

JURY IS DISCHARGED WITHOUT A VERDICT IN CONSPIRACY CASE

Stood 7 to 5 From First Ballot; Up to Washington if Case Is to Be Retried.

Helena, Feb. 5.—Hopelessly deadlocked, the jury in the trial of A. H. Barth, Charles McDaniels and Thomas Arthur, of Billings, indicted on the charge of conspiracy in connection with grazing leases in the Crow Indian reservation, was discharged by Judge George M. Bourquin in the United States district court here tonight.

It is understood that the jury was divided 7 to 5 on the question of criminal intent existing at the time of organization of the alleged conspiracy. After having had the case in their hands since 11:45 a. m. Wednesday, the jurymen reported in court this morning that a deadlock existed which was considered impossible to break. They were returned to their room by Judge Bourquin with the admonition to try to adjust the divergent views.

Upon return of the jurymen from supper, Judge Bourquin called them in and asked if they had agreed upon a verdict or desired any further instructions. W. W. Williams, foreman of the jury informed the court that they stood exactly where they did on the second ballot 7 to 5 taken at noon Wednesday, and that a conciliation of the conflicting views was impossible.

The court then discharged the panel. E. C. Day, United States district attorney, said tonight that the record of the proceedings would be forwarded to the attorney general at Washington. Not until after the record had been passed upon at Washington will further steps be decided upon.

Bread Given to Poor by Salvation Army; Donated by Springer

Seventy-five loaves of bread, the donation of the Springer bakery, were distributed to 20 poor families Wednesday by the Salvation army. During the past few weeks the army has received a number of calls from poor families for assistance in the way of food and clothing but more calls have been received for the latter.

Of the 600 garments gathered up by the army during October and November there is scarcely an article left on reserve shelves from which to supply the requests which are daily being made.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Isaacs stated Wednesday that they have 30 orders at the present time waiting to be filled because of the lack of garments. Clothing of all kinds but especially children's clothing are much needed at the present time and any person in the city having garments which may be renovated for poor children are urged to notify the Salvation army and they will be called for immediately.

INDICATIONS OF BIG HOUSE

Many Mail Orders Coming in From Outside for Appearance Here of Alice Neilson.

At the Grand opera house this Friday evening, music lovers of Great Falls and this section of Montana will have opportunity to hear Miss Alice Neilson, one of the most famous of the American grand opera stars. Miss Neilson will render a program here and the indications from the seat sale which opened Thursday at noon were that she will be greeted by a large audience.

The appearance of Miss Neilson is made possible by the largest guarantee ever given an individual artist to appear in Great Falls, according to manager William Steege of the Grand opera house. That her coming is receiving attention was made evident from the mail orders from outside points. She was heard in this city four years ago and the popularity she then gained has been one of the favorable things in bringing attention to her appearance now.

Concerning Miss Neilson's program, the following is from the Denver Daily News:

"Alice Neilson charms us with the lovely spell of her voice in its beautiful lyric quality, the high notes of such wonderful power for a lyric soprano." The Detroit Journal makes the following comment on Miss Neilson's voice:

"Alice Neilson's voice has grown stronger and richer. Its greatest beauty lies in its sweetness and clarity, especially in the head notes, as she revealed them in a group of English songs."

Frederic Joins, the Boston American musical critic, comments thus on Miss Neilson's program:

"Miss Neilson was heard in a program calculated to test her powers as a concert artist to the utmost. She was, however, in excellent form and her voice was never sweeter or purer. The clear, crystal-like quality of her tones has often been remarked, and is one of the most striking features of her singing. Miss Neilson's personal attractiveness and her long experience upon the concert platform make her a very fascinating performer, and one who awakens the audience to unusual warmth."

Start Work to Enlarge American Bank & Trust Quarters by New Wall

Work was started Thursday in building the new partition which will separate the American Bank & Trust company from the Murphy-Macley Hardware company and also will enlarge the bank's business quarters. The addition made by the new wall will be about five feet in width and 60 feet in depth and will afford a much more commodious quarters for the bank. The enlargement was necessitated by the growth of the bank's working force and the further fact that through the consolidation of the Cascade bank with this bank, which will be effected within the next two weeks, larger quarters became a necessity.

