DALICH'S SLAYER HANGS SELF IN HIS CELL AT COUNTY JAIL

John Biorich, Making Rope From Strips of Blanket Ties It to Neck and Bars of Cell and Jumps From Cot, Breaking His Neck.

Despondent over the fact that he had fired the shot which killed his friend, Matt Dalich, in a fight at 412 Fifth street south on Wednesday night, John Biorich ended his life by hanging himself in his cell at the county jail some time Friday night. His body was found when the jailer made his rounds about 8:30 Saturday morning. It was expressed as the belief of Dr. Lee Roy McBurney, county coroner, that Biorich had been dead for several hours.

There has been careful determination back of the plans made by Biorich to end his life. He had written a lengthy letter expressing regrets for what he had done and calling upon his friends to forgive him for the act. He declared he was "going to meet Matt," the latter being Dalich, whose death he had caused by the shooting. After writing his letter Biorich had carefully made a rope from the blanket on his cot.

Makes Rope of Blanket.
He had cut the blanket into strips, and then, first twisting each strip, he had twisted the strands together, making a two-ply rope. This he fastened to the bars of the cell by means of a towel, tying it high enough that he had to stand on the cot to adjust the other end about his neck. Before fastening the towel to the bars of the cell he had hung the other blanket of the cell along the side of the wall looking upon the corridor, apparently intent upon preventing anyone from noting what was taking place inside. In order then, to tie the towel around the bar he had to cut a hole in the blanket and pass the towel through it.

With the towel fastened to the bar and the blanket rope adjusted to the loop made by the towel, he tied the rope tightly about his neck and jumped from the cot. His neck was broken and possibly death resulted instantly.

Will Hold Inquest.
When the body of Biorich was found the coroner was immediately called and he notified the T. F. O'Connor company to get the body. An inquest will be held to obtain all the facts available and make the record in the case complete.

There had been no information filed against Biorich in county attorney's office as it could not be anticipated on Thursday, what the outcome of Dalich's wound would be. When Dalich died on Thursday night, it then became certain that the charge against Biorich would be first degree murder.

The shooting of Wednesday night, according to testimony Saturday at the inquest into the death of Dalich, was due to a quarrel between Biorich and some younger men concerning Frances Dalich, daughter of the man whose death Biorich's revolver caused.

Porich May Recover.
Biorich, after fighting with those two in his own room, later on Saturday and started to shoot the place up. He shot Dalich through the stomach and John Porich was shot through the chest and shoulder. Porich is now in the Columbus hospital and his condition on Saturday was reported to be getting along satisfactorily and it is the forecast of his friends that he will now recover.

AMERICAN LEGION DOESN'T INDORSE CANDIDATES—PEET

To Do So Would Destroy Purpose of Organization, Says Aspirant to State Office.

The American legion does not indorse candidates for public office, and an organization, the Montana department of the legion is taking no active part in the political campaign now in progress in this state, according to Herbert M. Peet, former member of the state legion ex-service committee, who is a candidate for the nomination for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket.

"Some newspapers, with the best intentions in the world, have published the statement that I have been indorsed by the legion for the position for which I am now running, but the statement is untrue," said he.

Not Its Purpose.
"The American legion is founded upon principles which aim to make ex-service men leaders in better citizenship, and the good work the legion is doing would be destroyed should it ever be dragged into partisan or personal politics.

"Unlike the days following the civil war, the veterans of the late war are not allying themselves with any particular political organization, nor are they seeking political preferment as a special reward for sacrifice in the service. Most of the present day ex-service men believe their minds were broadened in the army, and they believe they are as competent to take part in political activities as any other class of citizenry.

Desire Representation.
"They believe their ideals are less selfish than some of the political leaders of the past, and it is for this reason that they desire to be represented in the affairs of state.

"I admit that I became a candidate for secretary of state because there was a desire among certain ex-service men that one of their kind be represented on the Democratic state ticket, but I am not expecting to receive, nor will I receive, any indorsement from the American legion. This not only applies to my candidacy, but it applies to the candidacies of other ex-service men who are running on the Republican ticket."

ABATEMENT SUITS FILED BY EWALD

Action Follows Raids by County Attorney Forces on Mora and Jakaski Places.

Abatement proceedings were instituted on Saturday by Deputy County Attorney H. G. Bennett's office, against Cesar Mora of Tracy and Ben Jakaski, both actions following raids by the county attorney's office on places conducted by the defendants named with the result that alleged intoxicating liquors were found on the premises. The return showing the inventory of goods found at Mora's place has been made by the sheriff's office but the return has not been made in the Jakaski case as the action was not filed until late Saturday afternoon.

The return of the goods in the Mora case shows a varied line of goods on hand including various soft drinks, poker chips, candies, and other articles but nothing suggesting hard liquor is mentioned. The case rests on the finding at the time of the raid of alleged whiskey and beer.

The report of the chemist in the case of Jakaski in the alleged beer and hard liquor has been made and while no official statement has been made, the filing of the action on Saturday is believed to indicate that the report supports the contention that the goods confiscated were found to infringe on the prohibition statute of Montana.

Thresher Fords River With Tractor and All Equipment; No Trouble

Fort Benton, Aug. 7.—D. Arbogast forded the Missouri river at this place with a caterpillar engine pulling six trailers, a combined harvester and thresher, five heavy grain wagons, and the latest cutter box. Mr. Arbogast took the outfit to his farm eight miles south where he has 900 acres of wheat ready to be harvested. The rig was too heavy for the county bridge, but there was no difficulty in fording the river.

DO IT TODAY Tomorrow May Be Too Late

Our X-Ray rooms are completely equipped now and henceforth the patient will receive, in addition to CHIROPRACTIC, an X-ray picture and a thorough examination. This machine has been installed at a great expense to me; however, I feel that there is nothing too good for my patients. In fact, Chiropractic speaking, there is no reason for anyone being ill in Great Falls, as long as you have the advantage of having one of the oldest Chiropractors, in years of experience, in the state to give you examinations, X-rays and adjustments.

CHIROPRACTIC is rapidly becoming one of the greatest sciences in the world. People who have been given up by physicians and surgeons have been cured by CHIROPRACTIC adjustments; it has saved many lives both elsewhere and here. Don't ask us about the merits of CHIROPRACTIC, but ask our patients. We have a long list of cured people who would gladly come out with published statements regarding the merits of CHIROPRACTIC. However, let the science prove for itself and to you that it is worthy of all this praise.

Call Dr. Offerman today for an appointment. Remember, there is no known ailment but that CHIROPRACTIC will correct.
