A Gown is only as smart as the Corset over which it is fitted

The softness and richness of velvet, the glitter of paillette, the luster and suppleness of satin—these after all, do not "make" the gown.

Lines—Lines—and Again Lines !

They can "make" a gown or mar it.

Lines are a matter of corseting. You know that, of course.

And good lines are a matter of good corseting.

Let our expert corsetiere fit you out in the correct model for your figure from any of the following popular well known makes.