Officer Transferred to Livingston Job

After one year with the local telephone exchange as district cashier, S. P. Officer will leave this (Friday) morning for Livingston where he will become manager of the city exchange. Mr. Officer came to this city from Cheyenne, Wyo. The position he has held will not be filled but the duties which he has performed will be attended to by Frank Egan, a clerk in the local force.

THREE TRAFFIC CASES. Three traffic violators furnished the only business transacted in police court Wednesday by Magistrate George Rabau. The defendants were Mrs. Jessie Smith, accused of knocking down a zone post at Central avenue and Second street with her car; R. M. Carney, who drove on the wrong side of the street while going through the First avenue subway; and Fred Wilson, charged with speeding. Mrs. Smith was fined $10 and the sentence was suspended, but each of the others paid a similar amount.

DEATH OF SON AFTER MOTHER'S

Child of H. V. Alward Dies in Tacoma; Mother Buried Monday at Kalispell.

Friends of H. V. Alward, former cashier of the Commercial National bank, heard Thursday of the death of his son, Lewis Keith Alward, aged 2 years and 3 months, at the Alward home in Tacoma on Wednesday night of pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Mrs. Alward, mother of the child, died last week of the same disease and the other two children are ill of the same disease, but they are reported improving.

The child will be buried beside its mother at Kalispell on tomorrow, Saturday. Mrs. Alward was buried at Kalispell last Monday. Mr. Alward and his family removed to Tacoma, Wash., about three years ago when he secured a vice-presidency in one of the biggest banks in that city. It was later merged and he is now vice-president of the Bank of California, which resulted from the merger.

Convention of 1921 for Great Falls

Lewistown, Feb. 5.—The convention of the Montana State Council of Carpenters came to an end today when the usual resolutions of thanks were adopted and some routine business disposed of. The council decided to hold the convention next year at Great Falls and elected the following officers:

A. W. Hardy, Livingston, president;

J. B. Finlay, secretary and treasurer; A. E. Mercer, Kalispell; R. Stengel, Philipsburg; Frank Lockwood, Billings; Charles Heximer, Great Falls; W. J. Woods, Miles City; and C. L. VanHorn, Lewistown, vice presidents.

A SISTER'S ADVICE

Harry Warren hung up his hat and coat and sank into a chair. "Harry, what's the matter?" his wife asked anxiously.

"I guess the gripe has me again," he answered. "Every bone in my body aches and my head is stopped up. And I have that trip to make tomorrow."

"I do wish they would take you off the road," Mrs. Warren complained. "You've had one sickness after another just from being out in all kinds of weather."

"Well, I have to make good on the road before I am advanced, gripe or no gripe," Harry retorted.

"Keep gripe away," said Harry's sister, Edith, who came into the room at the end of the conversation.

"Get a twenty-five cent box of Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets," she said. "And take them as the directions order. A hot lemonade will help, if you want to take it."

"Cold tablets always make me dull and heavy," Harry said.

"Weeks' don't, they're different," Edith answered. "They increase your resistance to cold and gripe. That is why you should always insist on them. And they contain a vegetable laxative instead of calomel, which is a mercury compound."

After supper Mrs. Warren bought a box of Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets and Harry took them with much grumbling.

Next morning not a trace of the cold was left. At breakfast he said to Edith: "Sis, that bunch of yours about those Weeks' Tablets was the best ever. I sure know what to do now when a cold begins."—Adv.

HEAVY MOVEMENT OF HAY BY RAIL IN NORTH MONTANA

Great Northern Handles 428 Cars; Much in Great Falls Yards; Wheat Acreage.

Special to The Daily Tribune. Helena, Feb. 5.—Movements of hay in Montana and acreages in fall wheat are given in crop report of C. D. Greenfield, commissioner of agriculture and publicity, data for which was gathered by inspectors for the state railroad commission.

Investigations show that the Great Northern in its operations in the northern part of the state has been moving hay promptly and has handled 428 cars of feed, mostly hay, over the Butte division. It is reported there are 154 cars of hay in the yards at Great Falls.

In the Havre yards at the time of the inspection there were 150 cars for points on the Havre-Butte line and 229 cars for the Montana division.

In Ferngus, Cascade, Sanders, Ravalli and Gallatin counties, investigations were made of acreages in fall wheat. In Ferngus county the crop is 75 per cent of normal. In Cascade the winter wheat acreage is small but a large area will be planted in spring wheat. Sanders and Ravalli have 80 per cent of a normal crop in fall wheat.
