

MRS. HARNER IS A HAPPY WOMAN

Gains Nineteen Pounds—"Just Seems Too Good to Be True."

"I am so happy over the wonderful improvement of my health since I commenced taking Tanlac I just want to tell everybody I meet about it," said Mrs. H. H. Harner who lives at 736 West 41st place, Los Angeles, Cal., the other day.

"It seems too good to be true," continued Mrs. Harner, in speaking about her recovery to health by using Tanlac. "For I was in wretched health for about six years, and everything I had tried in the way of medicine and treatments had failed to do me any good at all. In fact, I had about given up all hope of ever finding a medicine that would overcome my trouble. What I suffered during these years on account of the awful condition of my stomach, simply cannot be told in words. Every time I ate anything I would have terrible cramping spells afterwards. I was nervous, too, and such a thing as a good night's sleep was out of the question with me. I just seemed to lose all my strength and energy and finally got so weak and run down that I could hardly get about at all. I went down in weight from one hundred and seventy-seven to one hundred and forty-nine pounds, and you can imagine how much I must have gone through."

"Well, about five weeks ago I decided to give Tanlac a trial and see if it would do me any good, and just in that short space of time I have actually gotten back nineteen pounds of my lost weight. Why, I began to pick up before I had finished my first bottle of this wonderful medicine and I just continued to improve until I am as well and hearty now as I ever was. I never have a pain or ache of any kind and my stomach troubles have been so completely overcome that I can eat just anything I want and I never suffer afterwards. All the nervousness has left me and I sleep just like a child every night. In fact, I just feel perfectly well all the time, and never lose an opportunity to say a good word for Tanlac."

Tanlac is now sold in Great Falls by Model Rx Pharmacy, 315 Central avenue, and Cascade Rx Pharmacy, 110 Third street south.—Adv.

SHORTER HOURS TIE UP CONFERENCE OF CANADIAN INDUSTRY

Proposal to Establish Minimum Wage Subject of Much Discussion in Ottawa Meeting.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 17.—The national industrial conference is deadlocked over the question of shortening the hours of labor in Canada. The recommendations of the royal commission on industrial relations for bettering labor conditions which have been supported by the labor group, were strongly opposed, today, by the employers, and the resolutions finally were sent to the committee, both sides apparently unwilling to change their attitudes.

The committee is not expected to make its report for several days. Much of today's discussion centers on the proposal to establish a minimum wage.

Women Want to Put Roosevelt in Two-Cent Class On Revived Coin

New York, Sept. 17.—A campaign urging the government to re-issue the two-cent coin, withdrawn from circulation in 1874, the new coin to bear on the obverse side a bas-relief portrait of the late President Roosevelt, was inaugurated, today, by the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association. The new coin, it is pointed out, would be useful in the payment for war taxes on small articles, newspapers and street car fares.

MILLING IN TRANSIT RATE NOW SOUGHT WILL AFFECT SEVENTEEN MONTANA TOWNS

Plants With Capacity of 10,000 Barrels Day Short of Wheat.

Securing Supply Which Will Allow Operation Is Problem.

Montana milling interests just now are wrestling with the problem of how they are to provide wheat for their need if they are to operate during the period until another crop may be harvested and marketed. The crop failure, due to drought, brought a condition that will reduce the possible milling output more than one half and without question will result in the absolute shutdown of some of the milling plants and operation on partial capacity of others. That result already has been obtained; it is the condition now existing in Great Falls. The Montana Flouring Mill company's plant here, because of lack of grain for grinding and the company is bending every effort to work out some plan whereby they can get grain here and grind it on a basis that will enable it to meet the market conditions for flour. The Royal Milling company is operating only one of its twin mills at the local plant and its officers are seriously studying the situation with hope that they may find some feasible plan to keep at least one of their mills going steadily. But they are hopeful, rather than anxious, about the chances, for at the present time it is impossible to say what the future will develop.

