

MRS. ALICE GRESHAM DODD, mother of the first American soldier killed in France, who gives entire credit for recovery of her health to the well-known medicine Tanlac.

The following remarkable endorsement of Tanlac was given recently by Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, at the Gresham Memorial Home, Gavin Park, Evansville, Ind., which home was presented to her by the patriotic people of Indiana, as evidence of their appreciation of the services rendered to her country by her son, Corporal James B. Gresham, the first American soldier killed in France. Expressions of sympathy were received by Mrs. Dodd from all parts of the United States, and the newspapers of the country carried the story of the first "war mother."

In the serious breakdown of Mrs. Dodd's health, but everyone will learn with interest and pleasure that she is now in splendid health again. When seen at her home recently she made the following statement, giving the entire credit for her recovery to the well-known medicine, Tanlac:

"After my dear boy's death, I had a general breakdown in health," said Mrs. Dodd. "At first it was just indigestion. My food used to upset me and I had to diet myself very carefully, which wasn't much hardship as I lost all desire to eat. Then I had an attack of rheumatism, with severe pains in my shoulders, back and arms. Sometimes I used to suffer a great deal, and my joints would get all swollen up and stiff. I was able to do very little about the house, and at times couldn't even cook a meal. I got very nervous and restless, and at night would lay awake for hours, and lost many a night's sleep as a consequence."

"A friend of mine had received a great deal of help from Tanlac, and it was she who advised me to try it. I am so glad I did for it proved the best medicine I have ever taken. It soon gave me a good appetite and seemed to settle my stomach so that I was no longer troubled with indigestion. I don't know what it is to have rheumatic pains now, the swelling and stiffness has all gone out of my joints and I am able to do the work of the house with the greatest ease. My nerves are now steady and strong. I sleep fine at night, and I feel better in health than ever before in my life. I shall always be grateful for what Tanlac has done for me, and shall recommend it every chance I get."

Tanlac is sold in Great Falls by Model Rx Pharmacy, 312 Central avenue, and Cascade Rx Pharmacy, 110 Third street south.—Adv.

STATE'S LAMB CROP FOR 1920 SMALLER THAN THE AVERAGE

Wool Harvest Also Light, Says Sheepmen—Shearers Will Draw Big Wages

Special to The Daily Tribune. Helena, June 7.—Montana's lamb crop is lower than usual, the wool clip will not be as large and speculation is rife as to prices compared with last year, according to prominent wool growers of all parts of the state, who are preparing to start shearing about June 10 in this part of the state.

Similar conditions in regard to a low percentage of return on the lamb crop are reported from Washington and the greater sheep raising sections of Idaho. Washington wool has been sold under contract at 49 cents, but the general tendency this year among the big producers is to hold their clips until the market is definitely established rather than contracting in advance.

Shearers, who have already arrived in the central and western part of the state and are ready to go to work, have made agreements to shear this year's clip for 17 1/2 cents a head. The average sheep shearer will clip about 100 animals a day, bringing in $17.50 a day and board during the season.

Leases Being Taken Upon Glacier Lands for Oil Development

Special to The Daily Tribune. Cut Bank, June 7.—Considerable activity is noted around this county in the leasing of acreage for oil purposes. A group of oil men has leased considerable ground eight miles east of town just below the "rim." This lease calls for drilling within eight months. It is reported that a place has already been chosen in this district where a well will be driven.

Not far from this locality a well was drilled some years ago to a depth of 1,600 feet on the James Miller ranch. A sample of the oil encountered at that time was sent to the university of Minnesota for analysis, the chemist reporting it of high grade. For some reason the well was capped soon after and nothing ever done since that time.

This is on the authority of J. B. Jones, general manager of the company, and Thomas Walkup, field engineer, who arrived here last night after a trip over the central Montana fields.

Mr. Jones declared himself favorably impressed with what he had observed adding that Montana is in the pioneer stage of the oil game and that many wells must be drilled and pipe lines and refineries constructed before it can be recognized as an established field. The Petroleum Engineering company is one of the largest of its kind.

Libby Council Awards Contract for 90 Blocks of Street Graveling

Special to The Daily Tribune. Libby, June 7.—The city council has awarded to J. W. Barrett the contract for graveling the streets, his bid being for $130 per cubic yard for excavating and $130 per cubic yard for graveling. The contract calls for about 300,000 and will take about five months to complete. Mr. Barrett was some $7,000 cheaper than his nearest competitor. An idea of the size of the job is shown by City Engineer Craig's reports and estimates, which are that 2,000 cubic yards of excavating in the streets must be done, and the graveling will require 10,000 cubic yards of material. The gravel will be secured from the city's pit across the river and will take out a chunk of land 300 yards square and 18 feet deep. Ninety city blocks will be gravelled.

The American complexion is best treated by applying pure mercuric wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. He finds that the farmers are all through seeding except for a little more flax. The spring crops are coming along nicely.

While the acreage of spring grains is only 50 per cent of normal, this is offset by the increased acreage in corn and alfalfa forage crops. The grass throughout eastern Fergus is reported better than it has been in 20 years. North of Winnett and Denton rain is beginning to be needed. Wire worms have done some damage and cut worms are reported in several districts, but with the coming of warm weather Mr. Peterson says the damage from those pests will be reduced to a minimum.

Thompson's remarks at the conclusion of argument in the divorce proceedings wherein Mrs. Leonard C. Jewett seeks legal separation from her husband, a Eureka man. "There was not a particle of evidence against her husband in this case showing that the defendant made things even a little bit unpleasant for the plaintiff," the judge continued. "It looks to me, if there is to be a divorce granted, as though it ought to be granted to her." However, the court granted leave to Mrs. Jewett's attorneys to file a brief in support of their client's claims.

CAREY ACT LANDS SUBJECT TO FILING OIL DEVELOPMENT

So Holds Commissioner General of Land Office—Precedence Rights Undetermined.

Helena, June 7.—Tracts being reclaimed under the Carey act are subject to exploitation for oil development according to an informal opinion of Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office, in a letter to Attorney General S. C. Ford, received today. Any damage done holders of surface rights for agricultural improvement, however, must be paid by oil operators, the opinion says. "Whether Carey act entrymen would have precedence in filing on their agricultural claims for oil rights," Mr. Tallman explains, "depends entirely on whether the conditions of this entry were such as to bring him within the provisions of section 20 of the oil leasing law. If the Carey act entryman should not have a preference right to a permit, then the mineral rights in the land would be subject to permits and leases generally under the authority of the leasing act of February 25, 1920, but subject to the limits of the act of July 17, 1914."

To Get Strong and Put on Flesh

People who have tried it say that one of the quickest and surest ways in which those who are weak, thin, nervous and run down can grow strong and put on pounds of solid, stay-there flesh is to take a 5-grain tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate with each meal. This is doubtless due to the well known fact that Blood-Iron Phosphate quickly builds up depleted nervous energy and at the same time supplies the iron necessary to make rich, red, strong building blood. If you are weak, thin, nervous or are lacking in the old time vigor, endurance and optimism, go to Great Falls Pharmacy, Model Pharmacy, Cascade Pharmacy or any other good druggist and get enough Blood-Iron Phosphate to last three weeks and take as directed. If at the end of three weeks you don't feel one hundred per cent better and aren't in very good health, you can have your money back for the asking. Fair, isn't it? Better try it today.
