

MRS. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says no one can feel more grateful for what Tanlac has done than she does. Declares she has gained twelve pounds and her health is now better than in years.

Of all the people who have taken Tanlac, I don't believe there is anyone who feels any more grateful to it than I do. It was the statement made recently by Mrs. J. M. Craig of 674 1/2 East Fortieth street, Los Angeles.

"Like so many other families during the influenza epidemic last year we all had it, and my own illness, together with the worry over the rest of our family, brought on a case of genuine nervous prostration.

"I was so weak I couldn't even sweep the floor, and during the day I would have to lie down four or five times. I tried to walk but found out half a block was all I could stand before I gave out. Nervous spells came on me often.

"Every medicine I tried failed to reach my case until finally my husband urged me to try Tanlac, and I am indeed thankful that he did, for it proved to be just what I needed.

"The first two bottles didn't seem to help me. I guess that was because I was so extremely bad off, but on the third bottle I could tell I was improving and that gave me more hopes than ever of getting well.

"My improvement from then on was rapid, and by the time I had taken five bottles of Tanlac I was better and stronger than I had been in years. I was sleeping soundly at night and had gained twelve pounds in weight.

"That was several months ago and from then until now I have been in as good health as I ever was in my life and have been doing all the housework by myself.

"It is simply remarkable how Tanlac has built me up and I have told every one of my friends and relatives what a wonderful medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold in Great Falls by Model Rx Pharmacy, 312 Central avenue, and Cascade Rx Pharmacy, 110 Third street south.—Adv.

Four Fires This Year in Flathead Forests as Against 87 in 1919

Special to The Daily Tribune. Kallispell, July 16.—Only four forest fires have been reported to the Northern Montana Protective association this year as compared to 87 in the same period in 1919, according to the statement of A. E. Boorman, secretary of the association, which comprises practically all the private owners of timber in northwest Montana. The late spring and well placed showers have been the chief factors causing this favorable condition.

The association now has a detection force of 99 men, and the four fires so far handled were located near the Westberg place at Stillwater, one between Columbia Falls and Whitefish and one at Hollins, and one near Foy's lake reported today. Two of the fires were traceable to the carelessness of campers, who left partially extinguished camp fires.

Mr. Boorman is emphatic in his denunciation of "damfool campers" who do not put out their camp fires. He says that the lack of intelligence of campers in this regard is amazing.

So far this season no fire of any consequence has been reported on either the Flathead or the Blackfoot national forests.

Much Damage Done Stockett Property by Bad Cloudburst

Special to The Daily Tribune. Stockett, July 16.—The whole town of Stockett was flooded as the result of a cloudburst which inundated all the lower portions of the town. A number of houses were flooded and the water raised so rapidly that the mine whistle was blown to obtain assistance. The water got in around the boilers in the power plant besides doing considerable other damage.

About 15 car loads of mine props were washed, electric light poles were undermined and leveled and the Great Northern tracks were washed out to such an extent that traffic was blocked and in consequence the mine was forced to shut down for several days. Fortunately there were no casualties but it will be several days before the town can be cleared of the mine props and other debris.

Officers Make First Capture of a Still in Broadwater County

Special to The Daily Tribune. Townsend, July 16.—In search of a reported illicit distillery Sheriff John J. McDonald, and Claude F. Beverly, federal prohibition enforcement agent, on Tuesday searched the residence and premises of Frank Provo, about seven miles north of Townsend, and in a cellar near the Provo cabin found two barrels of mash in a state of fermentation, a store, a hand grist mill, a quantity of corn and corn meal and a number of jugs.

Making further search the officers found a still and a copper coil, hidden beneath some baled hay, a few steps from the barn in which Provo keeps his stock, and a short distance from his residence. The still and coil had evidently been used for a long time, and the bottom of the still had been patched. The officers found two or three jugs in the residence of Provo, all having recently contained whisky, so they state.

Provo was not at home at the time the officers made search, they having provided themselves with a search warrant issued upon the complaint of the county attorney, so as to be within the law in any event. They met Provo as they returned to Townsend and brought him before the county attorney, where he stated that he had prepared mash but that it was intended for hog feed, though the officers state there were no hogs on or about the premises. A hearing was set in the case for Thursday, when the defendant was formally arrested by A. G. Sathre, deputy U. S. marshal, and the defendant through his counsel waived a preliminary hearing and was held under $500 bond for his appearance at the next term of federal court at Butte, which convenes October 18th.

This is the first distillery to be captured in Broadwater county and has caused considerable comment and speculation as to the outcome of the case.

ANOTHER WELL TO BE SPURRED IN MONDAY ON THE BRUSH CREEK DOME; WAYNE COMPANY STARTS ON DERRICK

Special to The Daily Tribune. Winnett, July 16.—Having set in on what geologists have defined a "structural high," the Cat Creek Consolidated will probably spud in Monday on the Brush creek dome. J. F. McCarthy, discoverer of the first oil in the Hamilton dome, Wyoming, will put the well down for the company on a straight working contract.

With attention again directed to the Brush creek structure because of the high spot worked out by geologists, local oil men are debating the possibilities of production. By some it is contended that the production will be found under similar conditions to those on the west dome where the Frantz got its big producer.

Having resumed drilling after a month spent in straight reaming and underreaming with a view to drilling to the Quadrant if necessary, the Decker-Collins will encounter the second Kootenai sand about 185 feet below the top one. By Monday at the latest the well will be drilled into the sand with good chances to production. On Monday also Pau Stock will spud in the well to be drilled on the location offsetting the big producer of the Frantz corporation.

A company known as the Fort Wayne Petroleum has hauled equipment to the Yellow Water field and late today commenced the construction of a derrick for the standard rig. Three wells in all, including two of the Montana Consolidated, will then be drilling to test the anticline south of town.
