minutes at a time exhausts the well, making it necessary to start the machinery frequently during the days. At Hardy and Johns, where springs have in the past been depended on for a water supply, it has become necessary to adopt special measures to overcome the effects of the drought.

Water shortage at still other places on the division is threatened to an extent, according to Superintendent Fred Wear, that makes adoption of the water car system a probability for the near future. The low condition of the railroad wells is attributed by the superintendent to the light snow fall last winter as much as to the drought this summer.

Superintendent Wear estimates that crops in his territory will average not over 10 per cent of normal this year. He made a report to that effect in June and shortly afterwards a party of officials from headquarters made an inspection trip over the division, concurring in the superintendent's estimate after viewing the country. Range conditions are also bad on the Butte division and shipment of stock to eastern ranges will be begun within a few weeks.

Early last spring Superintendent Wear states, preparations were begun for moving one of the largest crops in Montana's agricultural history and the outcome of the season is as severe a disappointment to the railroad as to the farmers and stockmen. Special effort had been made to have on hand an adequate supply of cars and enough locomotives were available to insure against congestion at grain-receiving points, but only a minimum demand will be made on the road's facilities because of the short crop.

CHACHICH SUES FOR DISSOLUTION

He Also Asks Court to Order Accounting for Funds of Business From His Partner.

Suit for dissolution of partnership and an accounting has been brot in district court by Robert Chachich, who directs the action against his partner, Dan Jurisich. He claims that he entered into partnership agreement with the defendant on May 4, 1919, for the purpose of conducting a soft drink business at the old Five Taps bar, and that he was ejected from the place on June 7. Since that date, the complaint relates, he has not been allowed in the building.

The parties to the suit have been twice in court as a result of differences coming to a head June 7. One was tried in police court on an assault charge and the other answered to a similar accusation in justice court. Chachich, additional to a decree of dissolution and an order for an accounting, asks that the defendant be restrained from interfering with the firm's debts, moneys and profits and that a receiver be appointed. It is alleged that the defendant has heretofore applied the company's receipts and profits to his personal use.
