BIG DOUBLE BILL

Continuous, 1 to 11:30 P. M.

THURSTON-POOLE WEDDING MONDAY

Daughter of Great Falls Pioneer Becomes Bride of Civil Engineer.

A. E. Thurston and Miss Bessie Poole were united in marriage Monday afternoon at 3:30 at the Episcopal church, Rev. Christoph Kellar officiating. The ceremony was attended by a small party of friends and relatives, who were guests at a wedding dinner at the bride's home, 828 Second avenue south, at 5 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Thurston left later in the evening for Cut Bank, where Mr. Thurston is assistant superintendent for the Two-Miracle Construction company. They will make their home in Great Falls after a few weeks. The bride, who is a daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. George A. Poole, is a native of Great Falls, a graduate of the local high school, and has a wide circle of friends in the city. Mr. Thurston is a Montana university man and also took a course in engineering at the university of Minnesota. He served overseas with the 318th engineers and was mustered out with the rank of second lieutenant.

Espionage Conviction of Portland Doctor Upheld by U. S. Court

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—Conviction of Dr. Marc Equi, prominent Portland physician, on charges of violating the espionage act by seditious utterances against the United States, was upheld by the United States circuit court of appeals here. Dr. Equi was sentenced to three years in McNeil's island and was given a fine of $500.

New in the musical instrument line is a whistle with two tubes that is played like a slide trombone.

ENGLAND PALES AT 1919 DEFICIT $2,235,000,000

Government Concedes Cabinet Reforms; Home Rule Wanes.

London, Oct. 27.—(By The Associated Press).—Last week's defeat in the house of commons and the seriousness of the country's finances—revealed in the revised estimate submitted to parliament, today, showing that the estimated deficit for the year exceeds 447,000,000 pounds, instead of 250,000,000 pounds as fixed in the budget—seem to have induced the government to yield to certain reforms long demanded by the press. Foremost among these demands was that for a return to cabinet responsibility, and also more regular attendance of the prime minister in the house of commons. The former apparently has been granted in the announcement of a return to the peace-time form of cabinet, whereby all the ministers will be responsible for the decisions taken, instead of the few ministers forming the war cabinet.

Drastic Economy Pledged.

With regard to the second demand, an inspired statement was issued, tonight, to the effect that, as soon as his duties in connection with the peace conference are ended, the premier will revert to his old practice of personally answering questions in the house.

The cabinet, at a meeting today, drafted a motion which will be proposed by Austin Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, on Wednesday "that this house, realizing the serious effects upon the trade and industry of the nation of the enormous financial burdens resulting from the war, promises its hearty support to the government in all responsible proposals, however drastic, for the reduction of the expenditure and the diminution of debt."

Can't Free Ireland Now.

The Irish question still provides the government with a now difficult problem, and it is stated that the cabinet committee having the matter under consideration will not likely be able to present a satisfactory scheme in the limited time now available. It is thought that the government will be compelled to introduce a bill, again postponing the operation of the home rule act, which otherwise would become automatically operative with the formal ending of the war.

LIVINGSTON GOES TO MEXICAN BORDER

All Branches of Army Service on Border Are Now Open to Enlistment.

Private Elmer T. Peacock, recruiting officer for the U. S. army, Monday signed up Jack Livingston, of Great Falls, for a three year period of enlistment in the U. S. cavalry. He left Monday night for Spokane from where he will be sent to Fort McDowell for further examination and then will later be sent to some point on the Mexican border for duty.

All branches of service on the Mexican border are now open for enlistment and applicants for the medical or quartermaster's department for service in the U. S. may enlist for a period of one year only. This gives a splendid opportunity for boys and young men just out of high school who may wish to enter the medical profession for schooling along this line.

SNOW BALLS VS. CHUNKS OF COAL

Snow Battle Leads Up to Fight With Harder Missiles and Bystander Is Injured.

The luck of Christ Metrogranis was that of the usual bystander Sunday evening when he was struck with two chunks of coal as he watched a battle, at Black Eagle, between men who had resorted to missiles of anthracite after first engaged in a friendly exchange of snowballs. One lump of coal bounced off Metrogranis' head and before he could either dodge or get under cover another caught him in the ribs, his injuries leading to the arrest of Tom Economon on a charge of third degree assault.

According to Deputy Sheriff Matt Martinich the fight was growing serious when it was interrupted by the authorities. It started when a number of Black Eagle residents began pelting each other with snow balls, but directly somebody got mad and then there was demand for more deadly ammunition. Chunks of coal were nearest at hand, but the fracas was rapidly becoming too serious for anything less than heavy artillery, according to the deputy, when it was stopped. Economon pleaded guilty in the justice court of John T. Earl, but this was not until he had insisted that an interpreter be called that he might tell the court just how it all happened. He paid a fine of $10.

KARLE ENTHRALLS LOCAL AUDIENCE

Vocal Artist Captivates Great Falls Lovers of Music at Palace Theater.

An audience, not large but fully appreciative of the remarkable tenor voice of Theo. Karle, attended his concert given last evening in the Palace theater and showed a thorough appreciation of every number by a generous and sincere applause, which in two instances brought the artist back to the stage for encore numbers.

Mr. Karle has a voice of beauty, equally pleasing in the more difficult operatic arias and in the simple and vastly appealing melodies, by both modern and older composers. The two numbers by his talented composer—accompanist William Stickle, "Who Knows" and "Bring Back the Golden Days" were among the most pleasing of the evening's repertoire.

Theo. Karle's voice in its clear richness seemed to appeal more strongly to his Great Falls audience in his number by Wood, "Love's Garden of Roses." The applause was enthusiastic and continuous until the singer responded with an encore. The three Indian songs from the Garden of Kama by Lohr were especially beautiful. His first number, "Jehovah, Hear" was a recitation of intense depth and loveliness. "To a Hill Top" was another exquisite number followed by an encore.

