BRINGING UP FATHER

PRESIDENT HOLDS

(Continued From Page Five.) children's wants in the matter of health and education. In other words, it is his desire to make the conditions of his life and the lives of those dear to him tolerable and easy to bear. Hour of Test and Trial. This is the hour of test and trial for America. By her prowess and strength, and the indomitable courage of her soldiers she demonstrated her power to vindicate our foreign battlefields her conception of liberty and justice. Let her influence as a mediator between capital and labor be weakened and her own power to settle matters of purely domestic concern be proclaimed to the world. There are those in this country who threaten direct action to force their will upon a majority. Russia, today, with its blood and terror, is a painful object lesson of the power of minorities. It makes little difference what minority it is; whether capital or labor, or any other class, no sort of privileges will ever be permitted to dominate this country. We are a partnership or nothing is worth while. We are a democracy, where the majority are the masters, or all the hopes and purposes of the men who founded this government have been defeated and forgotten. In America there is but one way by which great reforms can be accomplished and the relief sought by classes obtained and that is through the orderly processes of representative government. Those who would propose any other method of reform are enemies of this country. America will not be daunted by threats nor lose her composure or calmness in these distressing times. We can afford, in the midst of this day of passion and unrest, to be self contained and sure. The instrument of all reform in America is the straight road of justice to all classes and conditions of men. Men have but to follow this road to realize the full fruition of their hopes and purposes. Let those who would make the shorter road of disorder and revolution. The right road is the road of justice and orderly process. Treat Labor Like Machine. Governments must recognize the right of men collectively to bargain for humane objects that have at their base the national protection and welfare of those engaged in all industries. Labor must not be longer treated as a commodity. It must be regarded as the activity of human beings, possessed of deep feelings and deep vitality of the nation itself. Do we gain strength by withholding the remedy? Is it not the business of statesmen to treat these manifestations of unrest which meet us on every hand as evidence of an economic disorder and to apply constructive remedies wherever necessary, being sure that in the application of the remedy we touch not the vital issues of our industrial and national life? Can we be no regression of the tide of unrest until constructive instrumentalities are set up to stem that tide. Europe Stand Pat Example. Europe itself, where has come the unrest which now holds the world at bay, is an example of stand patism in these vital human matters which America might well accept as an example, not to be followed, but studied, to be avoided. Europe made labor the differential, and the price of it all is enmity and antagonism and prostrated industry. The right of labor to live in peace and contentment is recognized by governments, and America should be the first to lay the foundation stones upon which industrial peace shall be built. Capital Has Rights Too. Labor is entitled to an adequate wage, but capital should receive a reasonable return upon its investment and is entitled to protection at the hands of the government in every emergency. No government worthy of the name can "play" these elements against each other, for there is a mutuality of interests between them which the government must seek to express and to safeguard at all cost. Arbitration. In the matter of internal disputes which have led to war, statesmen have sought to set up as a remedy arbitration for war. Does this not point the way for the settlement of industrial disputes, by the establishment of a tribunal, not just alike to all, which will settle industrial disputes which in the past have led to war and disaster? America, witnessing the evil consequences which have followed out of such disputes between the contending forces of labor and capital, should endeavor to deal with these matters by means of peaceful processes. Surely, there must be some method of bringing together in a council of peace and unity those who are great interested in the welfare of a happier day of peace and co-operation, a day that will make for more comfort and happiness in living and a more tolerable condition among all classes of men. Certainly human intelligence can devise some acceptable tribunal for adjusting the differences between capital and labor.

FINANCIAL. New York, Dec. 2.—Reflecting the unusual and diverse events which influenced its course, the session of the stock exchange today was dull, with many confusing and irregular changes of price. Adoption by the government of a program of strict financial control, another collapse in foreign exchange, the sudden death of H. C. Frick and the president's message to congress augmented the uncertainties which previously had obscured the financial horizon. As a market factor, the president's communication took precedence. Disappointment was expressed in many quarters at the absence of specific reference to remedial railroad legislation. This was partly offset by recommendations for the protection of the various home industries. The 6 per cent call money rate held throughout the session. So far as the bond market, all fluctuations were limited to such speculative favorites as General Motors, Petroleum, equipment and leather. Gains of 1 to 2 points shaded at the steady to firm close. Sales amounted to $75,000 shares. Liberty issues were again very large on a declining tendency, the noteworthy feature was the strength of local traction. International bonds reflected only moderately the further demoralized market. Total sales (par value) aggregated $28,750,000. United States bonds unchanged on call. Liberty bonds closing: 3 1/2's, $95.00; first 4's, $92.70; second 4's, $91.90; first 4 1/2's, $82.50; second 4 1/2's, $81.90; 5's, $84.25; fourth 5's, $81.75; Victory 3 1/2's, $98.95; Victory 4's, $98.98.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS. Chicago, Dec. 2.—Fresh advances in the corn market today resulted largely from the fact that receipts here were diminished fast and that the visible supply total was one of the smallest on record. Prices closed strong at 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 net higher, with December $1.4 1/4 to $1.42 and May $1.2 1/4 to $1.25. Oats gained 2 1/2 to 2 3/4, and provisions 2 1/2 to 3c. It did not take long for the corn market to respond to the scarcity of supplies and to the indications that, owing to shortage of coal and to lack of sufficient cars, no adequate enlargement of arrivals here this month seemed probable. Commission house buying, which was especially active in the last half hour, made final prices the topmost of the session. Oats developed independent strength, helped by estimates that export sales amounted to 1,250,000 bushels. Provisions were higher mainly on account of a big reduction disclosed in the stock of short ribs here. Prices: Corn—December, open, $1.38 1/2; high, $1.41 1/2; low, $1.35 1/2; January, $1.42 1/2; high, $1.45 1/2; low, $1.39 1/2; May, open, $1.22 1/2; high, $1.25 1/2; low, $1.21 1/2; close, $1.23 1/2.