17 Milling Centers. There are 17 milling centers in the state where the milling plants have a capacity of more than 100 barrels a day. They are Belgrade, Billings, Bozeman, Cascade, Glasgow, Great Falls, Harlowton, Helena, Livingston, Livingston, Manhattan, Missoula, Polson, Three Fork, Townsend and Kalispell. The approximate capacity of the 17 plants is 10,000 barrels of flour daily which means that they would require, running steadily, about 45,000 bushels of wheat daily or a little more than 14,000,000 bushels a year, assuming that the mills were operated only 313 days—the week days—each year. It is that fact which makes the problem for the millers of Montana just now. The actual wheat yield for the state in 1919 is a mooted question and probably always will be, for getting at the actual returns in wheat yield is a hard task.

But the estimated yield ranges all the way from 3,500,000 to 9,000,000 bushels, so that accepting either estimate as approximately correct, it will be seen that the millers have to find supply from outside the state if they are to operate their plants on only week-day capacity for the coming year. It probably would be coming closer to the actual yield if the estimate for 1919 is a mooted question, but still would leave a shortage of nearly 80 per cent of the grinding capacity of the mills.

Must Ship in Wheat. But what the wheat yield of the state happens to be does not tell what wheat the mills of the state will be able to get from the Montana farmers for their use. There are many buyers of wheat for both eastern and western markets so that it is readily seen that the mills with a normal crop might still have only what they actually need, because the other buyers would certainly get a portion of the crop. Now this year, assuming that the outside buyers got their usual share of the yield, then the milling interests would have only a part of the 6,000,000 bushels, say about 60 per cent, and if the lower estimate were accepted as correct, they would get only a little over 2,000,000 bushels. That would mean that they must go out side the state for from 10,000,000 bushels if they are to grind at week-day capacity, or else close their mills until more wheat can be grown.

One of the problems that is now getting attention of the millers is that of rates, the application for a "milling in transit" rate now being before the federal railroad authorities. That means that if they can secure it, the trend of the freight will be to the west coast, and that is the way it must be now, because with the scarcity of wheat, Montana mills can not hope to ship the wheat from the east and mill it and then send it back and compete with the mills there.

Rate Badly Needed. So the milling in transit rate is being urged with the hope that wheat can be secured in the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska brought here, ground, and then sent on to the west coast as flour. That would keep Montana mills busy on a profitable basis, at least a part of the time. Until the decision as to the milling rate has been made the millers of the state will not know what they can do about operating their plants at a profit, either all or a part of the time.

The milling capacity of Great Falls mills is in excess of 20,000 bushels a day so that those familiar with the crop in this action may guess how long the wheat harvested here would last them. For example, one of the small stations within the 15-mile radius of the city, handled about 30,000 bushels of wheat through the elevator there and the community felt it had good fortune this year because no other of the small stations near here did that well. The same station in normal years would have handled not far from 20 times what it got this year, but its 1919 crop would last the Great Falls milling plants a little less than 26 hours. But not all the crop handled there came to the Great Falls mills.

Price Is Problematical. As to the probable cost of wheat to the millers within the next few months none would venture a guess further than that it would probably not be below the government guaranteed price. There is a sentiment, however, in milling circles of the east that the guaranteed

Sure Way to Regain Robust Bloom of Youth

A smooth, velvety-soft skin, with a delicate peach-like bloom, is one of the Creator's most exquisite works. When the first blush of youth is over, this beautiful tint and satiny lustre are rarely seen. How to preserve them—that is the question. Famous beauty experts abroad long have known that ordinary mercurized wax works wonder in this direction. It actually gives a new surface to the skin, restoring that marvelous girlish color and softness in a remarkable manner. An ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will convert a faded, worn-out, discolored, freckled or pimply complexion into one of the most captivating loveliness in less than two weeks. No special skill is necessary in applying mercurized wax. It being smeared on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

Whole Duck for Every Guest

Y. M. C. A. Hunters Make Good Eddy Bakery Oven Does Rest

The hunting party which left the city Tuesday morning to secure a supply of wild duck for the supper to be given this Thursday, evening at the Y. M. C. A., to mark the opening of the association's athletic season returned Wednesday with an ample supply of birds. For every guest—and there will be 159 of them—there will be something more than a whole duck, which is proof enough that the association picked well the men who were sent out to secure material for the spread.