Cut Deficiency Air and Alaska R. R. Items to Agree Upon Bill

Washington, Oct. 27.—After eliminating the senate provision of $15,000,000 for the army air service and reducing the appropriation for the Alaskan railroad from $17,000,000 to $8,000,000, house and senate conferees reached an agreement on the first general deficiency bill of this session.

Tokio, Oct. 27.—(By The Associated Press).—The privy council today approved the German peace treaty.

NEW CITY FORM IS EXPLAINED

Committee on Managerial Form of City Government Sends Out Printed Argument.

As a part of the educational campaign which it was announced some time ago would be carried on by an organization formed to offer information to the public on forms of city government in view of a probable submission of some change in plan to the voters later, an argument has been prepared on the managerial form of city government.

The committee has announced at different times that it makes no attack on individuals or plans but is trying to give the voters the information needed to enable them to decide which form would give Great Falls the best results in promoting its growth and development. Here is the committee's statement on the managerial plan:

"This is a very natural, and very pertinent question. If no good reasons can be shown for the change, it should not be attempted. Any plan which cannot measure up to the tests of efficiency, economy, and accountability should not be considered. And if the plan now in the mayor and council plan, does not measure up to these standards, it is not entitled to be continued.

"The private business of this country, based upon the spur of private initiative, has reached the point of greatest efficiency of any agency within human experience. The private initiative which spurs men to buy for the least, and sell for the most money obtainable, is constantly on the alert for better, newer, more efficient, and more economical means of transacting business.

"The assertion has been hitherto undisputed that fully 90 per cent of the business of the people of the United States is transacted by some form of corporation, having a board of directors and a manager. It has been found through long experience, tested by the ever present spur of private initiative, that the board of directors and manager of a business can get the best results where the combined efforts of several people are concerned.

"The managerial form of city government is a practical application to the business affairs of the city of the principles of business management universally adopted for private business in the ordinary corporation. The people get together and choose their directors from among themselves, just as the stockholders of a corporation choose theirs. These directors are directly responsible to the people who elect them, and are subject to recall if they fail to "make good." The directors, in turn, while controlling the policy of the city as to expenditures and purchase, leave the technical details to a technically trained manager, who is personally responsible to them. Instead of a half dozen independent city managers, each controlling his own department, with the ever present possibility of duplication involved, we have one man, trained for his job, consulting with the half dozen or less representatives of the people, and their combined judgment acting through the one head, for efficiency, and economy."

JENSEN FLATS SOLD TO STONE

Former Clothier Purchases One of City's Leading Apartment Buildings.

One of the largest realty deals recently to be concluded in Great Falls was announced yesterday when the Power City investment company sold to E. Homer Jensen the Jensen apartment building at Fourth avenue north and Eighth street. The consideration was not made public but rumors put it all the way from $70,000 to $80,000. Until the deed is filed and the revenue stamps indicate the amount involved, it probably will not be known what sum resulted in bringing about the change of ownership.

The Power City investment company erected the Jensen apartment building five years ago, the company being formed by a number of the leading business men of the city, George H. Shanley, the architect, being its president. The building was the city's first high class apartment building in the residence section and is one of the best apartment buildings of the city. It is located in one of the best sections of the city and from its opening has been much in demand, there being constantly a waiting list for quarters in the building. The building, which is a handsome and well appointed apartment structure, was designed by Mr. Shanley.

The purchaser, Mr. Stone, has, until recently, been engaged in the clothing business selling it a few days ago to John Frank. He recently started work on a new apartment building on Third avenue north near Park drive and he stated last night that he would make no changes in his plan as to the new building, but would push it to completion as rapidly as possible and manage both buildings. He takes possession of the Jensen on November 1.

DISLOCATES THE RECORDS

Zero Temperatures Spoil Montana's History of Weather for Octobers.

October weather has already set new records for Great Falls with 5 degrees below zero on Saturday and 10 degrees below Monday. So far as the official records show there has been no time for at least 10 years when there was a record of zero weather in October. The coldest weather for October in the last 12 years has been no lower than 8 degrees above zero, in 1917, while all other Octobers in the period mentioned show no record lower than 20 above zero and one, October, 1914, showed a remarkable record with only three days cold enough to freeze, the record on each of the three days being 31 degrees above zero.

The snow has been heavier during the past 10 days than most people appreciate, according to those who have been into the country. There are heavy drifts of snow everywhere and the average depth of snow over the country is estimated at more than 6 inches. The snowfall probably would have totaled from 15 to 18 inches if it had not melted so fast when it first started to fall. The result of the melting snow has been a thoroughly soaked earth in all sections of the Great Falls territory, according to report.

HORSE IS GIVEN UNUSUAL TRIP

Falls Into Sewer Man-Hole and Is Taken Out at Mouth of Sewer, Six Blocks Away.

A new solution to the problem of lifting horses who have accidentally fallen into a manhole or sewer ditch was developed Monday morning when a 1400-pound bay horse belonging to one of the contractors doing excavation work on the south side sewer slipped and fell into the manhole at Third street and Fourth avenue south. The usual way to lift an animal that has unfortunately fallen into a predicament of this kind is by the derrick and tackle causing much delay and loss of time. Fortunately the south side sewer sewer is being constructed to meet the needs of a city many times the size of Great Falls in a time of flood and consequently its biggest difficulty solved Monday's problem. The horse was led through the sewer from Third street to the Missouri river, 1760 feet or a distance of six blocks. It was not scratched or hurt in any way and with the exception of one place where the sewer passes under the water main no difficulty was encountered in leading the animal out.
