FLAX MAKES WINNING CROP ON FARM OF 50,000 ACRES

Montana Farming Corporation Still Threshing; Wheat Yields 4.1 Bushels and Flax Will Run Five or Six, Paying Year's Expenses, Says Manager.

Most farmers of Montana have been calculating how much they lost from their efforts last season as a result of the drought. There is one farming outfit, however, that does not have to use red ink in its bookkeeping because it did not lose. While it does not claim to have made a dividend, it has harvested enough grain to pay all expenses of its last season's operation and is coming back strong for the 1920 crop when it will have 50,000 acres in grain. That is the Montana Farming Corporation. Thomas D. Campbell of Hardin and other places about the big farm which is on the Crow Indian reservation east of Billings and on the Fort Peck reservation east of Havre is the manager in charge of this big enterprise.

"We are still threshing flax," said Mr. Campbell. "We have saved the company from loss by harvesting every acre that was seeded and getting a wheat return of four and one tenth bushels on the average and our flax crop has been a good one, though we are not yet through threshing. It will go five or six bushels to the acre, all around. Our flax is North Dakota No. 52 and we regard it as the best flax to be had for this section.

"We plan to seed 10,000 acres of flax next spring. We have 15,000 acres of winter wheat and will seed 25,000 acres of spring wheat. We will thus have 50,000 acres in grain and there will be every acre of that seeded if the weather conditions will permit. We use the Karkoff turkey red wheat which is a select Russian strain for our winter wheat seeding. We seed only the best marquis wheat for the spring variety. We have found that just as it is with stock, one can not get too good varieties in seed for seeding grain. The costliest, on that basis, is the cheapest."

Mr. Campbell says that they have 76 of the largest type tractors that pull an average of 10 plows each and with those and all the smaller ones they use, they can turn 1200 acres in one plowing day. They use 3500 gallons of gasoline daily when plowing at capacity and they never use less than 3,000 gallons of gas when they are in the busy season.

Satisfied With Results. According to Mr. Campbell, they have been able to secure a very high grade of men to handle their farming operations and they have been well satisfied with the initial year of their effort.

"Let me tell you this," said Mr. Campbell, as The Tribune man was starting to leave his room. "Next year—1920—is going to be a wonderful crop year in Montana. Do we believe that? Well, we are betting the cost of seeding 50,000 acres according to the best methods and with the best available seed, that it will be a great year. The Montana farmer who doesn't place a bet on that proposition is going to lose a mighty fine chance to get into a winning game and just remember that we are backing our belief of that statement with very real money and a lot of it."

A power operated machine has been invented which can be adjusted to wrap packages of various sizes rapidly and uniformly and apply paste to the wrappers if desired.

Elk Are Hard to Get in North Fork Country

According to James A. Johnson, the Shelby banker and merchant, there is no danger of anyone being run over by elk in the north fork of the Sun River northwest of Gilman. Mr. Johnson just returned from there on Monday after 10 days in the hills with a party composed of his two sons, J. R. Johnson and J. W. Johnson and J. A. Stout. They brought out their quota of elk, getting one each. "Believe me, we didn't kill the elk we brought back trying to defend ourselves from attack," said Mr. Johnson. "Neither did any of them show any signs of running in our direction. It took lots of hard trudging and maneuvering to get them and while we got a lot of pleasure and fun, it comes nearly costing all the meat is worth just getting a chance to take a few shots at the elk. However, we got our share and had a good time and are going home happy over our hunt."

Mr. Johnson and his party will leave for Shelby this, Saturday.

Washington, Nov. 28.—With some senators returning from their homes for the reconvening of congress, negotiations are expected to begin, Saturday, for handling the peace treaty problem at the new session.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the democratic leader, will reach the capital Saturday morning and is expected to see President Wilson during the day. So far, there has been no authoritative information as to what President Wilson will say about the treaty in his message to congress next week, but the general expectation is that he will re-submit it and ask again for ratification.

The large, enthusiastic crowds which have attended this modern ball-room since the opening proves the merits of the floor, music and many other factors too numerous to mention. All say, "It is the only logical place to dance."

HOARD OF RUSSIAN GOLD AWAITS PEACE TO FLOW IN TRADE

Britain Alone Blamed for Preventing Cessation of Strife With Baltic States.

London, Nov. 28.—Russia's gold reserves are unprecedented and the soviet government is prepared to pay 400,000,000 rubles in gold for food, machinery and necessities, according to a statement ascribed to colleagues of Maxim Litvinoff by the Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail. Litvinoff is no win Denmark to negotiate with the allied nations relative to an exchange of prisoners, having been sent there by the bolshevik government of Russia.

"Members of Litvinoff's mission say an effort will be made to make peace and secure the raising of the blockade of Russia," the correspondent writes. "Great Britain alone is considered to be preventing peace between the soviet government and the Baltic states, as well as Finland, whose independence the bolsheviks are prepared to recognize."

Lening is said to eagerly desire peace and a resumption of foreign trade.

As newly-created head of the Angeles family, the youth said, he must first look to the financial welfare of his mother, sister and younger brother. Once he has accomplished this, he said, he would go to Mexico to take up the fight.

VICTIMS PTOMAINE POISONING AT JAVA NOW NUMBER FIVE

Mrs. Della I. Wilson, of Joplin, Dies on Train While Enroute to Hospital.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Conrad, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Della I. Wilson, one of the victims of the ptomaine poisoning episode at Java last week, died on the train between Cut Bank and this city yesterday morning.

Mrs. Wilson is the fifth victim from this strange case of poisoning which occurred at the home of Dr. Stanley at Java last week, and which is supposed to have resulted from eating canned food.

At the time the food which supposedly caused the poisoning was eaten Mrs. Wilson was a guest at the Stanley home. Her daughter was stationed at Java as day operator, but had recently been transferred to Blackfoot, on this side of the mountains. Mrs. Wilson had been making her home with her daughter, and after the transfer, she remained at the Stanley home for a few days. After the fatal meal she left for Blackfoot to join her daughter, and was soon taken ill. She was then removed to Cut Bank, and the doctor there diagnosed the disease as kidney trouble, and ordered the patient removed to the Dr. Power hospital in this city. On Thursday morning Mrs. Wilson was put on the train, and started for this city, but died before the train arrived here.

Papers Withdrawn in Divorce Case

Powell immediately after they became of record in the district court. This course is frequently followed where allegations of a sensational nature are made by the complaining parties.

Skating is fine. Skaters of the city are enjoying great sport down at Gibson lake where skating is reported to be very fine. The ice is said to be smooth and barring a few spots, could hardly be improved upon. There was a great flock of skaters on the lake Friday night and the weather was especially pleasant being none too cold and no wind to aggravate.
