

CONCERT PROVES A FINE SUCCESS

And Effort to Aid Spokane College Also Gets Great Start When $2300 Is Raised.

That the pastors of the Lutheran church can sing was demonstrated last night at the concert given by some 31 who are attending the Lutheran annual meeting now in session and which closes tonight. There was an exceptionally good program rendered, there being some high class solos and duets and the entire program being one of general merit.

Rev. O. L. Horik of Spokane and Rev. C. A. Fritz of Kalispell both appeared as soloists and they also rendered a duet. Miss Marie Platen assisted the pastors in presenting their program.

Following the program of music there was speaking by Rev. J. N. Kildahl and Rev. O. Skilbred. Rev. Mr. Kildahl discussed music and Rev. Mr. Skilbred started a campaign for money to support the Spokane college. The movement which has been started was conceived by J. M. Carlson of Kalispell, formerly of Great Falls, and that it was a well thought out plan and one that is going to realize real results for the college is seen in the fact that with only a small audience last evening a total of $2300 was raised. There is no doubt but what the sum will pass the $5000 mark aimed at when it is carried back to the congregations represented by the delegates.

The concert last night was directed by Professor J. J. Thompson, president of the Spokane college.

As a general thing, father's favorite way of economizing is to stop the children from spending.
