Hargrove's for Quality.
—And Quality for Economy.

Quality and Value Prices and Economy

Quality and value are IN the Suit or Overcoat and not in the price.

The price marked on a suit of clothes, however, really does designate its QUALITY, for QUALITY ENTIRELY GOVERNS PRICE (it does at least in this store). Therefore you cannot find LOW PRICED clothing and still find GOOD QUALITY.

As the LOWEST quality suits this fall are really high priced, one is really a thousand times better off by adding a little more and buying GOOD QUALITY.

It is economy on your part to do so, and the real test of ECONOMY is in the SERVICE RENDERED—not in the price paid.

In buying "Hargrove" clothing you are protected at the very start. We feature only quality clothing; ours are strictly all wool, hand-tailored, and distinctively stylish; soft, supple and easy draping; no padding or heavy canvas interlining; the coats all shaped by hand. We're offering you in our suits already-to-wear, the equal of custom made suits, at about half the custom made price.

These suits are made for us by "Hickey-Freeman" and "Fashion Park" at Rochester, New York. $39.50 to $75.00

PEACE IN BASEBALL WORLD IS ASSURED AS MINORS RETURN

Draft and Optional Buying Restored by Agreement Offered Majors.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 13.—Business relations between the minor and major baseball leagues which were strained a year ago with the abrogation of the national agreement will be resumed as a result of action taken Wednesday by the national association of professional baseball leagues in its annual meeting. According to Secretary John H. Farrell's report, following an all-day executive session, the minors have decided it is best to work in harmony with the major leagues. Among other things, the new agreement would mean the re-establishment of the drafts and optional agreement.

General revision of the salary limits in the minor leagues was made. Class AA clubs were given permission to increase their monthly limit to $3,500, an increase of $1,000, while other leagues were granted proportionate increases.

The request of class A clubs for one more representative on the national board of arbitration was granted by the elevation of president Daniel O'Neill of the eastern league. The board now consists of three class A representatives, instead of two, three class AA and one class B members.

J. Cal Ewing of Oakland, California, was elected vice president of the national association to succeed Al E. Baum retired. Mr. Ewing was also named a class AA representative on the arbitration board to succeed Mr. Baum.

With the choice of Kansas City, Mo., as the 1920 convention city and the transaction of considerable minor business, the annual meeting of the association closed here today.

E. W. Dickerson, sporting editor of the Grand Rapids (Michigan) Herald, was selected Class B member of the national board of arbitration.

A distinct feeling of relief was evinced by the minor league leaders at having put several of the larger problems behind them. This is particularly true as regards the vexed questions of renewing relations with the major leagues. The situation has been highly unsatisfactory during the last year and in naming a committee to take up this matter the minors have put themselves in a receptive position and left the next step up to the majors. This question of re-suming a national agreement includes the draft problem, which, as it has worked out in the last year, the minors feel, has been distinctly as to their disadvantage.

BOOST FOOTBALL LEAGUE
Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 13.—Edmonton fans are boosting for a Western Canada football league. A movement is on foot here to provide one of the finest soccer fields in the Dominion, if the league becomes a reality. It is the present belief in Edmonton that Winnipeg will not enter the Western championship but will stick to its old love, the Connaught cup.

An expedition to reach the poles by airplanes is being planned for next season.

Harlowton Is Proud of Pigskin Chasers Despite Hard Blow

Football Team's Record Good in View of Fact This Is First Year.

Special to The Daily Tribune.
Harlowton, Nov. 13.—The football team of the Harlowton high school has returned to this city from Billings where the boys played the Billings high school team on Saturday, and though the local boys were trimmed to the tune of 55-0, they are highly elated. This is the first year that the Harlowton high school has had a football team, and the men who comprise it are little fellows, not over 124 pounds average weight. They have been well coached by Richard D. King, former halfback of the South Dakota all-state team, and have defeated both Hobson and Judith Gap high schools by large scores. They were defeated by theergus county high school team by a score of 6-0.

Billings, whose team has an average weight of 160 pounds, earlier in the season refused to take on the local boys for a game because of the local school's newness in the athletic field. Billings consented to play Harlowton last Saturday, however, after Bosoman got "sawed" and cancelled it. The Billings team has not been defeated this season, nor has any opposing team scored on it. Billings defeated Great Falls to the tune of 87-0, so the Harlowton boys feel proud of their record of holding Billings down to 55 points.

The Harlowton high school is rapidly coming forward as one of the real live schools of the state. It has a debating team which it is expected will be heard from when the state championship is decided.

Washington Rooters Go to Cheer Team in Pullman Game

Seattle, Nov. 13.—University of Washington rooters, several hundred strong, will leave here on a special train tomorrow night to attend the Washington-Washington State game at Pullman, Wash., Saturday. The Washington team left late today for Moscow, Idaho, where the men will work on the field on the University of Idaho field. A big crowd of students were at the depot to cheer the departing players.

PULLMAN ON EDGE.

Pullman, Wash., Nov. 13.—Despite the probable absence from the lineup of three first team men and Driver, the second team quarterback, in Saturday's game against the University of Washington, the Washington state college team is expected to be in fair condition for that contest, Coach Welch declared today.

Captain Dick Hanley, he said, might start the game at quarterback. He was out for practice last night for the first time since his recent attack of rheumatism.

