HOUSES ARE PLENTY BUT RENTS STAY UP

Supply and Demand Don't Seem to Cut Much Figure With Butte Conditions.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Butte, Sept. 7.—In spite of the fact that several thousand people have left Butte this summer because of the depression in local labor circles, and there are vacant houses and apartments in all parts of the mining camp, there does not seem to be any relief of significance in the obtaining of living quarters. Rentals are still being held at the top notch, which is said to be due to the fact that nearly all of the vacant buildings are in the hands of real estate agencies who are preventing owners from reducing the price of rent. There seems to be a disposition on the part of people in Butte to own their own homes, and for the most part people are seeking locations to the edge of the city where they are evidently erecting their own residences. That section known as the flats to the south side of the city is rapidly becoming a garden spot in the residential section, until today it is said 20,000 of Butte's population now live on the south side of the railroad tracks.

MERCANTILE COMPANY IS INCORPORATED AT WHITEFISH

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Came to this Woman after Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Her Health

Ellensburg, Wash.—"After I was married I was not well for a long time and a good deal of the time was not able to go about. Our greatest desire was to have a child in our home and one day my husband came back from town with a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I wanted me to try it. It brought relief from my troubles. I improved in health so I could do my housework; we now have a little one, all of which I owe to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. O. S. JOHNSON, R. No. 3, Ellensburg, Wash.

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in most cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years experience is at your service.

ANACONDA COMPANY HAS NEVER REFUSED TO MEET STRIKERS

President Kelley Denies That He Has Declined to Confer With Metal Trades.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Butte, Sept. 7.—That the Anaconda Copper Mining company has at no time refused to confer with the striking metal craftsmen was the statement made this afternoon by C. F. Kelley, president of the company. False reports with a view to influencing union men and the public generally have been industriously circulated to the effect that President Kelley had declined to confer with the Metal Trades has at any time requested a conference since the strike was declared," says Mr. Kelley.

"About 10 days ago the Silver Bow Trades and Labor council, I am advised, appointed a mediation committee. I was called on the phone by one of its members who said that the committee was endeavoring to arrange a conference and that the Metal Trades committee was willing to meet me if I was willing to meet them. "Inasmuch as the last conference prior to the strike had been arranged by Mr. Muir under exactly the same circumstances and I was advised that following the break in negotiations some of the committee of the Metal Trades had insisted that the conference had been held at my request, I asked Mr. Chope, labor commissioner of the Anaconda Copper Mining company to advise Mr. Green that I was not seeking a conference and that if the Metal Trades wished to communicate with the company through any outside committee or person they should do so in writing. "This was done to prevent a misunderstanding such as had theretofore occurred and to fix with certainty any proposal made. There is no foundation for the statement that the company or its officials have ever refused to confer with any committees representing any recognized labor organization."

NEW DISTRICT JUDGE FORMER MEMBER OF GREAT FALLS FIRM

Special to The Daily Tribune. Helena, Sept. 7.—H. Cleveland Hall of Havre was appointed last Wednesday afternoon to the position of judge of the seventh judicial district of the state by Governor S. V. Stewart, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of John Hurley, who has many friends in Helena, Butte, Great Falls and Havre, as well as other places in the state. He was born in Montana and is 27 years old.

He was educated in Montana schools and in the University of Michigan, from which institution he was graduated from the law department in 1914. He later went into the law firm of Norris and Hurd at Great Falls, where he remained from Sept. 1914 to April, 1916, when he became a partner in the firm of Norris, Hurd and Hall, with offices at Havre. The firm consisted of former Governor E. L. Norris, George E. Hurd and Mr. Hall. He was a member of the firm in active charge of the Havre office until August, 1918, when he enlisted in the coast artillery corps, U. S. A., and remained in the service until Jan. 25, 1919. Upon his return he formed a partnership with Max Kuhn at Havre.

