It was announced that A. E. Melech and Chas. Lephley, the buying committee, have purchased about 950 tons of hay in North and South Dakota, and that it is being shipped to this city. This transaction was financed by the local banking institutions, but applications for supplies must be made through the office of A. J. Ogaard, county agent.

TOOLE IRRIGATION DISTRICT CREATED BY DISTRICT COURT

Will Be Largest Irrigation District in State Embracing 285,000 Acres.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Shelby, Sept. 5.—The hearing for the creation of the Toole County Irrigation district was held at the court house, Judge J. J. Greene, presiding. Henry Gerharz, of the Gerharz-Jaqueth Engineering company, testified in regard to the feasibility and practicability of the project, and the irrigation district was created. It embraces about 285,000 acres of land and contemplates using 300,000 acre feet of water per year. C. H. Foote, an attorney of Kalspell, and Attorney Jesse G. Henderson, of Shelby, represented the petitioners.

All opposition to the district was eliminated before the hearing by consent of opposing counsel. The irrigation district is divided into three divisions, and a commission was appointed for each district, as follows: Western division No. 1, C. A. Michels; Central division No. 2, James A. Johnson; eastern division No. 3, C. H. Sands.

The district covers an area of three townships, aggregating 18 miles in width and 42 miles long. This project is the largest in Montana and, in fact, in the northwest.

Steps are being taken to begin the final survey and it is expected the same will be completed before the first of the year.

All-American Field Trials of Hunting Dogs on at Spokane

Special to The Daily Tribune. Spokane, Sept. 5.—Owing to the death of birds and the condition of the grounds in the Glacier national park, the all-American field trials have been transferred to Spokane and are being held here starting Thursday. Over 100 dogs have arrived, including among them the world's champions, such as Candy Kid, setter, owned by Mr. Duffield of Tulsa, Okla., and Mart Montrose, present world's champion pointer, owned by Lieutenant Zeigler of New York, El Dorado, Cincinnati. Nat, a pointer equally well known in field trial circles. Mary Montrose has captured the championship four times, while Candy Kid has been judged the most efficient bird dog on three occasions.

The field trials will last four days and will be held over the grounds adjacent to Hayford, about two miles west of the Hazelwood farm. Permission has been granted by the farmers to take down the fences in order not to prove any obstruction for the dogs to mark out a clear course.

The championship event carries with it a handsome trophy and a purse of $1,000.

The Spokane grounds are adjudged by E. A. Parsons, secretary of the Oregon Field Trials club, as the finest in the United States, and it was mainly through his efforts that the association was influenced to hold its trials here instead of in Montana.

Birds are plentiful in the spot where the course will be mapped out, and the land is level, giving a clear view of all that is going on.

Problem of Teacher Who Falls in Love With His Pupils

Helena, Sept. 5.—Problems suggested in questionnaires circulated by the executive committee will be considered at the annual meeting of the Montana State Teachers' association which will be held in this city November 24, 25 and 26. The committee sent out the questionnaires in an effort to arrange a program which would take into consideration problems suggested by the educators.

One city superintendent of schools submitted the problem of what should be done with a high school teacher who falls in love with his pupils, but other suggestions were more pertinent to the matter of education. The matter of 45-week schools year was suggested for consideration, as was the getting away from textbooks and studying nature, the schools and the community. Another superintendent wants "more practical and less theoretical education." One desires to know if there is not a better system than that of maintaining isolated rural schools with an enrollment of five or six pupils and an attendance of two or three. How to make the part-time school efficient also is to be discussed.

Dr. Warren H. Wilson of the teachers' college at Columbia university is to be one of the principal speakers at the Montana state meeting.

Majority of 300 Expected for Fergus High School Bonds

Special to The Daily Tribune. Lewistown, Sept. 5.—Four more precincts returned returns on the high school bond election yesterday, increasing the majority for the bonds by four and bringing the totals up to 2,765 for and 2,438 against, the majority for the bonds standing at 327. With the few precincts still to be heard from, all very small except one, it is evident that the majority for the bonds will not be far from 300 when the returns are all in. The majorities for the $700,000 road bond issue and the issue of not to exceed $500,000 for feed and seed for drought victims continue to increase and are now so large that no further interest attaches to the returns.

MEDICINE LAKE MAN AND WOMAN VICTIMS OF BAD AUTO WRECK

Necks of Both Are Broken When Car Overturns on Newly Graded Hill Road.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Plentywood, Sept. 5.—Jack Meade, of Medicine Lake, and a young woman worked on the Meade ranch, were killed when the car in which they were riding turned turtle pinning them both underneath. How, or just exactly when the accident happened, is not known, the bodies being found under the car early Monday morning by farmers who were on their way to Medicine Lake.

The accident happened just at the foot of a hill which had been newly graded, and it is thought that Meade, who is a fast driver, was going at a pretty fast clip when he endeavored to turn the corners at the bottom of the hill. He evidently hit the soft dirt, which resulted in the car turning over, pinning both occupants, and a dog which was also in the car, underneath.

When found, Meade was lying with his neck pinned under the front door. His neck was broken. The young lady was found in about the same position, only under the rear door. Her neck was also broken, as were many other of the bones in her body. Meade leaves a wife and family.

Exodus of Missoula Italians Is Planned

Missoula, Sept. 5.—Exodus of nearly 100 residents of Missoula and natives of Italy, who are planning to return to their native land this fall, is predicted here by members of the Italian colony. The large number who are to leave almost unanimously declare that the prohibition regime has made them greatly dissatisfied. Prohibition, however, is not the only reason for their emigration. Many of the Italians are anxious to visit their relatives, many of whom they have had no word, in some cases, for five years, because of the war. Also they all express a desire to tour the Italian battlefields.

Is One of Fifteen Who Survived Out of a Company of 250

Special to The Daily Tribune. Kalspell, Sept. 5.—A survivor of the offensive of Blanc Mont ridge, where thousands of Americans and French were slaughtered by the fire from German guns as they emerged from tunnels where they had been hiding, is a visitor in Kalspell today, and is only one out of 15 in his company of 250 men who returned to Kalspell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCutcheon, who resided in this county until recently, when they removed to Havre.

In referring to the fight, Mr. McCutcheon, who was enlisted in the Fifth Marines, says the attack was no surprise, although it was so reported at the time. The Germans held a position thought to be impregnable, but it was decided to drive them from their stronghold, and 8,000 marines and a big body of crack French troops were detailed for the job. Of the 8,000 Americans only 2,000 came out alive, and Mr. McCutcheon says that 10,000 French were killed or wounded. He is decorated with five stars, which signifies that he has taken part in five campaigns, involving the one at Mont Blanc ridge, Champagne and the St. Mihiel sector, but he came out without a scratch.

Mr. McCutcheon was a student in the Pittsburgh Technical school when he enlisted early in 1917, arriving in France in June of that year. He was in some of the heaviest fighting throughout the war, and was with the army of occupation in Germany. He will leave in a few days for Pittsburgh, where he will complete his studies.

Enlisted at 59 Years and Served in France

Spokane, Sept. 5.—Sergeant Allan C. Austin, a member of the Fourth engineers, who spent his 61st birthday with the American army of occupation in Germany, has returned to Spokane. Sergeant Austin enlisted in Portland, giving his age as 54 for fear of being rejected if he gave his true age, 59. He had a record of eight years in the regular army.