Carl King, guard, and Frank Skadan, quarterback, will not be in the game because of injuries sustained last Saturday. King was badly bruised and Skadan's leg was broken. Jene is a probable selection for quarterback if Hanley is unable to last out the game, it was stated.

Vancouver Is Hopeful of Getting Franchise

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 13.—Vancouver baseball fans are still sanguine that something will happen and that Vancouver will obtain a franchise in the Pacific Coast league. Bob Brown, the local magnate, attended the annual meeting of the P. C. L. According to Brown, Tacoma also has been trying for a franchise. "I believe we are receiving more encouragement than the Tacoma representatives got," said Brown. Seattle has a club and I understand that if any team is dropped it will be Salt Lake City or Sacram.

Gibbons and O'Dowd Both Training Hard

St. Paul, Nov. 13.—Mike Gibbons and Champion Mike O'Dowd are both training aggressively for their bout here Nov. 21. The fight will be at the Auditorium and a $50,000 house is forecast. The auditorium is a spacious building and Gibbons holds the distinction of attracting the largest "money crowd" that ever filled the place. Enrico Caruso made the second best showing. President Wilson, however, attracted the largest audience. Thousands failed to obtain admission when he spoke there last summer.

Battling Nelsons Father Passes Away

Six Want to Manage Seattle Baseball Club

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 13.—Six baseball men have applied for the job of manager of the Seattle baseball team of the Pacific coast league, according to President Brewster. The applicants are John Gausel, Eddie Herr, Clyde Wares, Wade Killefer, Bill Leard and "Chick" Gandil. Mike Kelley, manager of the St. Paul champions, was offered the post but he probably would not sign a contract unless he was able to buy an interest in the club. It is understood that Gausel, who has managed the Kansas City team, wants to come to the coast and that Gandil, first baseman for the Chicago Americans, is anxious to pilot a minor league club. There have been rumors in major league circles that Gandil will not be with the White Sox next season.

DEMPSEY STANDS CHANGE OF BEING IDLE FOR A YEAR

Unless Champion Meets Joe Beckett in March No Match in Sight.

By N. E. Brown

Cleveland, Nov. 13.—The fistie world is interested in the recent announcement that Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, has agreed to let Dempsey battle Joe Beckett, English heavy champ, at New Orleans, March 17. The aforesaid fandon isn't interested so much in the probable outcome of the battle as it is in the probabilities of Jack Dempsey getting into the ring with someone.

Let it be noted here that this little discussion isn't a slam at Dempsey, either. Having seen Jacques play forty kinds of tattoos on Jess Willard's frame I'm of the opinion that the first man who does enter the ring with him will be lucky to escape with his life.

Now let's proceed. If the bout planned by Dominick Torricchio goes through, Dempsey will be fighting after a lapse of eight months. But, should this bout fail to materialize after considerable waiting and dickering, it is unlikely that the Giant Killer will step into a championship contest within less than a year of his last appearance.

In Embryo State.
The bout planned for St. Patrick's day, is in the embryo state. Kearns has agreed to let Jack box for $125,000. Beckett has not been approached regarding the bout. Kearns has said that the match hinges mainly on whether Beckett defeats Carpentier, French champ, when they meet in December. That bout hasn't been decided as yet.

The length of the Dempsey-Beckett bout hasn't been determined—a question that always raises snags. State officials haven't o. k'd such a bout. All of which means that the bout is far from being staged.

Now, as to the effect of what will occur in event it fizzles—the year lay-off for Jack. Dempsey is a youngster. He is in perfect physical condition when he knocked Willard cold. His daily boxing exhibitions probably have kept him in fair shape since—but not hardened. A battle after a year's layoff will call for a thorough seige in the training camp. Dempsey will have no desire to go into his first battle in anything short of perfect condition.

At a Disadvantage.
Consequently he will count on a good trading grind. But this move and the fact that he hasn't boxed for a year will give his opponent a tremendous psychological advantage—the advantage Dempsey had when he tackled Willard.

Willard had been out of the game a long time when the youngster stepped into the ring with him. Dempsey was confident in his own mind that Willard was not back to his old form. Dempsey also was sure he was fit as a fiddle. No

Chinook Winds

It seems the welcome chinook winds Have gone to roam elsewhere, The sky is banked by heavy clouds And snow is in the air. Those balmy days we used to know Have gone from our domain, The chilly breezes start to blow, And winter's here again.

Put not your trust in chinook winds That blow and melt the snow, 'Cause I have known that chinooks Can freeze before they blow. And, further, I might mention here, Regarding frost and snows: It wouldn't hurt, this time of year, To buy some good warm clothes.

one will deny that this thought helped Dempsey to dash from his corner and trade in, bull fashion, against what looked before the gong like overwhelming conditions, including height, weight, reach and experience. As it stands now Dempsey is still a brand new king, fresh out of the box, and the fighting birds are not over-anxious about being the trial horse. But, I repeat, Dempsey remains inactive for a year or more and his prestige will begin to slip and the chances will look far more rosy to the aspirants for his crown.

BABE RUTH AS LECTURER
Hancock, Mich., Nov. 13.—The local Knights of Columbus lodge is attempting to bring Babe Ruth, the Boston American's home run star, to this city soon to deliver an address on radicalism. Reports have been received from the East that Ruth agreed to make a tour under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, as part of a campaign to oppose the activities of bolshevist organizations.