Through the courtesy of the Union Meat Market the ducks were placed in the cooler of that firm Wednesday and this Thursday afternoon will be roasted in the huge oven at the Eddy bakery, which was donated for the purpose by Manager Walter Fromm. At 6:15 this evening the guests will gather round a board laden to capacity with the finished product and anybody can guess what will happen after that. Physical Director E. E. Holdeman, who is promoting the supper with the assistance of a special committee, arranged to accommodate 159 guests, which is nine more than was at first expected, but even then many who applied for tickets late Wednesday afternoon were disappointed. Sixty per cent of those who sought to obtain the necessary bits of pastboard were not accommodated. Mr. Holdeman stated.

Mr. Holdeman Wednesday requested that any ticket holders who learn that they will be unable to attend should either turn in their tickets or notify the association. A few who secured tickets will be unable to present it, it is thought, and places thus made vacant will be filled from among those who could not get tickets Wednesday.

ADMITS THE GERMAN FAULTS.

Touton Professor Appears to Have Learned Lesson of Defeat. Those who are looking for some signs of appreciation by the Germans of the position they occupy in the eyes of the outside world will find it in the following quotation from an article by Professor Forster in the Berliner Tageblatt. His diagnosis of German psychopathology corresponds closely with that of the allied critics made five years ago: The moral blockade which for five years has surrounded Germany and which comes to acute expression in the peace treaty should surely suffice to shake our national self complacency. We cannot be impervious to the expressed disapproval and mistrust of the rest of civilization. We cannot but be conscious of the fact that retribution is now being meted out to us for our sabotage of the work of The Hague, for our whole conduct of the war with its systematic plunderings and devastations, for our wholesale deportations of women and girls, as well as for our initiative in adopting every possible new invention for destruction. Anyone who has the slightest idea of what millions of people have had to suffer in the territories occupied by our armies, must ask themselves: What right have we to expect retribution? We were so absolutely sure of victory that thoughts of possible retribution were not even taken into account. When Wilson made his offer of the fourteen points in January and February, 1918, our only reply was scorn, mockery, and Brest Litovsk! And now we complain that he disarmed us with cunning and elusive promises of peace, as if we had ever had more than the choice between an immediate armistice and complete disaster. We Germans are no worse than other nations, but we have systematically exploited the idea of force and worked it out to its logical conclusions with that thoroughgoing completeness with which Nietzsche so remorselessly elaborated his application of a universally prevalent psychosis. We have raised this idea of force to a system of political philosophy and by the glorification of our national egoism have made ourselves more hated by the world than those nations who have actually exercised greater power. THIN, NERVOUS, RUN-DOWN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Creates New, Firm Flesh, Strength and Energy in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances

Georgia Hamilton, the wonderful "movie" girl, who was once thin and frail, says: "Bitro-Phosphate brought about the magic transformation. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

Bitro-Phosphate Should be Prescribed by Every Doctor and Used in Every Hospital—Says Editor of "Physicians' Who's Who."

"Take plain bitro-phosphate" is excellent advice to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, if we judge from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollow angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness. Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance:

the increase in weight frequently being astounding. Clinical tests made in St. Catherine's Hospital, N. Y. C., showed that two patients gained in weight 23 and 27 pounds, respectively, through the administration of this organic phosphate; both patients claim they have not felt as strong and well for the past twelve years. Increase in weight usually carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Physicians are now recognizing its merits by its use in ever increasing quantities. Frederick Kollie, M. D., editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Joseph D. Harrigan, former visiting specialist to North Eastern Dispensary, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anaemic, or run-down, take a natural, unadulterated substance such as bitro-phosphate and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve energy, strength of body and mind and power of endurance."

Bitro-phosphate is made entirely of the organic phosphate compound referred to in the National Standard Dispensary as being an excellent tonic and nerve and a preparation which has recently acquired considerable reputation in the treatment of neurasthenia. The standard of excellence, strength and purity of its substance is beyond question, for every Bitro-Phosphate tablet is manufactured in strict accordance with the U. S. Pharmacopoeia test requirements. Bitro-Phosphate is therefore not a patent medicine and should not be confused with any of the secret nostrums, so-called tonics or widely advertised "cure-alls."

CAUTION—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, owing to its tendency to increase weight, those using it should avoid fat-producing foods unless it is the desire to put on flesh.