Mr. Hall was married within the last year, and although a comparatively young man, he has impressed many attorneys of the state with his ability, splendid foundation and training in the law and as a man of learning and good judgment. He will move from Havre to take up his new duties in a short time.

High Costs Prevent Laundry Reductions

Butte, Sept. 7.—High cost of raw materials prohibits reduction in laundry charges. This was announced last night when the annual convention of the Montana Laundry Owners Association ended. The next meeting will be held in Helena. Officers were elected as follows: George P. Durham of Great Falls, president; Ernest Smith, Billings, vice-president; J. H. Barnes, Helena, secretary; A. Howard, Missoula, treasurer and W. C. Strawser, Livingston, sergeant at arms.

ANACONDA COMPANY IS STILL ON SEARCH FOR GAS IN VOLUME

Looks to Wyoming for Cheap Fuel for Its Montana Smelting Plants.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Butte, Sept. 7.—Representatives of the Anaconda Copper Mining company are making additional investigations with a view of piping gas from the Byron Basin of Wyoming to Great Falls, Butte, Anaconda and other towns in Montana for use in smelters, and also for commercial purposes. Investigations for this purpose were made several years ago with the result that people behind the movement decided to attempt the development of their own gas production in northern Montana. The Montana-Candian Oil company was formed by C. F. Kelley, president of the A. C. M. company, and his associates, and several wells were drilled in the Sweet Grass field near the Canadian line, north of Great Falls. While some gas was found, also a trace of oil, the supply was not sufficient for the desired purpose. This caused the promoters to again turn to the Big Horn fields in a quest for a supply.

Several recent developments indicate that these plans now may be consummated. The Mid-West Refining company and Standard Oil company have contracted for the use of gas from the Hidden Dome field, and a pipe line is to be built this fall. These companies have been obtaining gas from the Byron field, which will become available for other purposes.

The Hope Natural Gas company has an absorption plant at Cowley, which it is operating under the name of the Eastern Fuel company. After it extracts the gasoline, the gas goes through the carbon plant of the Midland Carbon company. The process is said to have been a success, and another plant now is being erected in the Lance creek field in conjunction with the Ohio Oil company. It is likely the methods used by this latter company of recovering the gasoline content will be used in conjunction with plans to pipe the gas to Montana. The Hope Natural Gas company is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company.

The Hope Natural Gas company is the licensor of the Saylor process for the extraction of gasoline from natural gas. This is known as the absorption process. Wyoming has enormous gas resources which have never been fully utilized and developments of this nature are to make it a source of considerable revenue.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Whitefish, Sept. 7.—By an overwhelming protest the resident property owners of Wells-Grant addition petitioned the city council to reject the plan of incorporating their properties into the city.

BUTTE'S FINANCES ARE GETTING BACK ON SOUNDER BASIS

Loss of Saloon License Revenues Not Having Bad Effect Anticipated.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Butte, Sept. 7.—Serious financial results were predicted for Butte when it was seen that with the prohibition law going into effect on Jan. 1 the city would be compelled to close nearly 200 saloons, thereby losing an annual liquor license of approximately $60,000. Former Mayor W. H. Maloney upon retiring from office predicted some other revenues would be necessary to effect that loss.

Another city administration took office shortly after prohibition went into effect, and while no new tax was added to overcome the loss of liquor licenses the city finances now are reaching a sounder and safer basis than for any time for years past. More streets have been paved this summer, and other civic improvements enacted than was the custom when the saloons were running full blast. Surplus city hall employees and an oversupply of police officers have been separated from the payroll and the loss of income has been overcome by a general practice of economy.

With the mines running at a low ebb, and approximately 20,000 people having left the city, building operations throughout the business and residential sections have greatly increased this year. For the month of August the city building inspector shows permits were issued for the construction of new buildings with an estimated valuation of $86,007. Of these buildings there were brick buildings valued at $24,000, frame buildings valued at $24,772, and repairs to the extent of $17,225. It is said that a shortage of labor, due to industrial differences prevailing in Butte the last several months, has retarded other building operations.
