

20 STOCKETT COAL MINERS RESUME WORK

ARMINGTON MINE OPERATES ALSO, OTHERS CLOSED DOWN

As Fuel Supply Dwindles and Danger of Suffering Increases It Is Believed That Other Workmen Will Obey Union Officials and Return to Jobs.

Two hundred miners returned to work Wednesday at the coal mine in Stockett. There is a small crew operating the mine at Armington. Outside of these mines there is not a lump of coal being produced that may save this section of Montana from the perils of severe weather, should there come a drop in the mercury, and there is not enough coal on hand in this section to last for another week. In the face of this condition, miners at Belt, Sand Coulee, Leigh, and Tracy are staying away from their posts and thereby repudiating the agreement which was made by Henry Drennan, president of the United Mine Workers of this district. Votes are reported to have been taken at some of the camps on the question of returning to the mines and in such instances it is stated they have been favorable to work.

Whistles were blown Wednesday morning at all the mines notifying the men that the operators awaited their return. Whistles were blown again on Wednesday evening to advise the men that they would be welcomed to work at the mines this Thursday morning.

Expect More to Return.
It is believed that some more will return to the work now that the men at Stockett have indicated their willingness to help protect the people from the dangers of freezing to death. It is the declared belief of people who live in the mining camps that a large majority of the miners would actually prefer to return to their work and be earning their wages. But to the present time there has been sufficient pressure to prevent any break in the ranks at Stockett, where, Wednesday, it was forecasted that a larger number will be found at work from now on.

Mike Schmoch, president of the miners' union at Belt, said Wednesday, that while there had been a meeting of the union on Tuesday night there had been no vote on the question of returning to work. He said that there was a general sentiment among the men in that camp that they did not want to go back to work until they had been advised definitely what they were to receive as wages.

Received Drennan's Letter.
He said that they had received the letter from President Henry Drennan telling them that as a result of the court order at Indianapolis the strike had been called off but that they had not been convinced that it was time to go back, as they believed the wage matter should be finally settled before they returned. Mr. Schmoch was asked if there had ever been a proposition before the union to return to work and he said there had not.

He was asked if it appeared likely that the miners at Belt and other camps in the state will return if President Drennan urges that course on his arrival in the state from the east and Mr. Schmoch said that he did not believe the miners wanted to go back to the mines until the wage question was disposed of and the agreement signed.

There is reported to have been a substantial sentiment among the rank and file of the miners at Sand Coulee to return to work but the meeting held to pass upon the proposition is declared to have voted against the return. The meeting of the miners at Tracy is said to have indicated a desire to go back but on a subsequent consideration, the claim is made that the vote was to remain out.

No Action Taken.
There was no action taken by the commercial club committee, Dr. A. F. Longeway, chairman, on Wednesday as it was believed that with the Stockett miners returning to work others would follow the example within a few hours and the crisis of the fuel situation would have been passed. In the event there are no further recruits to the ranks of returned miners this Friday, the committee proposes to act as promptly as it can looking to some plan by which the

INFLUENZA STILL EXACTS ITS TOLL OF HUMAN LIVES

Los Angeles Man Tells How He Overcame the After-Effects of the Disease.

Deaths from influenza did not cease when the epidemic subsided. According to an official of a leading life insurance company, the death rate for the first six months of the present year was greatly increased by the hundreds who succumbed to the after-effects of the disease. The blood bore the brunt of the body's defensive against the ravages of the disease and during convalescence it was necessary to restore the blood before recovery was possible. Most of those who began treatment with the right tonic are none the worse for having had the disease. This Los Angeles man's experience should prove profitable to many others.

"I had a bad attack of Spanish influenza and it was very weak," says Mr. Andrew W. Harris, of No. 411 East 29th street, Los Angeles, Cal. "It seemed, for months, as though I would never regain my strength. I was completely exhausted after a day's work but couldn't sleep and I'd get up more tired than when I went to bed. I suffered from severe pains across my temples and didn't care for food. As my strength seemed to be leaving me completely I became melancholy and depressed.

"I procured a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after reading in a newspaper that the remedy would do for others. The treatment seemed to have an almost immediate effect on me, first giving me a keen appetite. My strength returned slowly and now I feel as strong as ever. The pains in my head have left and for the first time in months I learned what it was to have a full night's sleep. My mother has also used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic and she thinks they are fine. We have both recommended the remedy to our friends."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," containing a special chapter on the grip.

ROUNDUP COMPANY IS NOW PREPARING TO BRING IN WELL

Drill Is Now Within 60 Feet of the Oil Sands—Hoping for Big Oil Flow.

Special to The Daily Tribune.
Roundup, Nov. 19.—Officials of the Roundup Oil & Gas company are today preparing to bring in the well on their property in section 14, in T-24. It is stated that Gordon Campbell, geologist, will assist the Roundup officials in bringing in the well, which is now within about 60 feet of the oil sands. A string of 6-inch casing is being lowered to insure the shutting off of all water, to protect against leakage of water into the oil field, and every precaution possible will be taken. It is confidently stated that the end of the week will witness the bringing in of perhaps even a larger well than the first.

Roundup stock as well as Van Duzen has taken a jump to day in anticipation of the result, and every one is eagerly awaiting the news. Many outside investors and oil men have arrived and are busily engaged in informing themselves of the oil situation here. Interest is being taken in the outside structures and it is probable that heavy interests will undertake development of some of the most promising locations.

It is stated that the Tri City rig in the Woman's Pocket will be moved to a new location about a mile northeast of the present well and a new hole started. Already part of the supplies are being hauled to the site of the new well. This was thought better than attempting to work over the other well, in which a heavy flow of water was encountered. With the information given by the log at the old well, these difficulties can be avoided and the hole carried to the producing sands with a casing of sufficient size to insure a good flow of oil.

CASCADE MINERS TO MEET TODAY

Men at Stockett, Sand Coulee and Tracy to Decide on Return to Work.

A mass meeting of all coal miners in the Sand Coulee, Tracy and Stockett districts will be held at Sand Coulee today, Thursday, to take final action relative to the resumption of work, according to information reaching local mine operators late Wednesday night from reliable sources. A meeting was called for the evening, but this, too, did not materialize. No forecast was made as to action likely to be taken at the meeting today, although operators were in a hopeful frame of mind Wednesday evening.

Reopen Zinc Plant.
If the other mines in this vicinity are opened, the first of next week will see resumption of operations at the zinc plant at the Anaconda Copper company's Great Falls reduction works, giving employment to not less than 100 men in the city and also the resumption of larger activities at the smelter in other departments. The delay in re-opening the mines not only is threatening the people with suffering from the cold but it is hindering industrial work which will materially swell the payroll, so that not only are the business interests anxious that the miners arrange to resume their places in the mines but there are many laboring people whose welfare also depends on fuel being produced from the mines as quickly as possible.

Wyoming Men at Work.
Tuesday evening press dispatches from the Wyoming field were to the effect that the miners there had walked out after once taking up their tools, but it was established Wednesday that 90 per cent of the men were at work and that no break in the operations had occurred since the mines were opened.

HOW TO JUDGE A WOMAN BY HER HAIR
There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also gladden you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.
